DECISION MAKES BIGAMISTS AND FAMILY TROUBLE

DOG GATHERS UP A GASOLENE JAG AND GETS BUSY

Stampedes Crowds and Bites Children After Drinking Cup of Automobile Propellor.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—Puffing like an automobile, a little yellow dog with a "gasolene jag" bit seven children and terrified scores in Amsterdam avenue, near One Hundred and Sixty-first street, before a policeman killed the animal, this afternoon. At about the same time a black dog meeting a like fate in Aqueduct avenue, in the Bronx, after frightening children just dismissed from school.

Dr. Norton of the J. Hood Wright hospital, was driving down Broadway in an automobile. At American League park the supply of gasolene was exhausted, and when the chauffeur returned to the machine with a fresh supply he poured some of it into a broken cup.

Deceived by the color of the liquid a dog lapped up several mouthfuls and the last Dr. Norton saw of the dog it was barking down the street like an automobile getting under way.

Two or three times the animal ran into stores and drove the customers to the counters and chairs, the screams of women mingling with the sharp yelps of the dog. Policeman Brady stopped the animal with a bullet. The children's wounds were cauterized in a drug store.

SHOOT AT HORSE THIEVES.

Beaver County Farmers Keep a Pony Taken from Raiders After Hot Running Fight.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—Charles and William Ferguson of Chippewa township, has a running fight with two horse thieves who were leading one of Ferguson's horses from the barn early this morning. Both sides fired revolvers a number of times but nobody was hurt.

The ringing of the old farm bell brought out all the neighbors, but the thieves escaped. Then it was discovered that they had left a piebald pony behind, in their haste. The Fergusons have appropriated the animal.

DEATH ENDS ROMANCE.

Youth Leaves Sweetheart and Is Struck by Train and Thrown Into River. Dies in Hospital.

CUMBERLAND, MD., April 16.—(Special.)—L. F. McGowen, aged 21, a Baltimore & Ohio railroad timekeeper at Lineberg Station, W. Va., died at the hospital here today from injuries received last evening at Great Cacapon while returning home from a visit to his sweetheart.

He was struck by a train and thrown into the river. His skull was fractured, both legs were broken and the lay in the shallow water all night, where he was found unconscious this morning.

PALMER WITHDRAWS.

Attorney James M. Campbell Is Only Senatorial Candidate in Mercer-Crawford District.

SHARON, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—The Hon. Walter S. Palmer today issued a letter announcing his withdrawal from the senatorial race in the Mercer-Crawford district. This leaves but one candidate in Mercer county, Attorney James M. Campbell of Mercer. The Republican primaries will be held May 5.

The only fight now in Mercer is for the legislature. There are five candidates, with two to elect.

Divorces Good Only in State Granted If One Party Is Nonresident.

U. S. COURT SAYS SO

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A state in which only one party to a divorce proceeding resides has no right to grant a divorce which all other states must respect, decided the United States court today, Justice White rendering the opinion. Some of the effects of this decision are likely to be startling. Leaving out of consideration the many South Dakota divorce decrees in existence in which the legal separation was secured after only one party to the proceedings gained a residence in that state, there are hundreds of other cases similar to that decided by the court today, in which the husband has a bona fide residence in one state and the wife is unquestionably the legal resident of another state.

Dissenting opinions were rendered by Justices Harlan, Brewer, Brown and Holmes, who recognized the widespread domestic troubles likely to be caused by the decision of the majority of the court.

The case decided today was that of John W. Haddock vs. Harriet Haddock, a divorce proceeding instituted in the courts of New York city, in favor of the woman. The Haddocks were married in 1868, and the husband claimed to have been an unwilling participant in the ceremony. He says in his answer to the woman's complaint that he left her immediately after the marriage rites were performed, and during all the time that has intervened has seen her only three times. In 1881, he secured a divorce in the state of Connecticut, where he then resided, and in 1882, was married there to another woman.

Second Marriage Illegal.

The New York supreme court held the second marriage ceremony to be illegal, decreed the first wife to be still the legal wife and directed Haddock to pay her an annuity of $780. That finding was sustained by today's decision, which held Mrs. Haddock was without the jurisdiction of the Connecticut court.

Justice White in deciding the case laid down the general principle that a state in which only one party to a divorce proceeding resides has no right to dissolve a marriage tie which all other states must respect. Justices Harlan, Brewer and Brown united in a dissenting opinion which was delivered by Justice Brown. They took the position that the Connecticut divorce proceeding was regular, and is entitled to due credence in other states.

Justice Brown declared in his opinion that the court had taken a backward step in this decision.

Justice Holmes also dissented from the decision of the court, but delivered an independent opinion. He said the result of the decision would be to illegitimatize many children, but added that he would not go so far as to predict that civilization would come to an end whatever the conclusion in the case.

Justice White's Opinion.

Stating the federal question to be that as to whether the Constitution of the United States had been violated by the New York court in failing to give due faith and credit to the decree of the Connecticut court granting a divorce to Haddock, Justice White proceeded at great length to show that such had not been the case. As the result of his process of reasoning he reduced the case to one question:

> Whether the Connecticut court in virtue alone of the domicile of the husband in that state had jurisdiction to render a decree against the wife under the circumstances stated which was entitled to be enforced in other states in and by virtue of the full faith and credit clause of the constitution. In other words the final question is whether to enforce in another jurisdiction the Connecticut decrees would

VOLIVA MAKES A NEW PLAN FOR ARBITRATION

Peaceful Settlement Is Asked for in the Church Squabble. Postoffice Is in Trouble.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 16.—Arbitration of the dispute in the Christian Catholic church over the control of the church was offered today by Wilbur Glenn Voliva to John Alexander Dowie, who was ousted from the leadership of the church recently by Voliva. Dowie has not decided whether to accept the proposal of Voliva.

Voliva's ultimatum provides for a board of four or eight members, as Dowie may choose, half of the members to be selected by Voliva and half by Dowie. In case of a disagreement, an additional member of the board is to be selected by Voliva. The board is to settle finally all questions in dispute. Pending a decision as to who shall control the church and its properties, said to be worth $20,000,000, all property belonging to the church is to be transferred to the board.

Attorney Weteen today told the postmaster at Zion City that certain statements printed in the Leaves of Healing, the church paper of Zion, were slanderous and improper and informed the postmaster it would be a transgression of the postal laws to permit the paper to enter the mails. Attorney Weteen then telegraphed to Postmaster General Cortelyou for a ruling in the case. Both sides to the church squabble are awaiting a ruling from the postoffice department.

DYNAMITE GAMBLING HOUSE.

Famous Casino at French Lick Springs Is Badly Damaged at Early Morning Hour.

ORLEANS, IND., April 16.—(Special.)—Armed posses made a thorough search of the territory about French Lick Springs and West Baden today, in hope of getting some trace of those who made an attempt early this morning to blow up the gambling casino at French Lick with dynamite, and did succeed in partially wrecking the building. The sound of the explosion almost caused a panic in the French Lick hotel.

The casino is two stories high, surrounded by a wide veranda and has many large plate glass windows. The charge of dynamite was thrown upon the roof of the veranda. A portion of the side wall of the building was caved in by the force of the explosion and every window in the structure was shattered to fragments. Detectives have been employed to solve the mystery.

SIGNS IMPORTANT BILL.

New Law Prohibits Political Contributions from Any Corporation in New York State.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 16.—(Special.)—Gov. Higgins tonight singed the bill framed by the insurance investigating committee which forbids corporations of any kind in this state to make political contributions. It is regarded as the most important of the general bills resulting from the insurance investigation, and the most drastic political bill that has been passed anywhere in recent years.

It is intended to divorce business from politics, and it was suggested by the testimony taken before the Armstrong committee regarding the heavy contributions to the Republican national campaign funds and the lesser contributions which Senator Platt admitted having received.

Fatal Result of a Battle With Deputies to Release Prisoners.

WRECK DELAYS ARRIVAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., April 16.—Rioting, ending in bloodshed, was tonight the climax of the troubles between the striking miners and the officers of the law at Windber. The indignation of the strikers at the arrest of some of their comrades blazed forth into fury that resulted in a conflict with deputy sheriffs, in which three were killed and at least twelve seriously injured. Twenty charged with responsibility for the riot are under arrest, closely guarded, and Windber is now practically under martial law.

THE DEAD.

MIKE PONOVAN.
STEVE STONOVICH.

DYING.

PAUL ZILLS, leader of the strikers, first reported dead, but now dying at the hospital.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

EUGENE DELANEY, chief engineer of the coal company, struck on the head with a brick.
CHARLES FOSTER, 12 years old, shot in the abdomen.
CHARLES STIZAK, shot in the leg.
FOUR FOREIGNERS, wounded by bullets and carried away by the rioters.

The trouble really started at 5 o'clock this afternoon when Deputy Sheriff W. M. McMullen went to the mass meeting held by the striking miners in a wood at the edge of the town. He had a warrant for the arrest of one of the men at the meeting. Many of the miners had been drinking and the sight of the deputy made them furious. The officer was quickly surrounded by maddened miners who threatened to kill him. McMullen, realizing that his situation was desperate, fled and took refuge in the house of Councilman Charles Davis. Practically every man who had gone to the mass meeting joined in the chase after the fleeing deputy, and soon after the latter had entered the Davis house it was surrounded by a mob of 2,000, who challenged McMullen to come out. When McMullen failed to appear, the mob attacked the house and literally wrecked it. The deputy sheriff was roughly handled but again managed to escape.

The members of the Davis family fled to the homes of neighbors for shelter. Other deputies had been notified of the trouble by this time and 20 of the rioters were landed in the lockup at Windber. The mob, headed by Paul Zills then planned an attack on the jail with the purpose of releasing the prisoners.

They Stormed the Jail.

A great crowd of the strikers, with Zills at their head marched to the center of the town between 7 and 8 o'clock and prepared to storm the jail. The deputy sheriffs, fixed bayonets to their rifles and surrounded the jail to keep it from the mob's possession if possible. The members of the fire department were also called out to help restore order.

The foreigners were urged to abandon their lawless project, and to leave the town, but they refused to listen, greeting the efforts to pacify them with hoots and jeers. At a signal the mob began to close in on the jail, shouting to the deputies to throw away their guns and give up the prisoners. The officers first tried to keep back the mob with bayonets, but the effort was ineffectual and when it became certain that the little band of deputies and firemen could not stand before the infuriated mob they opened fire.

Those of the foreigners who were closest to the jail had already begun using knives in the attempt to disarm the deputies, while others flourished revolvers. The deputies fired but one volley, and the foreigners broke and fled in wild disorder, leaving three of their number dead in front of the jail.

Gov. Pennypacker was appealed to to have the state constabulary at Greensburg sent here. The request was promptly acceded to, and word reached here at 11 o'clock that the state constabulary had left Greensburg on a special train for Johnstown.

Constabulary Delayed by Wreck.

A West Penn freight train coming east to Johnstown was wrecked at Sheridan station tonight and blocked three tracks completely, tying up all trains, including the special on which the state constabulary was hurrying from Greensburg. The tracks will not be clear for several hours.

When the state constabulary, which is under command of Capt. John W. Borland of Greensburg, reach here the force will proceed to the scene of the trouble on trolley cars. Sheriff Begley was also summoned to Windber and with 12 deputies left Somerset for Windber.

The miners are crazed by liquor and maddened by the death of the three men at the jail, and another outbreak is feared. The presence of the state constabulary may, it is feared, incite the strikers to further violence, for feeling against the state police is bitter among the miners. Fears are also entertained that the strikers will make another effort to free the rioters now in jail. Dynamite is readily obtained by them, and destruction of property is also apprehended.

This is the first outbreak of the strikers since the trouble began two weeks ago. The operators had steadily refused to consider the demands of the miners and the men had come to see the futility of their strike.

At the mass meeting this afternoon the men had decided to return to work on the operators' terms when Deputy McMullen appeared. It is said that an intoxicated striker made an insulting remark to the deputy, and that when the latter warned the miners to keep quiet the trouble began.

Deputy sheriffs are guarding the streets of Windber, and all who are unable to give a satisfactory reason for being out of doors are stopped and compelled to go home.

DELAYED BY WRECK WHILE TAKING CONSTABULARY TO SCENE OF RIOT

CAPT. JOHN W. BORLAND.
Whose Headquarters Is at Greensburg.

EDWARD J. BERWIND.
President of Berwind-White Company, whose striking miners are blamed for last night's disturbances at Windber.

ANOTHER NEGRO IS KILLED AT SPRINGFIELD

Young Man Is Held Up on His Way Home and Shoots His Assailant.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SPRINGFIELD, MO., April 16.—A negro named Burns was shot and killed by a young white man, who was escorting a young woman to her home when they were held up by two negroes.

The white man drew a pistol and fired at the negroes, who fled, as he supposed. He ran after them, not knowing he had hit one, and stumbled over the dead body of the man he had shot. The other escaped.

Four men are now under arrest here charged with being leaders in the mob that broke into the county jail Saturday night and lynched three negroes. Two of the alleged mob leaders are in jail and two have been released on bond. Charles Cannefax and Oney Caltrey were the first men arrested. Both have been released on bond. Daniel Crane, son of a saddlery merchant, and Otis Hall, a police court character, are in jail. Cannefax today told Sheriff Horner that a collection would be taken to pay for the damage done by the mob to the sheriff's property. The offer was refused. The indications are that the race trouble is over. The presence of the troops has had the effect of bringing the people to a full relization of the situation. The last of the state militia ordered here by Gov. Folk arrived early today, and six companies now patrol the streets.

Today the negroes who fled to the woods returned to their homes, and many others who had hidden themselves in their homes appeared upon the streets. Crowds of people today still walked the streets, passing from points to point of interest, but no attempt was made to interfere with the negroes.

WORKMEN FIND OLD COINS.

Interesting Collection Is Discovered in a New York Mansion Which Is Being Renovated.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Special.)—Workmen engaged in renovating the old Varian mansion, on the estate north of the Mosholu parkway, Bronx, have discovered an interesting collection of coins more than 200 years old. The house is a substantial stone structure, built 250 years ago, and is one of the oldest buildings in the borough.

One of the carpenters saw something shining at the base of the interior framework and pulled out a handful of coins. The dates showed the coins to have been minted in the latter part of the 17th century. Most of them were English and all are of small denominations.

MINERS ARE MANGLED.

Keg of Powder Explodes, Killing One Italian and Fatally Injuring Two Others.

BLUEFIELD, W. VA., April 16.—A shot blew out in the Hemphill mine near Welch today igniting a keg of powder, a terrible explosion following. Antone Tippicol, an Italian miner, was killed instantly, and two other men were burned and bruised.

The injured were taken to the Miners' hospital at Welch. They will die.

Dies of Lingering Illness at 102.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 16.—Mrs. Margaret Vaughin Boland, the oldest resident of Harrisburg, died today at the age of 102 years after a lingering illness. Mrs. Boland was born in Ireland and came to this country many years ago.

LICENSE LIST IS AT LAST MADE PUBLIC

Court Announces It Wants More Information on Some Applicants.

ARE MANY SURPRISES

WHITE DOG A LUCKY ONE

The License Court list was handed down yesterday afternoon by Judge McClung. The court wanted it distinctly understood by attorneys and applicants that no petitions for rehearings would be received. If the court had erred the court would rectify the mistake.

Judge McClung introduced one new feature. He marked a number of applications "hold." He explained that this indicated that the court wanted further information. He did not want volunteer information, but would secure the desired knowledge in each case himself. The final decisions in these cases would be made when the information required was obtained.

In cases marked "held over," with a date, the meaning was that the license would be granted at the date specified. Some of the penalties are quite severe, in a few instances reaching as late as August 1. The greatest number of "holds" is in Glenwood, where scarcity of hotel accommodations was made manifest during the hearing.

The court granted license to one distillery, to 11 breweries, marked one hold, and one application was withdrawn. Six bottlers were licensed and six were refused.

In the Pittsburgh retail list 512 licenses were granted outright, four with stipulations, 49 with hold overs, 16 marked "hold," 162 were refused, and eight were withdrawn.

In Allegheny 186 were granted, nine were held over, two marked "hold," three withdrawn and 29 refused.

In McKeesport 62 were granted, five held over, one marked "hold," three withdrawn and 18 refused.

In the boroughs 274 were granted, 23 held over, five marked "hold," seven withdrawn and 106 refused.

In the townships 112 were granted, one held over, four marked "hold," three withdrawn and 60 refused.

In the wholesale list in Pittsburgh there were 104 licenses granted, five marked "hold," 13 withdrawn and 53 refused.

In Allegheny 30 were granted, one withdrawn and 12 refused.

In McKeesport 14 were granted, two held over and one withdrawn.

In the boroughs 51 were granted, nine withdrawn and 64 refused.

In the townships four were granted, one granted with a stipulation, one marked "hold" and 12 refused.

The withdrawals were in almost every case caused by duplicate applications, one of which was dropped.

The refusal that attracted the most attention in the East End was John P. Klemen. While this is a refusal, it was because the license was granted to Robert E. Weise, who has bought the place.

Thomas K. Lysinger, who applied for the "White Dog" restaurant in the Farmers Bank building, was granted with the stipulation that the Oliver avenue entrance be closed and only te Wood street entrance be used.

George Baer, who has for a long time been prominently identified with the Union restaurant in the Finch building is granted a license to run a restaurant of his own in Diamond street in the building formerly occupied by "Billy" Staheley. Joseph A. Schad is granted license for the Grand hotel in Fourth avenue, formerly run by "Jim" Holmes.

CASTRO'S CROWD LEAVES COUNTRY

Venezuela Deserted by President's Favorites All of Whom Are Now Wealthy.

FEAR REQUEST TO DISGORGE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1906, by New York Herald Co.)

WILLEMSTAD, CURACAO, April 16.—A great sensation has been caused in Caracas, Venezuela, by the announcement of the engagement of passage for Europe by all of the late President Castro's favorites, known as the "get-rich-quick crowd." In fact, there is a precipitate flight of all the friends of the former administration.

It is rumored that former President Castro may accompany his friends to Europe.

This exodus began today with the departure of Dr. J. Torres Cardenas, general secretary of the government, and of Senor Corao, business agent, who left on the steamship Caracas for New York.

Senor Gumersindo Rivas, editor of the Constitutional, will follow on Thursday; Senor J. A. Velutini, second vice president; Senor Cecilio de Castro, of finance; Senor R. Tello Mendoza, governor of the federal district of Caracas, and others will leave soon for Europe.

All allege they are going away for rest and recreation, but the fact is they fear President Gomez will ask for large public loans and that those who have been recently made rich by monopolies, and who have impoverished hundreds and caused an industrial and financial depression will be asked to contribute, with the alternative of going to prison.

Former President Castro is in retirement at Los Teques. Illness is alleged to be the cause. Gen. Gomez is acting president.

Opinions expressed here are conflicting. Venezuelans, as a rule, are reticent when questioned on the subject.

The resignation of the Venezuelan cabinet is also causing speculation. The ministers retired when Gen. Castro gave up the reins of power, but President Gomez has not appointed a new cabinet, and therefore the old ministers have retained their portfolios.

Guest at Party Eats Sixteen Hard-Boiled Eggs and Wins Prize in Contest.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 16.—Eggs in Asbury Park and vicinity have taken a rise in price on account of "Good Enough" Jackson's Easter party. Jackson is a farmer. He invited 75 guests to an Easter party Saturday night. The invitations with few exceptions were accepted.

After the guests arrived Jackson arranged 1,000 eggs on a center table and announced that the guests who disposed of the greater number of eggs at the sitting would receive a prize. The contest was a spirited one, disclosing no remarkable results until James B. Dangler of Wayside, was pitted against William Lawler of Long Branch.

Dangler disposed of 16 hard-boiled eggs. Lawler stopped at 14 and lost the prize. When the egg shells were gathered up they filled a bushel basket.

SHOOTS WIFE AND MOTHER.

Drunken Policeman Attacks His Relatives After Burying His Only Child.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(Special.)—A few hours after he had buried his only child, Edward Murphy, ex-policeman and veteran of the Spanish-American war, this evening shot and seriously wounded his wife, Sadie, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Zink, while in a drunken rage at his home at 515 South Darien street.

Mrs. Murphy is shot in the head and her mother is shot in the breast. Murphy is locked up in the station house where for four years he did duty as a policeman. Murphy is a Catholic and his wife is a Protestant. Whether it was a difference over their religion or a quarrel over his mother-in-law that caused the shooting, could not be learned.

MANY ODD FELLOWS WILL GATHER AT BEN AVON TODAY

The annual meeting of the association in charge of the Ben Avon Home for Widows and Orphans of Odd Fellows will be held today at the home. Representatives from 350 lodges in the 18 counties comprising the Western Pennsylvania district will be present. Reports of the various officers will be read and officers elected for the ensuing year. Grand Master Chubbick of Towanda and Assistant Grand Secretary Edgar of Philadelphia visited the home yesterday. In honor of that event exercises were held, at which addresses were made by the Rev. Schare, missionary to Korea, and the Rev. Smith of Ben Avon.

Another Spitter Locked Up.

"Mike Scrowt of Carnegie was locked up in the West End police station last evening on the complaint of M. McCabe, a street car conductor, who accused the man of persistently spitting on the floor of his car.

MAKES MANY BIGAMISTS

not be to enforce in one state a personal judgment rendered in another state against a defendant over whom the court of the state rendering the judgment had not acquired jurisdiction. Otherwise stated, the question is this: 'Is a procedure for divorce of such exceptional character as not to come within the rule limiting the authority of a state to persons within its jurisdiction, but on the contrary, because of the power which government may exercise over the marriage relation, constitutes an exception to that rule.'"

He then laid down the proposition that "where the full faith and credit clause is invoked to compel the enforcement in one state of a decree rendered in another the question of jurisdiction of the court by which the decree was rendered is open to inquiry," adding that "if there was no jurisdiction either of the subject matter or of the person of the defendant the courts of another state are not required to enforce such decree." Justice White then said:

> Under the rule contended for it would follow that the states whose laws were the most lax as to length of residence required for domicile as to causes for divorce and to speed of procedure concerning divorce would in effect dominate all other states. In other words, any person who was married in one state and who wished to violate the marital obligations would be able by following the lines of least resistance to go into the state where laws were the most lax and there avail of them for the severance of the marriage tie and the destruction of the rights of the other party to the marriage contract to the overthrow of the laws and public policy of the other states. Thus the argument comes necessarily to this, that to preserve the lawful authority of all states over marriage it is essential to decide that all the states have such authority only at the sufferance of the other states.
> In its ultimate aspect the proposition relied on reduces itself to this, either that the settled law of most of the states of the Union as to divorce decrees rendered in one state where the court had jurisdiction only of the plaintiff, must be held to be invalid, or that an important provision of the constitution of the United States must be shown of its rightful meaning.

He therefore concluded that the action of the New York court was not in violation of the constitution.

Justice White also spoke briefly in response to Justice Holmes' contention that the effect of the ruling of the court would be to make many children illegitimate, saying that the charge might be made in either direction.

Justice Brown's Dissent.

Justice Brown's voluminous dissenting opinion may be summarized in the following language put by him in the mouth of the husband in the case:

> You are pursuing me as your husband for a separation de jure which has existed for 31 years de facto and since 1894 de jure, and for an alimony which is obviously the sole object of your proceeding. Your only claim against me is as your husband. I am not your husband. Twenty-three years ago the Superior court of Litchfield county, Connecticut, in which state I had an actual and bonafide domicile, and which had had sole jurisdiction over my marital status for 12 years, liberated me from the bonds of matrimony and pronounced me a free man. In the meantime I have married another woman and if your position be a sound one, I am a bigamist.
> It is difficult to conceive of a cause more lowly for the application of the general doctrine.
> I regret that the court in this case has taken what seems to me a step backward in American jurisprudence and has virtually returned to the old doctrines of comity which it was the very object of the full faith and credit clause of the constitution to supersede.

FIND LUMBERMAN'S BODY.

Woman Who Says She Was Directed by a Dream Finds the Remains of George Luppert.

BRISTOL, TENN., April 16.—The body of George C. Luppert, the wealthy young Pennsylvania lumberman who was drowned in the Watauga river, near the Luppert lumber operations at Butler, Tenn., three months ago, was today recovered from the river by Mrs. Isaac Estep, who claims she went to the spot where his body had been washed ashore, upon the impulse of a dream of the night before, and found the body almost entirely covered with sand.

Heavy rewards were offered for the discovery of the body and a large amount of money was spent by the parents in the attempt to rescue the body, the river being dragged and dynamited for 50 miles.

THE CALL OF RED LEMONADE.

Chicago Judge Knocks Off Work to Take 1,000 of Chicago's Poor Children to the Circus.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 16.—(Special.)—Judge Mack of the Juvenile court, as happy as a boy took his large family to the circus this afternoon. There were 1,000 children in his family. The judge made believe he went "just to take the little ones," but before the 100 acts ended he was caught laughing at the antics of the clowns. The family is made up of the forlorn wards of Cook county.

The judge got off easier than might have been expected with a family of such large proportions. He was "held up" for countless packages of peanuts and popcorn and red lemonade galore but the little ones all "got in free."

Is Held on Highway Robbery Charge.

Robert Price, the negro who knocked down Miss Margaret Himer of Thirty-seventh street, and stole a package containing a pair of shoes was held for trial on a charge of highway robbery. A fine of $100 or 60 days in jail was the sentence imposed yesterday upon Margaret Sullivan of No. 4 Stockholm street, who sold whiskey illegally to four officers in plain clothes Sunday.

Joseph North, who snatched a watch from George Roy of McKees Rocks was held for trial at court on a charge of highway robbery. Morris Flinn, Forty-sixth street and Penn avenue, and James Carroe of Kansas City, alleged to have taken brass fittings from Peter Newell's foundry, Twenty-eighth street and the Allegheny Valley railroad, were held for court.

Kng Edward Gets Degree.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—King Edward VII. of England, through Sir Mortimer Durand, his ambassador, will receive the degree of doctor of laws from the University of Pennsylvania on Thursday at the university's observance of the bi-centenary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, the celebration of which will begin here tomorrow and continue until Friday.

Council Committees Meet Today.

Four additional committees of the new city councils meet today for organization. The libraries committee is called to meet at 11 o'clock a. m. to organize preparatory to attending a meeting of the Carnegie library trustees this afternoon. The committees on parks, bridges, health and sanitation are called for this evening.

Controller and Mayor Oppose Payment.

The councilmanic sub-committee of public safety of Allegheny will meet this afternoon to consider the claim of Cuthbert Brothers for $1,969.67 for extras in connection with work on the South avenue engine house. Both Mayor Kirschler and Controller Brown are said to be opposed to paying this bill as it stands.

COOK SERVES TOMATOES WITH THE ICE CREAM

Passengers on Board an Ocean Liner Are Treated to Unique Meals.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—Simultaneously battling with maniacs—one in the steerage and the other in the quarters of the ship's crew—the captain and stewards of the Hamburg-American line steamship Prinz Oskar, which arrived here today from Naples, subdued both only after a long struggle.

Captain Leuenfels led the squad in the crew's quarters, where Luigi Tarabota, 40 years old, of gigantic stature and second cook on the ship, had been confined after displaying signs of mental unbalance. Last Wednesday Tarabota mixed up the food and sent it to the dining saloon, serving tomatoes with ice cream, bananas with green turtle soup and lettuce and tea.

Saturday he was placed in a stateroom, but he wrenched the iron supports from a bunk and demolished everything breakable. Soon his shrieks aroused the passengers. Captain Leuenfels got six sailors and freely used a policeman's night stick before Tarabota was subdued.

While this was in progress, Salvatore Nippo, a steerage passenger, ran amuck below decks. Mounted on a bundle of clothing he proclaimed in a loud voice he had been sent from heaven to announce the eruption of Mount Vesuvius was ordered by God and it would soon flame again.

Many of the women became hysterical, but Nippo was soon subdued. A few hours later he climbed to the promenade deck and started to harangue the cabin passengers. He was again seized and taken below.

PROMINENT BANKER DIES.

A. W. Kennedy, Whose Career Was Varied One, Passes Away at Residence of His Daughter.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 16.—(Special.)—A. W. Kennedy, president of the Girard Banking Company, and treasurer of the Girard Boiler Company, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grant Jones, in this city. He was born in Trumbull county in 1841. He taught school in the copper mining districts of Lake Superior and then went to Wisconsin.

He crossed the plains seeking gold in the '60s, and prospected in various territories for several years. He was elected president of the First National bank of Girard when it was founded in 1893, and held the office until his death. Mrs. Grant Jones, his daughter, alone survives.

STILL ON SHORT TIME.

Pennsylvania Fails to Announce Increase of Working Hours and Employes Quit.

ALTOONA, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—It was fully expected this morning that when the 8,000 Pennsylvania railroad employes at the repair shop here returned to work they would receive notice of an increase of time from 25 to 45 hours a week, and when the announcement was not forthcoming the keenest disappointment was shown.

Many of the workmen refused to continue at work on short time and are leaving the city to secure employment elsewhere. Of this number are many of the skilled machinists who have been with the company for years. More are expected to quit.

Westinghouse Company Charges Competitors With Infringement of Patent.

NEW YORK, April 16.(Special.)—The Westinghouse Machine Company has begun a third suit against the Allis-Chalmers Company in which infringement of another Westinghouse-Parsons steam turbine patent is alleged.

The bill was filed in the circuit court for the district of New Jersey, and the Westinghouse company charges the Allis-Chalmers company with infringement of a patent that covers the construction of the rotating element of the turbine as used by the Westinghouse Machine Company and the Allis-Chadmers company.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW TO QUIT.

Report Is That His Wife Will Urge Senator's Resignation and a Trip Abroad for Health.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 16.—(Special.)—The report has been persistent in legislative circles today that the resignation of Chauncey M. Depew from the United States senate will be received at Albany within a few days.

The basis of it seems to be the return of Mrs. Depew from Europe on Saturday for the alleged purpose of urging the senator to resign and go abroad in the hope of recovering his shattered health.

LANDSLIDE BLOCKS PATH THROUGH PANTHER HOLLOW

Owing to the loosening of the soil by the recent warm rains one of the largest landslides in the history of Schenley park now blocks the pathway through Panther hollow. A number of large trees and a fence erected at the top of the hill to keep vehicles from going over the bank were carried down into the hollow by the landslide.

Mrs. Alice D. Humphreys Is Dead.

Mrs. Alice D. Humphreys, aged 75, widow of Benjamin Humphreys, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John H. Hults, 727 California avenue, Avalon. Mrs. Humphreys was a member of the Bellefield Avenue Welsh Congregational church. She was born in Merker, Wales, and came to this country 55 years ago. She is survived by six children—Isaac, Thomas, James, and the Misses Mary and Margaret of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Hults.

Democrats Besiege Assessor Beck.

Crowds of Democrats desirous of obtaining one of the city positions which Mayor Kirschler is going to hand out in conjunction with City Assessor Robert Beck made the city hall their headquarters yesterday. They were refused admittance to Beck's office, and he stated that the list was not ready yet, and would not be for some time.

LAY PLANS FOR ASSOCIATION

Independent Operators Meet and Appoint Committee to Draft Constitution.

DOLAN GETS BOOKS OF LOCAL

A unanimous agreement was reached last night at a dinner given in the Duquesne club, attended by operators representing 95 per cent of the independent coal tonnage in the Pittsburgh district, to form an association, and a committee was appointed to prepare by-laws and a constitution to be considered at a meeting to be held this week. About 50 independent operators were present, and the principal address was delivered by Philip Penna, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana State Independent Operators association, and former national president of the United Mine Workers of America.

During the evening a resolution was passed to the effect that: "The aims and purposes of this association are to secure concentrated, fair, and intelligent co-operation among the operators in dealing with miners and operators not in the association, based on comparative tonnage; and the interchange of ideas between its members as regards the production and conditions surrounding the production of coal. That nothing shall be said or done that would give color to any intimation that the association is antagonistic to any or all operators not represented in it."

Merger Is Suggested.

John H. Jones, president of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company, was the host and toastmaster. Nearly all the operators present gave short talks, and all were a unit in favoring the new organization. Among sentiments expressed was one suggesting a merger of the independent interests in this field.

A committee was appointed to draft by-laws and a constitution, with instructions that the organization is not to be a social one. The committee is as follows: J. G. Patterson of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company, chairman; Joseph Stoneroad, Carnegie Coal Company, secretary; George Magoon, Pittsburgh and Westmoreland Coal Company; Walter Coulson, United Coal Company, and W. L. Dixon, Meadowlands Coal Company. Arrangements will be made at once to secure permanent quarters for the organization.

Operators numbering 45 met with President Frank Feehan and officers of the district organization of the United Mine Workers in Hotel Henry yesterday morning to discuss the dead work scale and other conditions in connection with the new wage scale. Owing to the death of the father of President Feehan on Saturday, the meeting was adjourned until tomorrow morning without any action being taken.

Dolan Keeps the Books.

Much action was in evidence at the dual headquarters of the mine workers in the Kuhn building, Diamond street, yesterday. Former Secretary-Treasurer Dodds turned his keys over to his successor, John Hurley, and when the latter attempted to take possession of the books and funds of the organization he found that former President Patrick Dolan had taken them in charge. This was said to be due to the fact that Hurley had given his bond to President Feehan, thereby setting at rest all conjecture as to which president he would recognize. Dolan refused to give the new secretary-treasurer the books unless he formally recognized him as president. Both factions threatened to take the matter to the courts today. Dolan declared that he was acting under the advice of counsel.

Chairman Francis L. Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, issued a statement last night to the effect that operators in the Hocking Valley, Ohio, district, representing an annual tonnage of 3,750,000 tons, had gone to work yesterday on the wage scale of 1903. The statement declared that these operators had made an agreement with the miners that they make no different agreement with any other operators in the same field. This condition is directed against the Windber and other interests which are holding out. The companies making this agreement were said to be: New Pittsburgh Coal Company, Imperial Coal Mining Company, Northern Fuel Company, Johnson Coal Mining Company, Carbondale Coal Mining Company, Taylor, Williams & Company, Jenkins & Redfern, Sines Coal Company, Hocking Mining Company, James O'Connell, Indian Run Mining Company, Jones Coal Company and Federal Coal Company. These concerns employ about 6,500 miners.

COLUMBUS, O., April 16.—Horace L. Chapman, a member of the general advisory committee of the bituminous coal operators, when asked tonight concerning the statement of F. L. Robbins of Pittsburgh, that the Hocking Valley mines for which the 1903 scale has been signed represent 50 per cent of the output of that district, said:

"The Hocking Valley mines which have acceded to the miners' demands, do not represent more than 18 or 20 per cent of the tonnage of that district and employ only about 2,500 miners. Secretary Savage of the Ohio Mine Workers, does not claim more than this, I am told."

CHARGE COPE EMBEZZLED SOME OF PARTNERS' FUNDS

Is Held for Court on Accusation of Vacation Publicity Company. Another Charge Pending.

W. Edward Cope, who was brought back from Cincinnati the other day, charged with embezzlement, was held for court last night in $1,000 bail. Cope was taken to the hearing by Detective Cecil G. Rice and was returned to central station. He will be taken to jail today. Cope's home is in Philadelphia.

The charge of embezzlement against Cope was brought by A. H. Beitch and A. S. McSwigan. The information accuses Cope of embezzling "$350 and upward of partnership funds." The hearing was held in Justice of the Peace Campbell's office in Bellevue last night.

McSwigan and Beitch swore they were copartners with Cope in the Vacation Publicity Company, an advertising concern; that Cope collected $2,000 of the money due the company and did not account for about $400 of the amount. Attorney Stephen G. Porter appeared for Cope, but had nothing to say.

Cope will have a hearing before Alderman Groetzinger today on a charge of false pretense brought by the Hotel Antler.

DISPUTES DENBY'S CHARGE.

Chinese Minister Declares His Country Is Not Responsible for Fraudulent Certificates.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister, has written a letter denying the truth of Congressman Denby's statements that China or Chinese officials are responsible for the issuance of fraudulent certificates of admission of Chinamen to the United States. He presents records showing that 92 per cent of such certificates were issued in Vancouver, Victoria, New West Minster, Ottawa, Cuba, German protectorate of Kiautchou, Gautemala, Hawaii, Hongkong, Japan, Hokkaido, Formosa, Mexico, Philippine islands, Portuguese province of Macao, Society islands, Straits settlement, Trinidad or Venezuela.

Congressman Denby, after reading the letter today, reiterated his original charge.

Find Body of Dead Infant.

The body of a dead baby was found under the foot bridge in Wheeler avenue, near Jacks run, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, by Chester Gamble, a 13-year-old boy of Westminster street, Allegheny. The boy says he saw a man and woman acting mysteriously on the bridge, and upon investigation found the body under the bridge, wrapped in old paper.

Linden Returns to Old Job.

Joseph Linden, who was formerly Bertillon operator for the bureau of police and detectives, was yesterday appointed to the place. A. J. Mirick, who has been Bertillon man since Linden left the place, about three years ago, was appointed pawn clerk. Mirick's duties are to take care of the reports by pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers of the goods deposited with them.

FATAL SHOOTING ENDS ITALIAN DRINKING BOUT

Trouble Starts in House and Is Renewed in Street, Where Shot Is Fired.

As the result of a drinking bout in an Italian home in Chatham street, near Wylie avenue, last night, Francesco Fagliario, an Italian, aged about 30, is in the Homeopathic hospital in a dying condition with a bullet in the base of his brain. His assailant, Francesco Giudice di Pasquale, is in central station.

According to the story told by Di Pasquale, there had been a quarrel between him and Fagliario, both of whom were intoxicated. The latter invited him to the street to settle their differences and he says when they got there Fagliario pulled a razor and said he would slash him. Di Pasquale, without waiting for him to make good the threat, pulled his revolver and shot him, the bullet entering his forehead above the right eye.

The shot was heard by Officer Jacob Pulkowski. Just as he turned the corner he was struck on the leg by the revolver Di Pasquale threw away, while the man rushed fairly into his arms. He was sent to the police station, while Fagliario was rushed to the hospital, and at an early hour this morning was still living.

Di Pasquale would talk little about the affair, and said he did not know where he or the wounded man lived.

A fight over a keg of beer at the Baltimore & Ohio junction in Fortieth street last night resulted in Henry Corrigan being cut on the arm by James Young. The wound was not serious. Both men were arrested.

KENNEDY INDIGNANT AT RIVAL'S PROCEDURE

The Youngstown Congressman Charges Bad Faith in Fixing Date of Primaries.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Representative James Kennedy of the Eighteenth Ohio district charges bad faith against those responsible for the action of the Republican executive committee in Columbiana county, Ohio, in fixing May 12 as a date for the primaries. The chairman is Charles Speaker, a rival of the congressman in the race for his seat.

Mr. Kennedy wrote a letter asking that the primaries be set for a late date. This letter, Mr. Kennedy claims, was not shown to the members of the committee by Chairman Speaker.

"I see I am going to have to go home and get into the fight or give up my ambition to succeed myself," said Mr. Kennedy. "I cannot speak calmly and without indignation of this action taken by the committee."

Kennedy declares this action will deprive his district of his efforts to further railroad rate regulation, pure food, securing pensions for old soldiers, restricting immigration and securing public building appropriations for Youngstown, East Liverpool, Salem, Alliance and Massillon.

HOLLIS OFFENDS TWICE.

Man from Johnson Street Falls Into Hands of Police Twice Within the Hour.

W. H. Hollis of 310 Johnson street, was arrested twice yesterday within an hour, getting out the first time on a forfeit. The second time he was kept in Central station in the expectation that a more serious charge will be brought against him today.

At 5 p. m. Hollis was arrested in Grant street by Policeman Baker, on the charge of disorderly conduct. He had $75 in his pocket and got out on a forfeit of $30. An hour later he was brought in again, arrested by Policeman Berger, who said Hollis accosted him on his beat on Smithfield street and cursed him and called him names.

Just as Hollis was brought in the second time, a man with an eye black from a blow was talking to Capt. Bartley, saying that an hour before a man had insulted a young girl on Grant street, and when he resented it the man punched him. He identified Hollis as the man, and said he would be back tomorrow to charge him with assault and battery.

CHILDREN RUN MACHINES.

Director Ridgway Is Asked to Enforce State Automobile Laws by Board of Trade.

Director Ridgway is asked to enforce the state laws regulating the speed and operation of automobiles, by a resolution introduced last night at a meeting of the Pittsburgh board of trade. Dr. R. C. Clarke, the author of the resolution, said he has seen boys and girls under 13 years of age running machines. Director Ridgway was commended for recent efforts to stop the reckless driving of automobiles.

A. G. Roenigk presented a resolution advocating the municipal ownership of street railways and authorizing the appointment of a special committee to confer with like committees from other bodies on the subject. Fifty-seven members were admitted and applications were received from 28 others. The total membership is now 1,160.

Colored Men Don Gay Uniforms.

The organization of colored men styling themselves Palestine commandery No. 14, Knights Templar, gave a reception in the Odd Fellows hall, in Arthur street, last evening, to Philip H. Edwards of Philadelphia, who is saluted as the right eminent grand commander, and the members of his staff, now in Pittsburgh on an annual inspection trip. There were about 20 present, all the men being gorgeously uniformed. After several addresses there was a banquet served, and after that there was dancing.

Will Eerect $50,000 Plant.

The Bessemer Contracting and Ballast Company of McKeesport yesterday purchased three acres of ground in Versailles borough from F. S. Gleason of McKeesport, on which will be erected a plant for the manufacture of material from slag produced at the various plants of the United States Steel Corporation in the Tube City. The plant will cost about $50,000.

Spotted Fever Here Again.

Four new cases of spotted fever, in three different wards, were reported to the bureau of health yesterday. The health authorities had hoped the disease was stamped out, but now considers the situation serious. Two cases are in the Twenty-first ward and one each in the Thirty-fifth and Fifth wards.

A WOMAN DOCTOR.

Was Quick to See That Coffee Poison Was Doing the Mischief.

A lady tells of a bad case of coffee poisoning and tells it in a way so simple and straightforward that literary skill could not improve it.

"I had neuralgic headaches for 12 years," she says, "and have suffered untold agony. When I first began to have them I weighed 140 pounds, but they brought me down to 110. I went to many doctors and they gave me only temporary relief. So I suffered on, till one day in 1904, a woman doctor told me to drink Postum Food Coffee. She said I looked like I was coffee poisoned.

"So I began to drink Postum and I gained 15 pounds in the first few weeks and am still gaining, but not so fast as at first. My headaches began to leave me after I had used Postum about two weeks—long enough I expect to get the coffee poison out of my system.

"Now that a few months have passed since I began to use Postum Food Coffee, I can gladly say that I never know what a neuralgic headache is like any more, and it was nothing but Postum that cured me. Before I used Postum I never went out alone; I would get bewildered and would not know which way to turn. Now I go alone and my head is as clear as a bell. My brain and nerves are stronger than they have been for years." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

CHOOSE OLD VESTRY AFTER LONG FIGHT

St. James Protestant Episcopal Congregation Indulges in Long-Drawn-Out Controversy.

RESULTS OF OTHER ELECTIONS

During an animated session and election covering six hours, the congregation of St. James' Memorial Protestant Episcopal church, Kelly street, debated the acceptance and rejection of the resignation tendered by the rector, the Rev. Colman E. Byram, and finally re-elected the former vestry which had accepted the rector's resignation. About two months ago the rector tendered his resignation, following the expression of some differences in opinion which he had with the vestry. The vestry took the resignation under advisement, and at their last meeting accepted it. Since then a faction in the parish had prevailed upon the pastor to reconsider his action, and last night the matter was warmly discussed.

A. M. Turner, a member of the parish, offered a resolution directing the new vestry to be elected to rescind the action of the vestry in accepting the rector's resignation. Charles Heckman, a retiring vestryman, announced that under the church law the congregation had no authority to give directions to the vestry, and declared that if the old vestry was re-elected that the action would not be rescinded. Free and open discussion followed for several hours. At 11 o'clock balloting began for the election of nine vestrymen, with 12 candidates in the field. At 1 o'clock this morning the count of the tellers showed that eight of the former vestrymen had been re-elected. J. W. Smyth was elected to succeed Mr. Moffat, who has left the city. The new vestry is as follows:

S. J. Purkiss, T. E. Orr, R. W. Libbell, Charles Heckman, Welsh Sprout, George Lindsay, Peyton Taylor, J. W. Smyth and William Thompson. Under the church law the rector must call the vestry to meet for organization within 10 days after election, and this duty devolves upon the Rev. Mr. Byram.

The rector refused to discuss the matter before or after the meeting last night. The parish was established about four years ago from members of St. James and St. Phillip parishes. It was said after the meeting that the majority of the former parishioners of St. James' church were in favor of the action of the old vestry, while the former St. Phillip communicants were almost solid for the rector.

In accordance with the regulations of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, the election of vestrymen was held in every local parish. Few changes were made among the parish officers, the exceptions generally being due to the death of former encumbents during the year. Results were as follows:

Trinity, Sixth avenue—W. R. Blair, Henry Chalfant, H. Darlington, E. T. Dravo, C. H. Fitzhugh, C. M. Gormley, J. McClurg Hays, H. L. Mason, S. C. McCandless, W. G. Park, Park Painter and W. H. Singer.

Calvary, Penn avenue—James W. Brown, George M. Taylor, Joseph R. Woodwell, Reuben Miller, H. D. W. English, J. J. Miller, John B. Jackson, W. D. Cochran, Samuel D. Douglas.

St. Peter's, Forbes street—W. T. Wallace, Henry Smith, George N. Monro, J. C. Roberts, John W. Garland, S. R. Patterson, Robert T. Reinman, William Metcalf, Jr., William Metcalf, Sr., Harvey Childs, Jr., Harry H. Smith.

Emanuel, Allegheny—James W. Scully, J. S. Brown, John McClurg, Thomas Quinn, E. L. Covert, W. M. Scaife, John Newton, J. H. B. Phillips, Walter Wormold, W. B. Roddy, James Partington.

St. John's, Butler street—E. W. Kirkpatrick, R. M. Totten, H. E. Wainwright, R. P. Reed, George Charnock, Robert Adams, R. G. Morrow.

Negroes Condemn Missouri Lynching.

Resolutions strongly condemning the lynching of the three negroes Saturday night at Springfield, Mo., and deploring and denouncing the outrage, were adopted yesterday morning at a meeting, at the Wylie avenue church, of the Methodist Preachers' union, composed of colored Methodist preachers of Pittsburgh and vicinity. The ministers also took occasion to heartily indorse the sentiments expressed in The Gazette's editorial on the matter headed, "Manifested Savagery."

Billiard Room Keepers' Association.

A meeting of the billiard room keepers of the city of Pittsburgh was held at the Hotel Antler to form an association for the mutual protection of billiard room keepers, and also to elevate the games of billiards and pool. The Allegheny County Billiard and Pool association was the name agreed upon. Another meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, April 25, at the Hotel Antler, when all room keepers are requested to be present for the nomination and election of officers.

Tile-Like for Tidying Up.

If you don't already know what Tile-Like is, if you will come to our House Furnishing Division of West Basement we will take pleasure in presenting you with a can.

It's a household paint, or a varnish, which ever you choose to call it, and it is so compounded that when it goes on an article it gives to it the beautiful finish of tile.

It is especially admirable for furniture of all kinds, and for giving a new appearance to doors. It can even be used on metals, chandeliers, for instance.

We have been handling it for more than a year and we have to testify that it is the best thought of of all the many prepared paints now on the market.

Special Prices on Women's Handkerchiefs.

We do not see how women could ask for better prices on handkerchiefs than what are mentioned below. To our mind we would have to search a long while before we could find anything more satisfactory.

12½c each for sheer linen corded and initialed Handkerchiefs; 18c goods.

12½c each for pure Linen Handkerchiefs, initialed—convent made initials with wreath. These handkerchiefs are unlaundered. If they were washed and ironed we would charge 25c for them.

25c each for women's pure Linen Handkerchiefs, colored borders. All the latest tints.

50c and $1.00 each, very fine Linen Handkerchiefs of a sheer cloth. These are embroidered all over in white and colors. They are the very latest ideas in handkerchiefs.

The Fritzi Schiff Belt.

It gives us great pleasure to introduce to Pittsburgh women a capital little belt named after this delightful singer. The belt is one of the fads of the season. It is made of softest kid. It has both single and double clasp fastenings. The colors are black, grey, blue, white.

50c, $1.00 and $1.50 are the prices.

You Can Clean Your Carpet for 25c.

It Makes No Difference How Dirty It Is You Won't Have to Take It Off the Floor.

That is what the Akme Carpet and Rug Cleaner does for the housewife.

A 25c box will clean an ordinary sized carpet and will put such a bright, new look upon it that, put alongside of a new carpet, you couldn't tell t'other from which.

Of course that's laying it on pretty thick, but really this Akme Carpet Cleaner is one of the best things ever invented to keep the temper of the housewife sweet.

It will not injure the most delicate colors. We think so highly of it that we are willing to hand you a sample package, free of charge, if you will call at House Furnishing Division, West Basement.

That package will clean one carpet or a large sized rug. After you see the clever work it does you will be back for several more packages.

Gov. Folk of Missouri declares he wants every member of the Springfield lynching mob hung. He will hardly succeed. The country at large will be greatly encouraged if Missouri inflicts even mild punishment on half of the participants in the orgie. They have all been guilty of manslaughter, to put in mildly, and if Gov. Folk gets them convicted of that crime he will add laurels to his reputation.

Serious rioting occurred at Windber yesterday in connection with the miners' wage dispute. This is no new development in that region. A few years ago both murder and arson were the accompaniments of a miners' strike. There are many violent characters among the population up on the mountain who had better have remained in the other side of the ocean—that is it would be better for Pennsylvania.

There was noting in the annual meeting of the United States Steel corporation to excite comment, or to give cause for the advance in prices of its securities. The second mortgage 5 per cent bonds sold at par yesterday for the first time in their history. In the absence of explanation connected with the meeting we may simply assume that present earnings, orders on the books and "digestion" of the securities justify the market.

Treasurer-elect Berry will not long retain any Republican in the treasury. It was reported some days ago he would keep three of the oldest employes. Yesterday he said: "There are too many good Democrats wanting jobs to keep Republicans in." Thus another non-partisan dream of Prohibitionists and "Independents" goes glimmering. Mr. Berry's business is to help build up that "organisation, supported, etc.," as advised by Mr. Parker of Esopus.

There is much to recommend Dr. C. C. Wylie's proposition to have a department of health in the larger cities of the state. The protection of the public health is one of the most important functions of government and should not be entrusted to an inferior organization. We would suggest that Dr. Wylie might well consider including tenement inspection as a bureau of the proposed department, for this is really a subject that nearly concerns the public health.

Members of the Pittsburgh board of trade wish to co-operate with Director Ridgway in suppressing the reckless driving of automobiles in the city's streets. Many of them are owners of automobiles who recognize the danger to themselves as well as to pedestrians from criminally careless chauffeurs. This is the right spirit. For the good of the sport, but especially in the interest of public safety, all responsible automobilists should join in the campaign against the few perniciously active offenders.

Why does the innocent-appearing name Springfield so often spell trouble in the news of the day? Peace and Springfield seem to be mutually repellent. Springfield in Ohio and Missouri, race riots; Springfield in Massachusetts makes weapons wherewith to slay our fellow men; Springfield in Illinois was yesterday the scene of the tragic humiliation of James Hamilton Lewis, the effulgent, pink-whiskered corporation counsel of Chicago, who was sentenced to 60 days in jail for contempt of court. If we would tread the paths of peace, it seems, we must stay away from the Springfields.

An investigation has been ordered of the conduct of German customs officials on the frontier who recently stopped a fire engine that was crossing the boundary line from Switzerland to extinguish a fire that was raging just beyond. The officials insisted that the duty on fire engines be paid before its admission to the country. As a result, the burning building was destroyed. The German officials, who stuck so persistently and ridiculously to their tariff regulations, refusing to make any concession to meet a new emergency, strikingly illustrates the attitude of our American "standpatters."

The arrival of Madame Schumann-Heink, the singer, in this country, with her three sons, is signficant when we consider the object of her coming at this time. She has brought the boys from Germany, their birthplace, to America to be educated and grow useful citizens of this country. In the opinion of the singer, who is a keen business woman as well, the United States affords greater opportunities to the young man than Germany or any other country. The ignorant and the indolent may complain of "the competition of modern life," but America is as much as ever the "land of opportunity" for the ambitious and energetic.

New Law of Divorce.

It is not easy to forsee all of the complications that may arise out of the decision affecting divorces that was rendered by the supreme court of the United States yesterday. It is of the utmost importance and will put an end to the scandalous pilgrimages to South Dakota for divorce purposes. Those who go there to obtain divorces must remain there to have them held to be legal. The decision will disturb many families.

This decision will give a tremendous impetus, we believe, to Gov. Pennypacker's propaganda for uniform laws governing marriage and divorces. In nearly all of the states divorce is granted on sufficient grounds. Good public policy demands that such decrees should be rendered in the state where both parties reside and the supreme court says otherwise they cannot be enforced in all of the states. The general public will welcome the decision as tending to bring about better moral conditions.

Gorky, the Unwelcome.

Although he has been but few days in this country, Maxim Gorky must be convinced already that his mission will not enlist the approval of the great mass of the American people. His mission is financial. He seeks American dollars wherewith to overthrow, by the use of violence, the present government of Russia. His undoubted literary talents, his pose as a patriot, his stirring career in the midst of exciting scenes in Russia, and the wrongs that have been suffered by that unfortunate people, which he so graphically depicts, should not blind our eyes to the revolutionary and un-American doctrines he preaches, and would practice with our financial aid.

An invitation has been sent Gorky to visit Pittsburgh. The fame of the city's prosperity should not inspire him with hope of large contributions to his cause. That there is no lack of sympathy here with the oppressed of Russia was evidenced by the generous subscriptions made some months ago through The Gazette and other agencies. There is little sympathy, however, with the methods advocated by Gorky for the betterment of conditions. One can imagine the kind of government Gorky and his associates would give Russia. Already the people of Russia are witnessing the dawning of a better day. The concessions they have obtained in the way of a share in the government are not to be despised. They have by no means obtained their full rights, nor will they for years to come, but they have made an important beginning. Gorky and whatever American dollars he may take back with him will not aid the Russian people in their great struggle. Their battle must be fought with different weapons than rifles and dynamite.

The Birds Are for Him.

Col. H. B. Davis, representative in congress from the Second district of West Virginia, will not be a candidate for reelection. Col. Davis is a Democrat. He slipped in when the Hon. Alston G. Dayton, Republican, retired to accept an appointment as judge of the United States district court, and his successor will be a Republican. But we learn the prospective retirement of Col. Davis has brought out many candidates for the Democratic nomination, the list being headed by John T. McGraw of Grafton. If Mr. McGraw is a candidate, why name the others? What is the use enumerating the also rans? In the campaign—if there is a campaign for nominations—nothing will be heard but hoarse cries of "McGraw, McGraw" from beginning to end.

Outside the Second West Virginia district everywhere will be heard the inquiry: Who are these "others" who would dispute the supremacy of McGraw? Others, indeed! McGraw, the silver tongued orator of the Tygarts Valley; McGraw, the young Napoleon of politics in the Allegheny foothills; McGraw, the tireless leader of the unterrified and defeated. It is almost an insult to be told there are "others." Has McGraw not borne the heat and burden of every campaign since Camden fell? Did McGraw not carry the silver banner and the cross of gold for Bryan? Did McGraw not carry the gold banner and the double cross for Parker? Has McGraw not earned his reward.

Away with these others. McGraw is the real thing. McGraw, of Grafton. Now, when his curly black locks are taking on the tinge of gray, McGraw, "Johnny" McGraw is the pillar of Second district Democracy. Let no one think because his raven hair is fading, the fire in his soul burns less dimly. His eye is yet bright, and his step is light as he marches at the head of the procession. There are no "others," not in the Democracy of the Second West Virginia district. Everybody is for McGraw. Even the birds, out in the cornfield cry:

McGraw, McGraw, McGraw,
Fillee magee, McGraw.
There's ne'er another Jack-a-daw,
Johnny, John T. McGraw.

Cost of Dirty Streets.

There are cities with dirtier streets than Pittsburgh's, and there are cities with cleaner streets. For the sake of decency and health Pittsburgh's streets should be cleaner than they are. The busy housewife, just now engaged in the annual renovation of the home, furnishes an example worth enthusiastic imitation by those officials who are responsible for the appearance of our streets. A view of the matter we do not always stop to take, is presented by the Chicago Tribune in pointing out the cost of dirty streets in dollars and cents. Whether he realizes the exact cause or not, "every mercant is compelled to increase prices in order to cover the value of goods ruined or injured by smoke and dust.

Every landlord of an office building must provide in rents for the excessive sweeping and scrubbing necessitated by the same evils. Every business or professional man must pay extra to fight dirt in his rooms, and even then his books, textures and other materials suffer deterioration from dirt."

In estimating the financial loss caused by unclean streets there is also to be taken into consideration the familiar relation between dirt and disease. The sickness arising from this cause has a direct effect on the pocketbook. Cleaner streets means less labor in the home, less frequent renewing of furniture and decorations, curtains and floor coverings, and smaller laundry bills. If not the most powerful one, the pocketbook argument does not lack force in appealing to the American citizen. Dirty streets cost much more than the expense of making them clean.

An Immigrant Case.

If further proof were needed of the necessity for amendment of the immigration laws, it might be found in the case of Fanny Diner. This case was the source of fierce debate in the house of representatives the other day. The trouble started over reference by Representative Hopkins of Kentucky to the special bill—defeated—of Representative Bennett of New York to suspend the existing law for the admission of this woman. She was deported the second time on the Kroonland on Sunday, having arrived the second time on the Philadelphia last week. She came the first time on the Philadelphia, and must have been recognized on the vessel, just as she was by the immigrant inspectors at Ellis island, as soon as they saw her.

Here is a case where a severe penalty should be imposed on the steamship company. If it has brought this one immigrant over twice, or the same vessed, it is probably bringing other deported immigrants for the second time—and a second fare—in the hope they may slip through in the rush of examination. Last week the arrivals were so numerous they could not all be passed. This week there is a promise of 47,000, if the ships come through on time. Robert Watchorn, immigration commissioner, says 5,000 a day is all that can be inspected. This leaves a surplus of 17,000 to remain in the steerage at the end of the week. In our estimation 5,000 a day is passing them twice too rapidly for effective examination, and it will be good fortune for the country if the steamship companies are compelled to keep half of their steerage passengers aboard for a week. It will have a tendency to restrain their ambition to bring more.

The Diner case should put the Ellis Island authorities on their guard against attempts to put through rejected immigrants. Examinations should be made more thorough, regardless of speed. The present restrictions are wholly inadequate, but such as they are they should be enforced to the limit, pending amendment of the law to make them more exacting. Because the traffic is profitable to the steamship companies is no reason why the country should continue to suffer.

Memorial Hall Site.

Discussion between the county commissioners and councils committee of the market house site for the Memorial hall resulted in a decision to refer the question of legality to City Solicitor Rodgers. Members of the committee from councils expressed favorable opinions, and the commissioners presented plans for the hall, including markets. Assistant Controller Morrow has raised the point that no use can be made of this site except for "municipal purposes," but his opinion will hardly stand if Solicitor Rodgers decides to the contrary.

Suppose the property was given to the city for "municipal purposes" only. What are municipal purposes? Does the renting of stalls come under that definition? Does renting a public hall comply with the requirement? These are the "uses" to which the property has been put for, lo! these many years. The county commissioners propose to put on the site of the two market buildings one great edifice, containing market stalls and a great auditorium. In addition it will contain assembly rooms for the organizations of war veterans, a flag room, a museum for war relics. Does this alter the purpose for which the property has been used?

City Solicitor Rodgers' opinion in this case will be awaited with interest, for there is nowhere another site as conveniently and well located; no other with similar war memories clustering about it. There are sites over in Allegheny and elsewhere, but none possessing so many features of advantage. If Mr. Morrow's contention is sustained, then the municipality had better prepare to build a new city hall on the site and restore it to the "municipal uses" the donor had in mind when making the deed 65 years ago.

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

Marriage Brings Happiness to Those Who Marry Well.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever,
Do noble things, not dream them all day long,
And so make life, love and the great forever
One grand, sweet song.
—Charles Kingsley.

To marry well means a lot more than marrying into a family of wealth or good social standing.

As a matter of fact, most domestic trouble, and a majority of divorces result from just such marriages, and all because they are unfit, or not in accordance with the laws and order of nature.

Until young men and women are taught to regard marriage more seriously, and are more fully instructed concerning its purpose, domestic discord, and all the trouble associated with incompatibility of temperament, will continue.

Jealousy, a veritable green-eyed monster, is a product of mismating, and it is so cruel and fiendish that it stops at nothing short of murder, and that of the most horrible type.

In our laudable efforts to educate the people we have allowed ourselves to be carried away with one idea, that of cramming the young mind with text-book stuff. And the average parent feels satisfied that his boy or girl is well educated if they succeed in graduating from school or college, and is specially proud if they happen to graduate with honors; that is, at or near the head of the class.

As a rule these honors mean that those who wear them have better memories, are more apt in remembering rules and formula, or possess greater facility of expression than others.

College "honor men" make rather a poor showing in the world's history when compared with middle men. Their good memories may fit them for desk work, compiling statistics, or providing data for others to work upon, but not for work that demands new ideas.

Original thinkers, inventors, and discoverers have rather poor memories, as a rule, consequently they must make rules, devise methods, and do things their own way. These are the really progressive people, the ones who are making this age famous.

It is well to know a good deal about science and art, but it is absolutely essential to know a good deal about life, and particularly about how to make it profitable for comfort, usefulness, and happiness, because eternal happiness is reserved for those who have cultivated and developed happy spirits.

You cannot make a grouchy, pessimistic, disgruntled man happy, nor can heaven make him happy. The fact is that heaven will make none happy nor unhappy, for it is happiness that makes or constitutes heaven.

Therefore, whatsoever you do in this life towards developing a happy spirit, is a contribution to that state of happiness which we call heaven.

In what way can you contribute more to your own happiness here, and to the happiness of your fellow-men than to marry happily, establish and maintain a happy home, and rear a happy family?

That is just what God made you for, or as it is written, for this were you created male and female.

The very first command given by the Creator was to mate, or marry, and to this day it stands first in the order of nature. Nor does it apply to man alone, but to the animal and vegetable kingdoms—to everything that lives and dies.

Great care is exercised in mating animals, flowering and fruit-bearing plants and trees, much greater than to mating human beings.

Those who are properly mated leave father and mother and home and cleave only to their chosen mates, and they become one, even of one flesh and bone, separable only by death.

Is it not possible for men and women to discover with certainty their proper mates? Surely the Creator would not have left such an important, such a really essential matter to chance, nor to have made it a great mystery.

Where men and women are simple and honest, and are not influenced by desires and ambitions to be rich, there are few unhappy matings, and divorces, family rows and domestic scandals are almost unknown.

In these times when the love of money is rampant, and ambition to shine is so strong, and the desire to wear silks and to ride in coaches is so great, comparatively little attention is given to the matter of choosing mates. Too often it is a question of dollars, or of social position.

For every important calling in life boys and girls are coached and trained and educated, save for that of matrimony. They are neither taught to know themselves, nor each other, but allowed to find out as best they can, and only too often they learn from those who are unfit to instruct.

Wedding occasions have become fashionable functions, picnics and dress parades.

Marriage should be a more serious matter, for it not only affects the lives of two people, but of many, even through many generations.

It is well to rejoice and be merry today, but none the less well to think seriously of tomorrow.

One of us, dear—
But one,
Will sit by a bed with marvelous fear
And clasp a hand
Growing cold as it feels for the spirit land—
Darling, which one?

One of us, dear—
But one,
Will stand by the other's coffin bier,
And look and weep,
While those marble lips strange silence keep—
Darling, which one?

One of us, dear—
But one,
By an open grave will drop a tear,
And homeward go—
The anguish of an unshared grief to know:
Darling, which one?

One of us, darling, it must be—
It may be you will slip from me,
Or, perhaps, my life may first be done:
Which one?

Growth of the Language.

"Big-sticking" through this "strenuous" life,
If you don't watch your "Rocks,"
You may be "muck-raked" in the strife
Or Gorky-ed," while earth mocks!

If placed o'er fellow men, in glee
"Skidoo!" don't you commence;
A man is told to "23!"
And feels like 30c.

Just make your life a book of hearts
That's never "Carnegied;"
Ay, Truth, is one of the fine arts,
Not Morganeered," indeed.

Then having reached of years three-score,
The "frenzied" life you've prized,
Is lost with you appendix, or
You then are "Oslerized!"

Peter Pry's Philosophy.

Mankind's joy, reflected in nature's mirror, we call spring.

When a man attains fame, he should die quickly or be stricken dumb.

The man with the megaphone voice makes a noise in the world, all right, but it takes the man with gray matter to coin the noise into money.

Jim—No, the deformed?

According to Guarantee.

"Excuse me, sir," said the bill collector, as he edged into Mr. Grapht's office, "but I came to collect that little bill."

"For what?" snapped Mr. Grapht.

"The typewriter you purcased from us You have had the machine for six months now and you haven't paid a cent on it."

"I admit that!" cried Mr. Grapht; "but still it must have been entirely paid for by this time, according to your agreement."

"But we haven't received a cent."

"That's not my affair. Didn't you give this guarantee: 'This typewriter will pay for itself in six months?'"

"Yes, sir, but—"

"If it hasn't paid for itself by this time, it's no concern of mine. I've a good mind to charge you storage on it. Good day."

"Oh, there's no fun in the game unless you stand a chance to win some thing."

Smudge—Are you going to send your son to the Annapolis Naval academy?

Grudge—No, I'm afraid he couldn't stand the hazing with meekness. I'm going to make a prizefighter out of him so that he will be able to fight back.

A Breed of Aerial Hens.

"This Eastertide," observed the Inspired Idiot, "serves to call attention to the meek and lowly hen, who is a far more significant symbol of Easter than pudgy rabbits and calla lilies. Not so poetical, perhaps, is this feathered divinity; but an intensely practical and all-satisfying counter-irritant on the meat trust.

"Now that the art of advertising and of press agents seems to be the very keynote of present day civilization, consider the genius of the hen in that direction. She is the greatest advertiser on earth! On the extremely low basis of 20 to every inhabitant it is estimated that 1,600,000,000 eggs are consumed in this country every year—a record no other manufacturer of breakfast food can approach. Barnyard students estimate that after laying each egg a hen 'cluckty-clucks' at least 50 times to call attention to her product; in other words, to advertise the goods she has manufactured. Consequently, this country's hens advertise over 80,000,000,000 times a year, an unsurpassed record of profitable publicity. Even the bad egg will advertise itself in a manner that convinces anyone but a boarding house keeper.

"My advice to merchants is—be a hen!

"Once upon a time, as the fairy tales go, I lived in the country—was a commuter, in fact, and after planting $20 worth of seed in my garden that refused to sprout, I purchased a crate of experienced and skillful hens that they might scratch up the seeds and utilize 'em for food.

"Soon the fowls were working the shell game on me with great success. By the way, who was it that said: 'Go to the hen, thou sluggard'? At any rate, one of the hens I purchased developed eccentric tendencies, became strong-minded—sort of a new woman hen—if the expression is permissible.

"This hen must have believed in the higher life, all right, for she always insisted upon roosting in the lower limbs of a tree during the night time, and finally got into the habit of staying up there in the daytime. I couldn't break her of the habit, and pretty soon the other hens started to follow her example. I guess she told 'em it was the latest fad from Paris or London.

"Just when my wife had her hands full of dough or I was comfortably fixed with my paper, a low, sibilant 'cluck' would be heard, swelling into a loud paen of victory, as all those aerial hens went off like alarm clocks. Hens cackle after laying eggs, but these fowls of mine took proper pride in their work and always cackled a warning that the psychological moment was at hand.

"'Bob, get the egg nest!' was then the frantic cry, and if we weren't quick the dull and distant crashes told us that the impatient fowls were emulating the other kind of shelling that the navies delight in.

"Now," went on the Inspired idiot, dolefully, "I was fool enough to sell those aerial hens. If I had kept and properly propagated them, I might have laid the foundation of a great fortune in selling their eggs."

"What were their special value?"

"Why, when airships become the fashion, those eggs would be the lightest and best food with which to provision them."

CULLED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Pitfalls We Should Avoid.

Modern society is full of pitfalls and perils, as a certain smart young man realized to his sorrow the other day. "Oh, I'm sure I've met you before," he declared to a pretty woman whose name, of course, he had not caught. Ignoring the warning frown from a friend he rushed on: "Why, of course, I used to see you around with Blank-Dash; now didn't I?" And he smiled triumphantly. "I can't deny it," she returned sweetly, "but I couldn't help it. I used to be married to him."—New York Sun.

A Premature Expression.

This story, from the El Reno American, should really have been saved for Easter: "An El Reno milliner who sings in a church choir is so interested in her hat architecture that yesterday morning in church, instead of singing 'Praise the Mount, I'm Fixed Upon It,' warbled: 'Raise the Amount; I've Fixed a Bonnet.'"—Kansas City Journal.

"John" All Right in America.

Perhaps you do not know why monarchs of Europe so seldom hitch the name of John to their boy infants.

John is a "hoodoo" in Europe. Even the occupants of palaces are not above suspicion and some of them have it in a large degree.

And the reason of the "hoodoo" looms up in history as large as a brick meeting house.

King John of England was the best hated monarch England ever knew. John II. of France was for years a captive, while John of Aragon was perpetually at war with his subjects. John II. had to fight with his son for the crown. John I. of Constantinople was poisoned and John IV. had his eyes put out. The lives of John V. and John VI. were full of turmoil.

Of the popes John IX., X. and XI. died in prison. John VIII. was poisoned; John XII. was assassinated, John XXI. was crushed to death in an accident and John XXIII spent three years in prison.

In other countries the story is as black, running from John I. of Sweden who was a parricide, and who died at the hands of an assassin.

In America John seems to be O. K. It sounds good and honest. But in Europe the "hoodoo" still holds.—Denver News.

The Retort Convincing.

Justice Harlan of the supreme court despite his length of service on the bench, still preserves that elasticity of spirit and love of a joke that have distinguished him all through his career.

On the circuit last year the justice created considerable merriment in a western court. A learned counsel was arguing the question as to what circumstances constituted an "accident," and was offering instances of what he considered would properly come within that term and what would not, on the other hand.

"Suppose, your honor," said he, "someone were to hit me in the eye, making it black in consequence. The fact of its becoming black could not be called an accident."

"Perhaps not," suggested Harlan, with a chuckle, "but you would doubtless explain it on that ground."—Harper's Weekly.

Went Clear Through.

Up among the hills of Sligo, Ireland, lies a small and mysterious lake much famed in that haunted region. One day a noted English professor, exploring the hills, was asked by his native guide if he would not like to see the lake, 'for it's no bottom at all, sorr.'

'How do you know that, Pat?' asked the professor.

"Well, sorr, I'll tell ye," agreed the other. "Me own cousin was showin' the pond to a gentleman one day, sorr, and he looked incredulous like—just as you do—and me cousin couldn't stand it for him to doubt his word, sorr, and so he said, 'I'll prove the truth of me words,' he said, and off with his clothes and into the water he jumped."

The professor's face wore an amused and quizzical expression.

"Yes, sorr, in he jumped,' continued the guide, "and didn't come up again at all, at all.'

"But," objected the professor, "I don't see that he proved the point by drowning himself."

'Is it drowned? Divil a bit drowned at all was he. Sure didn't a cable come from him next day in China askin' for his clothes to be sent on!"—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Hoist By His Own Petard.

A Harlem dentist sought to work up trade by sending out fake bills to persons whose names he had selected at random from the directory. Naturally, he never expected to get the money, but he advertised himself, which was the end desired. One day his office was invaded by two angry victims.

"I have here," said the man, "a bill for $15 for work done on my wife's teeth. Well, I refuse to pay it until you put her mouth into decent shape. I never saw such a job of butchery in my life. Just sit down, Martha, and let him see what can be done."

The dentist was dumfounded. He had never seen the couple in his life, but there was his bill to back up their demand, and rather than confess the peculiarity of his advertising methods he was forced to do for $15 at least $30 worth of work that had been begun by some incompetent dentist.—New York Sun.

No Hell for Him.

"I'll tell you how I treat rheumatism," said a veteran of the Mexican war at the Fifth Avenue hotel. "I've had the pesky thing ever since I had to sleep in a blanket on the battlefields of Mexico. I've been to every spring in the civilized world and I've taken a river of medicine and I've cussed and cussed as I groaned and groaned. Then I pitch the medicine out of the window, send for a bottle of champagne and a splendiferous dinner and I'm well for about a month. Then the pesky 'rumatism,' as I call it, comes back again, my knuckles and joints swell and I cuss and cuss and groan and groan, and I've been doin' this for nigh onto 60 year! Hell? There isn't any hell now for me, no more than there is a summer heaven for a Laplander."—New York Sun.

Notes About People and Events In Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

South Siders Book Passage.

On the South Side things will date from July 17, 1906. On that day "Uncle" John Bradley and Maj. John Michael Hammel will take passage on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Zweite. After an absence of over 50 years Mr. Bradley is going to Scotland to renew the friendships of youth. Mr. Hammel will visit his old associates on the Rhine. Later in the season they will meet in Paris. When the sights of the capital of France have been seen there will be a homecoming, a gala day on the South Side and for months thereafter stories worth listening to will be told.

Among the Travelers.

Judge Nathaniel Ewing of Uniontown is at the Lincoln.

Theoff Pantall, owner of the hotel bearing his name at Punxsutawney, was at the St. Charles last night.

T. E. Gillikoff, a member of the Russian revolutionary bund that is handling Maxim Gorky's tour of this country, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh. He refused to state whether the Russian novelist would talk in Pittsburgh or throw any light on the Gorky marital troubles. M. Gillikoff left last night for Cleveland.

Heroic Treatment.

The late Dr. Gates B. Bullard, for more than a generation the leading physician at St. Johnsbury, Vt., did not always rely upon drugs for a cure. He was of fine presence and heroic proportions, and was a very picturesque user of profane language when occasion made it expedient.

Being called one night in the dead of winter to the bedside of a farmer who had been suffering from an incessant attack of hiccoughs for three days and was near death, he wrapped himself up in his fur coat, pulled his fur hat down over his face, leaving but litle visible besides his eyes and his whiskers, and hurriedly drove away.

He did not stop for preliminaries, but entered the house and without a word passed into the sickroom. Before the invalid knew he was there he jumped on the bed, grabbed him by the throat, and, raising him from his pillow by the neck, exclaimed: "D—— you! I want you!"

The man not only survived heart disease, but never hiccoughed again.—Boston Herald.

Keeping It Quiet.

Comedian Al. H. Wilson tells this good story: "It happened in a little town in the northwest, the last time I was up there. A lady came down from upstairs and asked the manager of the hotel if she could get a glass of water.

"'Why, certainly, madam,' said the manager, filling up a glass from a water cooler.

"Two minutes later she was back in the office again.

"'I don't like to trouble you,' she said, 'but could I get another glass of water?'

"'No trouble at all, madam,' said the affable manager, handing her another glass.

"Two minutes later, she appeared again.

"'Certainly, madam,' said the affable manager, 'but could I inquire what you are doing with so much water?'

"'I know you'll just scream when I tell you,' said the lady; 'I am trying to put out a fire in my room.'"—Sioux City Tribune.

Widow's Card of Thanks.

A newly made widow of Geary county sent this card of thanks to the Junction City (Kan.) Republic for publication:

"I desire to thank my friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for the united aid and co-operation during the illness and death of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on Friday last while eating breakfast. To the friends and all who contributed so willingly toward making the last moments and funeral of my husband a success I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these few lines will find them enjoying the same blessing. I have a good milch cow and roan gelding horse, 5 years old, which I will sell cheap. 'God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform. He plants His footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm,' also a black and white shote very low."

Plenty of Time; Don't Rush.

Mr. Bryan's political activities have hitherto been shown in swelling the rising tide of Socialism. Of late he has traveled much, and, apparently, thought much. Possibly on the way to Damascus he has seen a great light. His luminous discussion of political individualism in the current Century magazine seems to reflect it. But there is time in plenty to proclaim him the Saul of Tarsus of the Democracy.—New York Times.

BERRY AFRAID HE WILL BE NAMED

Believes It May Be Necessary to Make Him the Gubernatorial Nominee of Fusion Forces.

TAKES BIG LOAD OFF GUFFEY

William H. Berry of Chester, who will next month assume his duties as state treasurer, is afraid he will have to take the fusion nomination for governor. While he would like to complete his term as custodian of the state's money, this man of many parties is willing to make the sacrifice.

Mr. Berry was in Pittsburgh yesterday while on his way to Missouri to visit his mother. A year ago he was scarcely known outside of Delaware county; now he feels the future welfare of the commonwealth rests on his shoulders. Mr. Berry is perfectly satisfied with Mr. Berry. It is no violation of confidence to say Mr. Berry believes a vast majority of the electors of Pennsylvania are anxiously waiting to hail him as governor. He says he is really afraid the situation will demand his nomination.

"I would like to see a fusion movement in Pennsylvania this fall," said Mr. Berry. "While I believe the Democrats should be allowed to name the candidate for governor because the party will furnish the bulk of the votes, I will not insist on the selection of a Democrat. Homer L. Castle would satisfy me as a nominee.

Some Doubt About McCormick.

"Yes, Vance C. McCormick of Harrisburg is a splendid young man. There has been a good deal of talk about his candidacy, and it is probable that he will be seriously considered. We will have to inquire about his connection with corporations. I do not know just how he is affiliated. The candidate must not be too close to the corporations. Congressman Kline of Lehigh is mentioned. I doubt if he could be elected if he were nominated."

"How about Mr. Berry for governor?" was suggested, and at the same time it was intimated that Mr. Berry might decline to run because he might think it was his duty to serve the people as state treasurer.

"The fact that I have been elected treasurer would have to be considered should I think of accepting the nomination," said Mr. Berry. "I could not become a candidate for the office. Should it become necessary to have me accept the nomination to produce harmony I would have to do so. I am very much afraid the situation is drifting in that direction."

Until yesterday Col. Guffey thought he had a firm grasp on the situation.

Expects No Skeletons.

Mr. Berry does not expect to find any skeletons when he "lifts the lid" of the treasury next month. "I know," said he, "there were some bad bonds held by the state in security for the commonwealth's money when I was elected last fall. I understand everything has been put in good shape. When I take charge next month it is not my intention to make any sweeping changes in the depositories. I will not withdraw funds unless I find they are secured by defective bonds."

When Mr. Berry announced nine appointments last week he said there would be a few of the old clerks retained. Yesterday he was asked for the names of the holdovers. He said he was not certain how many he would keep, and the retention in any case will be temporary. "There are too many good Democrats wanting office," said he, "to keep these Republicans in the service. So far I have named two Prohibitionists, Dr. A. O. Sloan of Lawrence county, and John D. Burns of Chester."

Senator Magee returned to the city yesterday and in discussing the announcement of Congressman Burke for another term, said: "Mr. Burke has been my friend for many years. He has made an excellent record in congress and I am heartily in favor of his re-election."

Candidates for the Republican nomination for assemblymen in the Eleventh district are being discussed. A week ago mention was made of the probable candidacy of Daniel Hunnihan of East Pittsburgh, and Archibald Powell of Glassport. Now Harry McIntosh of Wilkinsburg, W. H. Sharrah of Braddock, and James Hooper of Penn township, are mentioned. The district is entitled to three members.

David D. Davies of the Twenty-first ward, who held a position in the office of the county treasurer, was removed yesterday. The ward Republican committee wants the place given to another man.

BOYD HAS TRIUMPHANT EXIT FROM PRISON WALLS

Handsome Carriage Containing His Wife Awaits Noted Forger at the Gates.

J. C. Boyd, the noted forger, left the Western penitentiary yesterday morning after completing a 12-year term in that institution. Stepping into a handsome brougham which had been waiting a short distance from the prison gates, the man was met by a loving embrace from a pretty brunette who was seated in the carriage, and who is supposed to have been the wife who has waited faithfully during the eight years of his confinement for that supreme moment. The carriage was whirled rapidly away, and J. C. Boyd undoubtedly was no more, since he said the name was an assumed one.

Boyd was in a pleasant frame of mind yesterday morning, and after eating a hearty breakfast shook hands with all the prison officials. To all questions as to his future plans he said he only wanted to get away and bury himself somewhere.

With the release of Boyd there is at large one of the most expert forgers in the country. While living luxuriously in Oakland he had no trouble in working real estate frauds which are said to have netted him a neat fortune, and which were probably responsible for his triumphant exit from prison yesterday. He was sentenced to the penitentiary on September 15, 1898, but his term of 12 years was shortened four years by good behavior.

GRAND JURY INDICTS A FEDERAL OFFICIAL

BUFFALO, April 16.—Fred O. Murray, recently appointed collector of the port of Buffalo, and former treasurer of Erie county, was today indicted by the grand jury on a charge of stealing from the county of Erie sums aggregating $38,870 and receiving stolen property in a like amount. In all, 17 indictments were handed in by the grand jury, which has been investigating alleged grafting in connection with the purchase by the county of the North street cemetery as a site for the Sixty-fifth regiment armory.

Ex-Congressman Porter Ill.

Ex-Congressman H. K. Porter of Pittsburgh has been suffering for the last two weeks from rheumatic fever, at the Hotel Buckingham, New York. Mr. Porter was taken ill in Brunswick, Ga., but was brought to New York by his wife, where better medical treatment could be secured. The physicians anticipate no serious results.

Aeronaut Ludlow Is in New York.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Israel Ludlow, the aeronaut who was injured at Atlantic Beach, Florida, on Saturday, in a fall with his aeroplane, reached New York city today and was taken to a hospital to be treated for his injuries. Ludlow's spine was injured in his fall and his body was paralyzed below the waist.

REFUSES TO TELL WHO SLASHED HIM

Cutting Affray Among Slavs in Lower Allegheny Likely to Cause Joe Dialion's Death.

POLICE GET MAN WITH KNIFE

"I'll tell you his name when I get d—— good and ready." That is what "Joe" Dialion said last night when asked to tell the identity of the assailant who nearly severed his head from his body. Dialion was lying at St. John's hospital, Allegheny, and not expected to live when he made this statement.

"Joe" Davosky is locked up in the Woods Run police station charged with having done the cutting, and "Steve" Franko, a brother-in-law of the injured man, is locked up as a witness.

The cutting occurred in Cass avenue, Allegheny, near the Pressed Steel Car Company's plant. A number of Slavs who witnessed it say that there was a quarrel between Dialion and another man, whose name they refuse to tell, the result of which a knife was drawn and Dialion cut.

Word was sent to the Woods Run police station, and when the patrol wagon arrived Dialion was found lying in the street with his neck horribly cut. He refused to tell the name of his assailant or how he had been cut. He was hurried to St. John's, where it was found that the wound extended from the back of his neck to the angle of the jaw, and was two inches deep and 10 inches long. The superficial muscles of the neck and the arteries were severed. The physicians who attended Dialion said that it was the worst case of the kind they had ever seen.

Detectives Leon Einstein, John King and William Speer at once set to work on the case, and learned that Dialion lived at 44 Benton street, Allegheny. Although they found several people who witnessed the affair, all professed ignorance of the assailant's name. Dravosky was found hanging around the scene of the cutting and, upon the approach of the detectives, was seen to throw away an open knife. Upon this evidence he was arrested.

The affair occurred near the spot where Mrs. "Andy" Baucrck was mysteriously shot last Saturday evening.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Altoona Man Will Erect Emory M. E. Church, Which Is to Cost $250,000.

The building committee of Emory Methodist Episcopal church has entered into a contract with P. W. Finn of Altoona for the erection of the new church at North Highland avenue and Rippey street. It will be built of Hummelstown brownstone, with mossgreen vitrified tile roof, and, with the land, will cost about $250,000.

The Sunday school building will be ready for occupancy by October of this year. It will seat about 1,400, and the congregation will vacate its old church when the Sunday school building is finished. The sanctuary, which will be completed about May, 1907, will have a seating capacity of 1,300. The two portions of the building may be thrown together and furnish a combined seating capacity of 2,700.

Girlhood, Womanhood, Motherhood.

The first lesson that the young girl has of womanhood is usually a painful one. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes is sadly borne down by this new experience of life.

All the pain and misery which young girls commonly experience at such a time may, in almost every instance, be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, backache, nervousness, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

MOTHER OF THE FAMILY.

The anxious mother of the family oftentimes carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visits are very often much too great. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice, which is given free. Correspondence is held sacredly confidential.

IT STANDS ALONE.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women the makers of which are not afraid to print just what it is made of on every bottle wrapper. It is the only medicine for women every ingredient of which has the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers of this country, recommending it for the cure of the very same diseases for which this "Prescription" is advised.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.

A mother's love is so divine that the roughest man cannot help but appreciate it as the crown of womanhood. However, motherhood is often looked forward to with feelings of great dread by most women. At such times a woman is nervous, dyspeptic, irritable, and she is in need of a uterine tonic and nervine, a strength builder to fit her for the ordeal. No matter how healthy or strong a woman may be she cannot but be benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to prepare for the event. It makes childbirth easy and often almost painless.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION is a powerful, invigorating tonic. It imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

A STRENGTHENING NERVINE.

"Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

A SCIENTIFIC MEDICINE.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organism. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness or nausea, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use will prove very beneficial.

CURES OBSTINATE CASES.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions and irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness of the ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

HOW TO LOOK BEAUTIFUL.

Young women or matrons should not allow themselves to look sallow and wrinkled because of those pains and weaknesses which become chronic and are the result of colds, tight lacing, and the imprudent care of the womanly system. Many a woman would look beautiful, have healthy color and bright eyes if it were not for those drains on her strength and those weaknesses which come all too frequently and make her life miserable. There is a ready-to-use Prescription, used a great many years by Dr. R. V. Pierce in his large practice as a Specialist in women's diseases, which is not like the many "patent medicines" on the market, as it contains neither alcohol nor any narcotic, or other harmful drug. It is purely vegetable. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and is sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

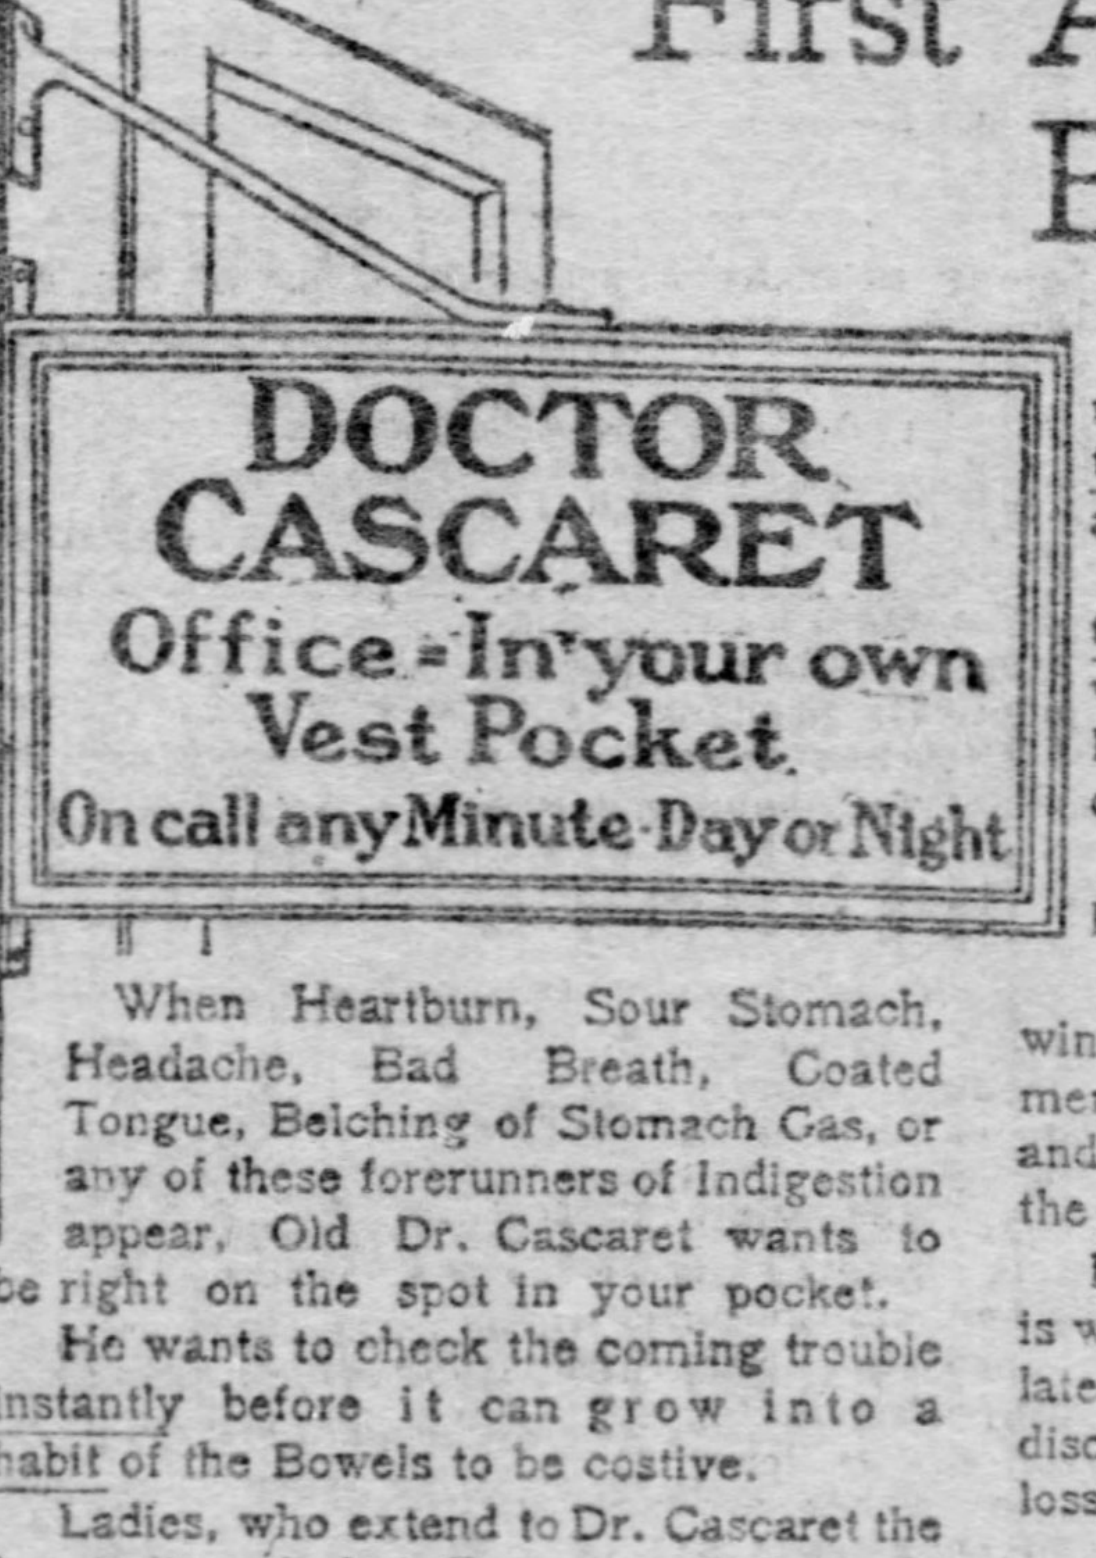
cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Persons subjected to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. In proof of their superior excellence it can truthfully be said that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

How to live in health and happiness, is the general theme of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1000 pages and more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.



DOCTOR CASCARET
Office—In your own Vest Pocket.
On call any Minute—Day or Night

"First Aid" to the Bowels

When Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach Gas, or any of these forerunners of Indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot in your pocket.

He wants to check the coming trouble instantly before it can grow into a habit of the Bowels to be costive.

Ladies, who extend to Dr. Cascaret the hospitality of their Purses or their Dress Pockets, will be rewarded with a fine complexion, and healthy Happiness.

These will about fifty times repay for the trifling space occupied, and the ten cents per week at cost.

Dr. Cascaret guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and Indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience.

His medicine does not gripe nor purge, nor create a drug habit.

Because it is not a "Bile-driver," nor a Gastric-Juice Waster, but a direct Tonic to the Bowel Muscles.

It exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes these Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg muscles.

Old Dr. Cascaret goes directly after these Bowel-Muscles. He wakes them up just as a cold bath would wake up a lazy person.

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

But Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot, in your Pocket or Purse, where he can regulate these Bowel-Muscles all the time, in health, and out of health.

Because, even the strongest Bowel-Muscles may be overworked.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine, or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other every day likelihoods tire the Bowel Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

Old Dr. Cascaret carried constantly in your Vest Pocket, or in "My Lady's" Purse is the cheapest kind of Health-Insurance, and Happiness-Promotion, that ever happened.

Little thin enamel Cascaret Box, half as thick as your watch, round-cornered, smooth-edged, and shaped so you don't notice its presence.

Contains six Candy tablets—Price Ten Cents a Box at any Druggist's.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

HIP SING TONGS FLEE FROM CITY

Ting Lu Tsin, With Snapping Eyes, Promises to Return and Bring Chinamen to Terms.

WAR TO CLEAVER PROMISED

Driven out of Pittsburgh's Chinatown by the law-abiding element and by a local gambling tong that has grown conservative in the face of grafting rivals, over 30 members of the recently organized Hip Sing Tong blackmailing society have packed up and left the local Chinatown during the past few days. Parties of furtive looking celestials, banded together in small parties, as if to ward off the victorious feudists of the local tong, began passing through union station Sunday night, and the exodus continued in large numbers last night. The number was augmented to 50 by neutral and timid orientals who are leaving the quarter at the first hint of a bloody war.

The fleeing feudists are checking their baggage either to New York or Cleveland. As far as can be learned, the exodus includes about 10 "bad" Pittsburgh Chinamen who affiliated themselves with the Hip Sing Tong and are now fleeing from the edict of the strongly intrenched local tong and its hatchet men, backed by the conservative law and order sentiment. However, the majority of the parties consists of nomadic gamblers and gun-fighters who were imported to the number of 48 by Que Chow last week, and who himself fled the city Saturday night after his purpose and criminal record was exposed. The independence of the local Chinamen in refusing to submit to blackmail at $3 50 a head, and the aggressive action of the police department, completed this rout.

"We are not defeated and are not running away from the local tong," said Ting Lu Tsin, who was piloting a party in union station last night, and his beady eyes snapped angrily. This Chinaman was the silent partner of the frock-coated Que Chow in Pittsburgh last week, and is notorious in New York police records as the ally of Mock Duck in the two years' tong battles and murders there.

"You may state," he continued, "that over 200 local Chinamen have joined the Hip Sing Tong (Help Victory) society, including practically everyone who visited Chinatown last Sunday night from the small towns, to lay in provisions and laundry supplies. In one week we have become almost as strong as the On Leong Tong (Peace and Charity) society, and will bring them to terms in the next two weeks or know the reason why. I will return Thursday with an edict from a personage that will bring them to terms. Understand me, I do not intimate violence, but mean conquest. The Hip Sing Tong will dispute the Chinese supremacy of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia with the local tong."

Ting Lu Tsin is an intelligent Americanized Chinaman, and he weighed his words well, knowing that they meant nothing else but war to the knife—or, rather, to the "cleaver," for that is the deadly weapon of the Foo Tow Ji Hawng, the "little hatchetmen" or assassin adjunct to the highbinder organization. The agitator left for New York, with a burly deaf mute bodyguard, probably to confer with his chief, Mock Duck, and import another "missionary party" to complete the conquest of Chinatown.

TO FORM FEDERATION.

Men's Clubs of Presbyterian Churches in City and Vicinity Favor Union.

Over 40 representatives of the various men's clubs and bible classes of the different Presbyterian churches of Pittsburgh and vicinity met at the Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, last evening to form a federation of all men's clubs and Bible classes under that denomination in this vicinity.

The meeting was called by the Rev. Edward Young, who is a member of the committee on men's clubs appointed at a recent session of the Presbyterian General assembly. Chancellor S. B. McCormick was the chief speaker. Brief addresses were made by representatives from the men's organizations belonging to the following churches: First, Second, East Liberty, Melrose Avenue, Kittanning, Knoxville, Tabernacle, Carnegie and Second, Allegheny. All the representatives were in favor of forming the federation, and the following committee was appointed to mature plans for the union: The Rev. S. Edward Young, First Presbyterian; W. S. Vandike, Highland church; Howard Heinz, East Liberty church.

The Death Roll.

John Hanlon.

John Hanlon, father of M. A. Hanlon, the undertaker in Frankstown avenue, died at the family residence, 431-433 Ligonier street, at 4:25 yesterday afternoon, after an illness lasting two weeks. He was born in Donegal, Ireland, 71 years ago, and came to America early in the 60's. He settled in Pittsburgh and became engaged with Clark & Thaw, then in charge of the old Pennsylvania canal. He later became a foreman on the construction of the Pennsylvania railroad, and worked on it until it was completed to Altoona. During his service with the Pennsylvania railroad he was one of the first railroad men to go to the arsenal shortly after the big explosion in 1862, and was also one of the first men at the scene of the Reese Mill explosion, 32 years ago. He was a veteran of the civil war, serving in the Sixteenth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, and was on guard duty at the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee at Appomatox. He escorted the white flag as it came from the rebel lines. Later he was put in charge of the prisoners while their arms were being turned over to the government. He is survived by his widow, three sons and one daughter. The sons are Matthew, John and Archie Hanlon, and Mrs. Mary Crowe, the latter of Homewood. Services will be held at his late residence at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, and the interment will be held later.

Jacob Gilliland.

Jacob Gilliland, aged 73, of Homestead, died yesterday. Mr. Gilliland was born at Elizabet, but when quite young located in Homestead. He began life as a coal miner and finally became superintendent of the Munhall coal works. Thirty years ago, when Homestead was established, he began to deal in real estate. He became wealthy and retired. He was a member of the Fourth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. He is survived by his second wife and five children: James A., Alice, Josephine and Grace, Homestead, and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hermann Scheuer.

Mrs. Bertha Scheuer, aged 75, died yesterday at her home, 418 Chartiers street, Carnegie. She was born in Germany and came to this country 23 years ago. She lived in New York four years, and then came to Carnegie. She was a member of Rodeph Shalom synagogue, this city. She is survived by her husband, Hermann Scheuer, and four children: Mrs. Joseph Auerbach of Canonsburg, and Mrs. Max Blumenthal, Sharpsburg; Solomon and Morris Scheuer, at home. She also leaves three sisters, three brothers and seven grandchildren.

Bernard Feehan.

Bernard Feehan, aged 70, of Castle Shannon, died Sunday at 8 a. m., of heart disease. He was a native of Ireland and had been in this country for 23 years. For years he was a coal miner, but retired about three years ago. He is survived by the following children: Arthur, John, Francis, who is president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America; Mrs. D. G. Jones, Mrs. Charles Dewalt, Mrs. James Lee, and Miss Agnes. The deceased was a member of St. Anne's Roman Catholic church.

Ambroise Vincent Kane.

Ambroise Vincent Kane died at his home, 630 Peebles avenue, shortly after noon yesterday. He was born in Jamestown, N. Y., and came to Pittsburgh when a child. He was a member of St. James' Roman Catholic church, Wilkinsburg, from which the funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Obituary Notes.

Henry G. Palmer died at the home of his father-in-law, George B. Kelly, 343 Lake street, at noon yesterday. He was born in England, March 22, 1828. The funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow evening, and the interment will be in the Homewood cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Glanville, aged 50, wife of Martin Glanville of 454 California avenue, Allegheny, died yesterday morning. She was prominently identified with St. Anderw's Roman Catholic church. Besides her husband, Mrs. Glanville is survived by one son and two daughters.

Archibald Lewis Crandell, a deaf-mute, aged [illegible]6, died yesterday at the home of his son, Dr. F. S. Crandell, in Larimer avenue, Turtle Creek, from pneumonia. Mr. Crandell had led a retired life for many years. His wife died 12 years ago. Besides Dr. Crandell he leaves a daughter, Miss Anna Crandell of Carbondale, Pa.

CONTROLLER HAS LAST TALK WITH DIRECTOR

Clark Denies Preliminary Filtration Is Considered—Mayor to Report to Councils.

Director Clark and Controller Larkin held a long conference yesterday, discussing details of the report on filtration which Mayor Guthrie will make to councils at the next meeting. Morris Knowles, superintendent of the filtration bureau, was present. Director Clark denied that the filtration plans were to be changed to adopt the preliminary system. "It was not even discussed," he said.

The controller leaves today for Mercer, Pa., to be gone several weeks, and the conference was to settle all differences pertaining to filtration prior to his departure. It is stated that the total saving in the cost of the construction of the filtration plant by changing the plans will amount to $104,000, besides the saving in the maintenance account.

Director Clark said a decision had not yet been reached as to how the $1,000,000 or more required for water extension would be provided, although the complaints of shortage in the water supply continue to be received by city officials from all parts of the city.

HUMPHREYS CAN WORK AND SLEEP IN COMFORT

Head of Fire Department Will Find Duty of Living in Public Safety Building Not So Irksome.

Fire Chief Miles S. Humphreys gets his bathroom and bedroom back. The chief's bathroom is one intended for him when the public safety building was first erected. In those days the chief had a private office, a bedroom and a bathroom. Later the late J. O. Brown, then director of the public safety department, assigned the bureau of plumbing inspection to the Humphreys bedroom and bathroom, and whenever the chief, who is supposed to sleep in the public safety building, wanted to take a bath he had to trot downstairs to the basement.

Director Ridgway has ordered that the plumbing inspection bureau be provided with quarters elsewhere in the building. The bathtub will be returned to the bathroom, a bed and other bedroom furniture will be installed in the former bedroom, and in future the chief will spend his nights at the public safety building, now that there will be better sleeping accommodations than those provided by the lounge in the private office.

PITCAIRN SEES CASSATT.

Conference on Order of City to Remove Pennsylvania Tracks—Notice to Property Owners.

Robert Pitcairn is in Philadelphia conferring with President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company relative to the order of the city to remove the Pennsylvania tracks from Liberty avenue on or before May 6. It is not known positively whether the company will ask for an extension of time, but it is believed that the company will try to get its new freight stations at the Point in shape to comply with the order o fthe city. It is stated tha a force of men will be put at work at night to finish the job in time.

Director Clark yesterday notified owners of property in Liberty avenue to make all water, sewer or gas connections before the avenue is repaved. The repaving will be done as soon as the tracks are removed, and Director Clark does not want the avenue torn up afterwards.

NEW CITY DEPARTMENT.

Dr. C. C. Wiley Proposes to Subordinate Charities to Health by Amending Charter.

A new department of the city government, to be known as the department of health, is proposed by Dr. C. C. Wiley, who is urging the idea upon Mayor Guthrie and may introduce a bill at the next session of the legislature to provide for the change.

To create the proposed new department it would be necessary to amend the charter act for second class cities. Dr. Wiley proposes to substitute the department of health for the existing department of charities and corrections. He claims the health of the community is paramount in importance to that of charities and corrections, and the proposed change would enable the transfer of the bureau of health from the public safety department.

GIBBS GETS PLUM.

Director Kirschler Appoints Sewickley Man Gardener at City Home.

Director Simon Kirschler yesterday appointed John W. Gibbs, a retired gardener of Sewickley, to be gardener at the Allegheny city home, Claremont. The position pays $800 a year, with board at the home, and the director said he appointed Gibbs solely on his merit. The gardens at Claremont have not been yielding as large crops as expected, and Gibbs promises an improvement.

Adam Schwartz assumed the office of chief tenement inspector of the North Side yesterday. He was formerly a special officer at Riverview park, and is a resident of the Eleventh ward. Thomas Brady was advanced from assistant operator in the Allegheny fire alarm office to be chief.

ON SUICIDE BENT TELL THROWS HIMSELF UNDER CAR

Anthony Tell, 10 Butler street, an Italian, is lying in Allegheny General hospital suffering from a crushed ankle and scalp wound, the result of an attempt to commit suicide by throwing himself under the wheels of a car in Butler street, near Etna, yesterday. Tell rushed out of his house, followed by his brother and several women, leaped over a 10-foot embankment and threw himself in front of the car, which was running slowly. The injured man was pushed about 10 feet by the front wheels of the car before Motorman Andrew Zable was able to stop it.

J. HAMILTON LEWIS IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 16.—Judge Humphrey in the United States circuit court today declared Col. James Hamilton Lewis, corporation counsel of Chicago, in contempt of court in the Alton water works case, and sentenced Col. Lewis to 60 days' imprisonment in the Sangamon county ajil. The sentence is to be remitted if Col. Lewis within the next five days will dismiss certain suits which he brought in the Madison county circuit court.

THANKSGIVING PSALM.

A Rhythmical and Grateful Chant.

A teacher in a Terre Haute public school, joins in the chorus:

"Teaching is a business which requires a great deal of brain and nerve force. Unless this force is renewed as fast as expended the teacher is exhausted before the close of the year. Many resort to stimulating tonics for relief.

"For 3 years I struggled against this almost complete exhaustion, getting what relief I could from doctor's tonics. Then in the spring of 1903 I had an attack of la grippe and malaria, which left me too weak to continue my work. Medicine failed to give me any relief, a change of climate failed. I thought I should never be able to go back in school again.

"I ate enough food (the ordinary meals, white bread and vegetables), but was hungry after meals.

"I happened at this time to read an article giving the experience of another teacher who had been helped by Grape-Nuts food. I decided to try Grape-Nuts and cream, as an experiment. It was a delightful experience, and continues so after a year and a half of constant use.

"First, I noticed that I was not hungry after meals.

"In a few days that tired feeling left me, and I felt fresh and bright, instead of dull and sleepy.

"In three months, more than my usual strength returned, and I had gained 15 pounds in weight.

"I finished the year's work without any kind of tonics—was not absent from duty even half a day.

"Am still in the best of health, with all who know me wondering at the improvement.

"I tell them all, 'Try Grape-Nuts!'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PUNISH STEVENSON FOR ACT AT INAUGURATION

Memorial Committee Turns Him Down for Chairman—Dr. Weber Tells of Incident.

"Stevenson is getting some of his own medicine," said Select Councilman W. H. Weber yesterday, after he had been elected chairman of the special committee on memorial and W. H. Stevenson had been defeated. This was the second experience of the kind that Stevenson has had within a week. He was turned down last week for the chairmanship by the special committee appointed to investigate the market house leases.

On both the memorial and market committees Stevenson claimed to be chairman because he was first named on the committees when they were appointed. Dr. Weber said the action of the memorial committee in turning down Stevenson was retaliation for an act committed by Stevenson on the day of the inauguration of Mayor Guthrie.

"I was named first on the special committee appointed to escort Mr. Guthrie to the council chamber to take the oath, and by custom was the chairman of the committee," said Mr. Weber. "Stevenson was appointed with me from select council, and, as the members of the committee were pushing their way through the crowd to reach the mayor's office, he said to me: 'You are the chairman of the committee, aren't you?' I replied I was, and then Stevenson button-holed two or three other members of the committee and had himself made chairman.

"I made no protest then because I did not want to create a scene in the crowd on such an occasion, and so let the incident pass. Today he claimed to be chairman of the memorial committee because he had been first named, forgetting how he had treated me."

Dr. Weber was elected chairman of the memorial committee yesterday upon motion of W. G. Liggett. He received the votes of the other members of the committee except Stevenson, the latter insisting he was chairman himself under the rules. When it was recalled that he was accused of making himself chairman of the escort committee at the inauguration of the mayor he replied he did not think that Dr. Weber would object.

Tech Beer

In the short time that Tech has been on the market it has won the undisputed leadership among light bottled beers—

There are reasons for this success

Finer malt and hops used in brewing Tech are not procurable.

Every brew is cooled in filtered air and never leaves the glass enameled tanks until it is properly aged.

Every bottle of Tech is sterilized.

These facts, coupled with the technical skill and extreme care exercised in every step of its production, gives Tech Beer that delicious flavor and exquisite taste that so delights and satisfies.

ROOSEVELT'S TAX PLAN DISCUSSED

Foraker Does Not Believe Ohio People Want Another Inheritance Tax.

NONE STRONG IN ADVOCACY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Will the forthcoming state conventions of the Republican party adopt a plank proposing a tax upon fortunes or a national inheritance tax along the lines suggested by President Roosevelt in his speech here on Saturday? That is a question that is now being discussed among the members of congress and leading politicians of many states. It is quite probable that the subject will come before the Pennsylvania state convention at Harrisburg on June 6. Whether it will be embodied in the platform is a question that has not yet been sufficiently considered to admit of a definite answer.

Col. W. R. Andrews, Republican state chairman of Pennsylvania, when asked today whether he thought the platform would embody the recent Roosevelt idea, said he was not prepared to make any prediction on the matter. A number of members from that state declined to discuss the question for publication. The truth is that the tax upon fortunes and the inheritance tax is a rather new and startling proposition and few men prominent in politics are prepared to express an intelligent opinion on the subject. It has rather been the policy in this country to place no bar upon ambition or put any obstacle in the way of human endeavor. The inheritance tax has been considered a state perquisite and the great outcry raised against the proposed income tax some years ago has served to relegate that question to the background for a long period.

A careful examination of the national platforms of the Republicans, Democratic and Peoples parties for 1904 fails to reveal any mention of this subject in any of them. Neither advocated an income tax, nor did it put forward the idea of taking any measures to limit the private fortunes of individuals.

In Ohio it is quite probable that the state convention in June will be confronted by the question of adopting a plank covering this subject. Senator Foraker, one of the conservative leaders in the senate, and who is being boomed by his friends for the presidential nomination in 1908, said today:

"I cannot undertake to say what the convention will do, but the people of Ohio have just got through an experience with an inheritance tax. On the face of the returns it does not appear that they think very well of a death tax. As I understand it, this new proposition is one to limit private fortunes. I do not believe the people of the country will approve of any plan to limit individual opportunity in any line of endeavor."

Other states will quite likely be called upon to wrestle with the question. In the agricultural states, where the wealth is more generally distributed and where fortunes are measured in smaller figures than elsewhere, the Roosevelt idea is certain to find support, but in the manufacturing districts and in the large financial centers, where millionaires are plenty and where every man hopes himself some day to be a millionaire, it will find less sympathy.

CITY'S FIRE BUREAU IS BENEFITED BY NEW LAW

Fire Engineers Must Take Out Licenses, Same as Men of Like Occupation in Civil Life.

No matter what kind of an administration may be in power, the new law requiring stationary engineers, in fact, all engineers who have charge of a boiler, to take out licenses in cities of the second class will inure to the betterment of the Pittsburgh fire service. This is the opinion of the chief engineer of the fire bureau, Miles S. Humphreys. The bureau of boiler inspection, recently established, has charge of the issuance of the licenses.

"It is a good thing for the fire bureau," said Humphreys yesterday. "It may surprise you to hear that for years hosemen and other firemen who have no qualifications of an engineer have been applicants for the positions of engineer with the fire bureau. The job pays more money than a fireman's job. Sometimes it has been difficult to resist the importunities of the men, especially when they had influential backing, although it is a fact that every man now in charge of a fire engine in Pittsburgh is competent, and every one of them is glad he can take out a license. The law makes no exceptions in favor of engineers on fire engines. All the engineers now employed will have to take out licenses and every man appointed in the future will have to have one."

NEW LINE TO BUTLER.

Local Capitalists Projecting Independent Trolley Road and Will Organize Holdings Company.

Local capitalists are preparing to apply for a charter for what is to be known as the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler & New Castle Railways Company, and which is to be the holdings company for a number of others which have secured charters and rights of way to New Castle and Butler. It is said the company will be independent of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, but the names of the proposed incorporators are being withheld. The line will start on East street, Allegheny, and extend to Perrysville, Wexford, Callery, Evans City, Butler, Harmony, Zelionople, Ellwood City and New Castle. Work will begin within a few weeks.

The companies which will be absorbed by the proposed holdings company are as follows: Pittsburgh & Harmony Railways Company, Thornhill Railways Company, Callery & Evans City Railways Company, Butler & Harmony Railways Company, New Castle & Harmony Railways Company and Ellwood City & Hazeldale Railways Company.

NOT LIKELY J. K. P. HALL WILL BE CANDIDATE

HARRISBURG, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—Senator J. K. P. Hall of Ridgway will not attend Wednesday's annual meeting of the state Democratic committee, of which he is chairman. Hall is still in France, with Mrs. Hall and daughter, and will not sail for home until next Monday. Before he went abroad, in December, Hall said he would not again be a candidate for the chairmanship. His friends here say, however, that if he will accept he will be re-elected.

Reception to Department Commander.

Alexander Hays Post, No. 3, Grand Army of the Republic, gave a reception last night to Department Commander J. Andrew Wilt of Towanda, Pa., and Assistant Adjutant General Charles A. Suydem of Philadelphia, in their lodge rooms, 314 and 316 Fifth avenue. The meeting was attended only by members of the several posts in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. Senior Vice Commander W. G. Bishop presided.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES.

The President sent the following nominations to the senate: Major general to be lieutenant general, Henry C. Corbin; associate justice of the supreme court of Oklahoma, Milton C. Garber. Postmasters: Pennsylvania—H. D. Patch, Wilmerding; C. W. Houser, Duryea; H. J. Williams, Fairchance. Ohio—C. M. Ingram, Marysville.

The supreme court of the United States dismissed for want of jurisdiction the case of J. N. Searle vs. the state of Georgia, involving the validity of the Georgia state law prohibiting the running of freight trains on Sunday.

In the supreme court Attorney Edmund F. Richardson of Denver, Col., entered a motion to advance the hearing in the cases of Charles H. Moyer, W. D. Haywood and George A. Pettibone, in custody in Idaho on the charge of assassinating former Gov. Steunenberg of that state.

The senate confirmed the following appointments: Charles H. Keating, Ohio, deputy auditor for the postoffice department; postmasters: Pennsylvania—A. J. Sutton, Smithfield; J. E. Strawn, Star Junction.

BANKERS' BILL PASSES HOUSE

Authorizes National Banks to Loan 10 Per Cent of Capital Stock and Surplus.

GRAHAM SPEAKS IN FAVOR

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A bill of special interest to banking interests passed the house today. It was introduced by Representative Shartel of Missouri and provides that a national bank may loan to any corporation or individual a maximum of 10 per cent of its unimpaired capital stock and 10 per cent of its surplus, provided that in no instance the loans exceed 20 per cent of the capital stock of the bank. This latter provision is inserted so that banks of small capital stock and large surplus may not loan out a large proportion of their surplus and thus the stockholders avoid responsibility under the provision that makes each stockholder liable for twice the amount of his stock holdings.

Robert Wardrop, representing the Pittsburgh clearing house was here recently working for the bill, and other Pittsburgh people have used their influence in that direction.

Representative Graham today made a few remarks in favor of it in the house, saying:

> This bill if passed will not increase the loans in national banks one-third, for the comptroller of the currency has stated that a great many of the banks have been so construing the law, as to permit them to loan on their surplus, as well as on their capital stock, but the comptroller has notified them that they are violating the law and they must discontinue this practice. Under this bill, if enacted into law, all national banks can in the future lawfully do what some of them at times have been doing in violation of law.
> While all the national banks in my county (Allegheny) desire the bill and the clearing house has petitioned for its passage, the business men are as much if not more interested, as is evidenced by the numerous letters I have received in its favor. Quite recently two of the large banks in Pittsburgh have been compelled to enlarge their capital stock by a stock dividend of a portion of their surplus, so as to enable them to legally give the necessary accommodation to some of the large corporations doing business with them.

DETECTIVES THINK THEY HAVE THE RIGHT WOMEN

One of the Two Arrested by Lally and McGough Wanted in New York. Said to Be Pickpocket.

Minnie Murphy is supposed to be the taller and thinner of the two women arrested by Detectives Lally and McGough, at least the New York police have identified the picture and Bertillion measurements of one of the women, and say there is a charge of picking a pocket to the tune of $350 against her. They are now getting requisition papers to take her back to New York. The other woman is still a mystery. She and her companion refuse to give their names, and the Murphy woman insists that the other ought to be released.

The detectives on Saturday afternoon saw one of the women make what they thought a quick but futile attempt to rob an old woman in Fifth avenue.

At that moment the women caught sight of the detectives and, as McGough says, "sized them up for cops." The women hurried onto a Bloomfield car, while the detectives boarded a Shady avenue car. Their car caught up to the other at Penn avenue and Twelfth street, and the detectives boarded it, standing on the crowded platform. The women got off at Twenty-eighth street and, seeing the detectives, went into a store and made inquiries as to a friend who, they said, lived in the neighborhood. They were indignant when the detectives accosted them and fought against arrest.

NAMES IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

Those Who Will Have Charge of Erecting New High School Building.

President D. L. Gillespie of the central board of education yesterday appointed one of the most important committees that body has had for many years. It is the committee that will have charge of the erection of the new high school building on the Magee site.

President Gillespie named as the committee John H. McIlroy, S. C. Jamison, T. B. Foley, George W. Gosser, W. H. McKelvey, W. T. Easton, F. B. Cameron, H. L. Reinecke and E. A. Sweeney.

EGG-ROLLING AT WHITE HOUSE WATCHED BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Special.)—Children of all ages and varieties, ranging from fashionably-clad youngsters to negro tots, gathered on the White house grounds, to the south of the executive mansion, today by thousands to take part in the annual egg-rolling. The President himself found time to break away from his office for a time and watch the children. Mrs. Roosevelt was also a spectator, and the Roosevelt children joined in the fun.

Plan Sabbath Observance Crusade.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Allegheny County Sabbath Observance association, of which the Rev. J. T. McCroty is chairman, was held yesterday morning at the Y. M. C. A. building for a discussion of plans for the coming year's work. A vigorous line of action will likely be outlined at coming meetings, and an effort will be made to interest city and county officials in the crusade against the desecration of the Sabbath.

Drawing Net About Rebaters.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 16.—All the 59 life insurance companies doing business in Pennsylvania have filed a written agreement in the insurance department of Pennsylvania pledging themselves to dismiss any agent or employe who violates the law prohibiting the giving of rebates.

Piles 14 Years.

Terrible Case Cured Painlessly With Only One Treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure.

Free Package in Plain Wrapper Mailed to Everyone Who Writes.

"I have been a terrible sufferer of piles for fourteen (14) years and during all this time you can have an idea of how many kinds of medicine I tried. But I found no relief whatever. I felt there must be something that could cure me without having to undergo an operation which might kill me.

"Now, after trying but one treatment of your 'Pyramids,' I am free, free to tell all sufferers of this dearful disease to try this medicine—the Pyramid Pile Cure. It will cure when all others fail. Sincerely yours, George Braneigh, Schellburg, Pa."

Anyone suffering from the terrible torture, burning and itching of piles, will get instant relief from the treatment we send out free, at our own expense, in plain sealed package, to everyone sending name and address.

Surgical operation for piles is unnecessary and rarely a permanent success. Here you can get a treatment that is quick, easy to apply and inexpensive, and free from the publicity and humiliation you suffer by doctors' examination.

Pyramid Pile Cure is made in the form of "easy to use" suppositories. The coming of a cure is felt the moment you begin to use it, and your suffering ends.

Send your name and address at once to Pyramid Drug Co., 3561 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and get, by return mail, the treatment we will send you free, in plain, sealed wrapper.

After seeing for yourself what it can do, you can get a regular, full-size package of Pyramid Pile Cure from any druggist at 50 cents each, or on receipt of price, we will mail you same ourselves if he should not have it.

Good Food Is the Secret of Health.

In a Kernel of Wheat Nature Provides Every Necessary Food Element.

The human body constantly consumes the vital elements of which it is composed, just as fire consumes fuel. And, just as fire dies without fuel, so does the body die unless replenished with its elements.

There are fourteen of these essential elements, and as each is consumed the body must be replenished if life and strength are to be sustained. This is the secret of health.

The air supplies the oxygen which the body needs, but all the other elements must be derived from our food. These are just as important as oxygen, and we cannot exaggerate the importance of selecting food which provides all the nutrition so necessary to life and health.

Some foods contain nitrogen. These are tissue-building foods. Some foods contain carbon and hydrogen. These are force and heat-making foods. Some foods contain phosphorus, potash or others of the vital elements.

Nature has given us one food that contains all these elements of life. This is wheat, and when it is prepared as Malta-Vita there is no other food so rich in all the nourishment needed by the body; no other so easily digested.

Malta-Vita is the whole of the best white wheat, thoroughly cooked and steamed, freely mixed with pure barley malt extract, then rolled into little wafer flakes and baked crisp and brown. The malt extract converts the starch of the cooked wheat into maltose, or malt sugar. Physicians recommend maltose, and Malta-Vita is rich in it.

Malta-Vita is always absolutely clean food, and just as delicious as healthful. Try some today with milk, cream or fruit. You never tasted anything quite so good. Ready to eat. All grocers. Now 10 cents.

Great Relief

During that trying period in which women so often suffer from nervousness, backache, sick headache, or other pains, there is nothing that can equal Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They stop the pains, soothe the nerves, and give to the relief so much desired. If taken on first indication of pain or misery, they will allay the irritable condition of the nerves, and save you further suffering. Those who use them at regular intervals have ceased to dread these periods. They contain no harmful drugs, and leave no effect upon the heart or stomach if taken as directed. They give prompt relief.

"I have been an invalid for 9 years. I have neuralgia, rheumatism and pains around the heart. By using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I am relieved of the pain, and get sleep and rest. I think had I known of the Pain Pills when I was first taken sick, they would have cured me. I recommend them for periodic pains."
MRS. HENRY FUNK, E. Akron, O.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money.

Delinquent Contractors
Cause Our Loss and Your Gain

We planned to move last month. We felt sure of being in our new building across the street two weeks ago. But contractors cannot always carry out their promises. That's why we are helpless to take care of the huge shipments of Furniture and Carpets that have come and are coming for the new store. Our warehouse is filled to the limit, so we simply had to take these new goods, fresh from the factory, and sacrifice them at removal sale prices. Everything in the store has been marked down to 66⅔ cents on the dollar. Every piece of furniture, every yard of carpet is yours at One-Third Off during this Gigantic Removal Sale.

Spear's Refrigerator $6.50

This refrigerator is of good size and well finished. It has zinc lined interior, and is easily cleaned, thus insuring its absolute sanitary condition. Not only is it sanitary, but it is a great ice-saver, which means much to the housewife. It is made with removable ice chamber and removable shelves. It is great value at the price quoted. It sells regularly for $10, but during this sale it is yours for

SPECIAL ELECTION NOTICE.
INCREASE OF BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF THE BOROUGH OF EMSWORTH.
NOTICE.

To the Electors of the Borough of Emsworth: Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an ordinance duly approved on the 6th day of April, A. D. 1906, an election will be held on Tuesday, the 22nd day of May, A. D. 1906, at the regular voting place of the said borough of Emsworth, between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m., to obtain the assent of the electors to an increase of the bonded indebtedness of said borough in the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000.00), or such portion thereof as may be necessary for the following purposes, to-wit:

For sewer improvements for house drainage purposes	$25,000 00
For street improvements	8,000 00
For funding certain outstanding floating indebtedness, to-wit; For note due Real Estate Savings and Trust Company of Allegheny	2,000 00

STATEMENT.

The percentage of the proposed increase to the last assessed valuation is 4.503 per cent., making a total indebtedness, including this increase, of 6.368 per cent of the last assessed valuation.

Last assessed valuation	$777,245 00
Gross amount of existing debt	16,500 00
The amount of the proposed increase, including the two thousand dollars ($2,000 00) of floating indebtedness, which is included in the gross amount of existing debt, is	35,000 00
The total amount of indebtedness, if the increase is carried out, will be	49,500 00

The purposes for increasing the said debt are as above stated.

The above proposition will be submitted to the electors of the borough of Emsworth at the said election in such a manner that each and every elector will have opportunity to vote for or against the said proposition to increase the debt for the purposes above named.

By order of council.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

By BURTON E. STEVENSON,

Author of "The Holladay Case," "Cadets of Gascony," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt & Co.

"That's it—give a dog a bad name. See here, Mr. Godfrey, you don't believe I'd be such a damned fool as to put a man out with a woman watchin' me do it?"

"I don't know what to think," answered Godfrey, slowly. "It doesn't seem quite like you, Jimmy."

"Like me! I should say not! And if I was crazy enough to do a thing like that, would I go back to Pete Magraw's and hang around there, waitin' for the police to come after me? If you think I'd do a thing like that, you'd better send me to Bellevue and be done with it!"

"I was expecting that argument, Jimmy," said Simmonds, still smiling. "You're a deep one!"

Jimmy threw up his hands again.

"Of course!" he cried. "You win; I lose! If I'd run away, it 'd be a confession of guilt; if I stay, it's because I'm a deep un! Oh, it's lots of justice I'll get! Well, go ahead. Go ahead and prove it! I'll prove an alibi."

"Oh, I know you've got that all fixed, Jimmy," retorted Simmonds. "I expected that—I knew you'd think of that, right away. Who'll swear to it? Magraw?"

Jimmy's face was growing flushed; his temper was getting the better of him, which, perhaps, was just what Simmonds wanted.

"Magraw got a share of that last deal, didn't he?" he continued imperturbably. "Naturally, he's grateful. But you ought to have waited a little, Jimmy—you really ought. When was it you got back?"

"Yesterday," answered Jimmy sullenly. He evidently realized the danger of losing his temper and managed to control himself.

"And after an absence of two years! Come, Jimmy," pursued Simmonds persuasively, "what did you do it for? Was it a plant?"

Jimmy relieved his feelings by some vigorons swearing.

"I didn't do it, and you know it!" he shouted. "You know it! Only you've got t' do somethin'—you've got t' make a showin' so's th' people 'll think they're gittin' somethin' for their money when th' papers puff you. I know th' game! Oh, come," and he stopped himself abruptly. "What's th' use? Are you goin' t' lock me up?"

"I'm afraid I'll have to," said Simmonds regretfully.

"Then, for God's sake, do it. When's this identification-long-lost-orphan scene goin' t' take place?"

"Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Don't you feel a little nervous about it, Jimmy?"

"Not a damn bit!" retorted Jimmy. "But say—you might tell me her name—I'd like t' know who this posey is that says I did it. While she was about it, I don't see why she didn't give you my address."

"I don't think she has the honor of your acquaintance, Jimmy. You see, she doesn't move in just your circle. I warn you her word will count more with a jury than your's and Magraw's together."

"Well, who is she?" repeated Jimmy impatiently.

"She's Miss Croydon—sister-in-law of Dickie Delroy."

The prisoner's mouth fell open, his color changed . . .

"What!" he gasped. "What!"

Then his jaws snapped shut.

"Well," inquired Simmonds, "what 've you got to say?"

"Nothin'," answered Jimmy sullenly. "Not a damn word. Lock me up, if you're goin' to."

Simmonds laughed.

"All right. I thought I could take some of the ginger out of you."

"Lock me up, will you?" repeated Jimmy fiercely. "Come, now; lock me up."

Simmonds shrugged his shoulders and turned toward the door.

Godfrey, looking at the prisoner, noted his ruffled brow and troubled eyes. Plainly, Jimmy wanted an opportunity to arrange his thoughts—but what was there in the mere mention of Miss Croydon's name that should so disturb him? What connection could there be between them?

CHAPTER VI.

Light from a New Angle.

It was long past midnight when Godfrey dropped from the top of the Record building in the express elevator and walked over to the station of the Elevated for the trip uptown. The story was written—it would be the feature of the morning's paper, and it would be illustrated "exclusively"—but he was not wholly satisfied with it. He had accepted the explanation given by Miss Croydon, yet he felt instinctively that it did not explain—that there was much below the surface of which he had caught only the faintest glimpse and which he was utterly unable to decipher. He did not at all believe—and he took care that the readers of the Record should have no cause to believe—that Miss Croydon was in any way directly connected with the crime. Indeed, there was every evidence that she had, in that particular, spoken the truth.

And in the other particulars? Well, it was hard to separate the wheat from the chaff; hard to tell where truth left off and invention began. Some foundation of truth the story must have had, or it would not have been told so glibly nor appear so plausible. Indeed, in two details, it had been confirmed by other evidence—they had found the pipe with which the blow was struck and the bullet from her pistol embedded in the door.

Below it all, underlying it all, the foundation upon which the mystery rested was Miss Croydon's motive in making such an appointment, and, above all, in keeping it. That was a thing utterly opposed to her social training, to her maidenly instinct—it was wild, foolish, questionable. She would feel this more acutely than a man could, and yet it had not been sufficient to deter her, to hold her back. What resistless motive was it that had urged her on? What was the secret contained in the papers she had hoped to get from Thompson? Godfrey caught a dim glimpse of something dark, repulsive, terrible. What was the secret? Ah, he would have known, if Goldberg had only been a moment later!

As to Jimmy the Dude, Godfrey had maintained a careful reticence, while commending Simmonds' promptness in arresting him. Simmonds, no doubt, believed him guilty; but then Simmonds lacked imagination. It might be, Godfrey thought a little savagely, that he himself possessed too much of it, but the theory which that grizzled veteran had built up so adroitly did not in the least satisfy him. It was too prosaic, too matter-of-fact; reasonable, perhaps, but not convincing. It reduced the mystery to a mere sordid crime. Godfrey wanted colour in his mysteries—and right there, he reminded himself again, was his great weakness. Yet Jimmy's manner had not been that of a guilty man; to be sure, it had changed at the last moment, at the mention of Miss Croydon's name. Why? What was this wide-stretching net of intrigue, woven in the dark, involving alike Fifth avenue and the "Tenderloin"—the Delroy mansion, the Marathon, Magraw's gilded saloon?

Pondering this puzzle, with an intensity that had something poignant and personal in it, he would have been carried past his station but for the guard, who knew him, and who touched him on the arm. He went mechanically down the stair and turned up toward the avenue. Still mechanically, he mounted to his rooms and opened the door. A man who had been sitting in a chair before the fire sprang up as he entered.

"Why, Jack!" cried Godfrey, waking suddenly, and he held out his hand with that fine heartiness of greeting which is sometimes seen between men. Then, as he caught the other's eyes, his face changed. "Sit down," he said gently, "till I get out of these damp togs. Then we'll have a talk."

He disappeared into the inner room, while the younger man sank back into his chair and gazed gloomily into the fire. Even strained by emotion as it was at this moment, his face was worth looking at—clear-cut, square-jawed, alert—such as one has come of late years to associate with the typical college-bred American. But the face was more than merely handsome—it was open, ingenious, winning—and looking at it, one could understand without further explanation how it happened that John Tolbert Drysdale had so many friends and so few enemies.

Godfrey was back in a moment, drew up another chair, and got out tobacco and pipes—for Drysdale a glossy briar, consecrated to his service; for himself a meerschaum of a deep and tender brown, bespeaking years of loving usage. Not until the pipes were going nicely did Godfrey speak.

"You've heard about it, then?" he asked.

DENATURIZED ALCOHOL BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Tillman Offers Resolution in Senate to Investigate National Bank Campaign Gifts

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The house today by a vote of 224 to seven passed the bill permitting the withdrawal from bond, tax free, of domestic alcohol when rendered unfit for beverage or liquid medicinal uses by mixture with suitable denaturing materials.

The house also passed the bill amending the national trade mark law, and the bill forbidding the importation and carriage in interstate commerce of falsely stamped articles of gold or other precious metals, and the bill to extend the time when the coast wise shipping laws shall go into effect in the Philippines.

A speech on the railroad rate bill by Mr. Heyburn of Idaho, in advocacy of his court review amendment, led to more than two hours' technical debate in the senate today. The Indian appropriation bill was taken up for committee amendments, but was not completed, and consideration of this measure will be resumed tomorrow.

Mr. Tillman of South Carolina, offered a resolution providing for an inquiry by the committee on finance of contributions by national banks to campaign committees.

PAWNEE BILL COMING.

His Great Wild West and Far East Show Billed for Three Days in Pittsburgh.

Maj. Gordon W. Lillie's monster Pawnee Bill Wild West entertainment, one of the oldest and most reliable tent shows in the country, is always welcomed in Pittsburgh. If time is a test of merit, Pawnee Bill, the pioneer Wild West magnate, must be accepted as possessing to a great extent more elements of greatness than any other showman on the road.

Pawnee Bill claims to be the longest established summer showman, to have exhibited to more people and to have traveled over more territory than any of the others. He says his is the only one of the "Big Shows" that remains under the original management that brought it out. Twenty years is a long time for any enterprise to remain intact, and more particularly one in the tented amusement field—and that is universally conceded to be extremely hazardous.

That Pawnee Bill has done all this and still occupies the high place he does, can be accepted as fairly conclusive evidence that his enterprise possesses merit of a high character. His big show will exhibit in Pittsburgh on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 30 and May 1 and 2.

PREPARING MILL PLANS.

Crucible Steel Company Arranging for Railway Springs Department.

It was announced yesterday that plans are under consideration by officials of the Crucible Steel Company for the erection of the proposed new plant for the manufacture of railway springs. This plant will be built next to the Crescent works in Forty-eighth street.

The announcement was made several weeks ago that the company proposed to take this step, which is in measure due to the fact that the principal railway springs interest had withdrawn its patronage for raw material from the Crucible company and that the establishment of a springs department would absorb this output profitably.

AUDIENCE VIEWS SHOW FROM THEATER WINGS

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 16.—(Special.)—A portion of tonight's audience in the Broadway theater this city, viewed the performance of "The Clansman" from the stage wings. At 7 o'clock all seats in the immense playhouse were sold. At 8 o'clock the fire officials announced unless the aisles were cleared of the standers the curtain would not be permitted to go up. To obviate the emergency persons standing were invited to go upon the stage to enjoy the novel experience of seeing a theatrical performance from the wings.

AT THE PLAY LAST NIGHT

Nixon—John Drew in "De Lancey."

In the trade of acting Mr. John Drew enjoys a certain polished proficiency that gives him a distinction above many of his fellows. He is an actor by inheritance, as well as by acquired gifts of no small consequence. While other players have labored to reach some peculiarly histrionic goal, like tragedy or comedy or romantics, Mr. Drew has contented himself with reflecting the modern gentleman under more or less normal circumstances. Specifically, Mr. Drew is the one actor on our native stage who has maintained a certain standard of clever dressing, clever deportment, clever vocal distinctness and the walk and bearing of a man supposed to be bred under the modern social and mental conditions of America. This means that Mr. Drew's range is narrow, but its proficiency is broad and polished. It means, also, that Mr. Drew is no longer a "hack" workman. While he has in the past dipped into the classics and taken a whirl at light comedy, and in "Rosemary" played a very old and doddering man, he must, because of his "fitness," have plays of a certain style. This explains the present play, "DeLancey," which was revealed at the Nixon theater last night, and which I am sure the moderate sized audience enjoyed very much. Mr. Charles Frohman orders Mr. Drew's dramatic clothes for him year after year. This season the tailor is an American, and a good tailor, too, but hitherto his garments have been of rural extraction, and, for less definitely fixed dramatic bodies. "De Lancey" shows Mr. Thomas' wit in its lines, but it also shows unfamiliarity with social distinctions as they are supposed to exist in New York. Perhaps we people who live in the provinces do not fully appreciate the variations of Gotham society; but Mr. Thomas rather confuses us by mixing up old families who live in historic homes, florists who send their daughters to tend shop and young ladies who smoke cigarets. "De Lancey" is so confusing. The outlines are not distinct, and it has an abrupt fashion of beginning and ending. Jim De Lancey is a divorced man. He loves the girl who was a child pet to him when he was married. She is now grown up and engaged to his friend, a doctor. Her name was mixed up in the divorce proceedings, which De Lancey's wife brought, and the play opens with the obvious inference that he is in love with her. The girl's father has heard and is coming on from St. Louis to discover the true state of affairs. The girl really loves De Lancey and not her fiance, and goes to the former's rooms at night and bluntly tells him so. At this De Lancey, in order not to be a "cad," fibs and tells the girl there is another woman. The doctor in the meantime meets a florist's daughter, whose memory he has carried in his heart for five years. She is a friend of his fiance's but he doesn't know it. The affair cuts the gordian knot, for he refuses to have the engagement announced, De Lancey gets the right girl in the end and everything winds up as it should.

I may be stupid, but this plot seems to me to be far fetched and rather attenuated. There are times when the threads fall to the ground, and Mr. Thomas resorts to weak devices to knit them together. An Irish serving man is sent on an errand with some violets by De Lancey in the first act, and the audience forgets all about him, until he turns up drunk in the last act, and proves a pivot on which the happy ending of the story revolves. There is also introduced a breezy sort of gentleman who has some big Japanese war scheme up his sleeve, and while no one is permitted to understand what he is driving at, he, too, figures importantly in the landing of the plot. The play was evidently written to order. There is an air of unreality and haste about its plot that leaves one unsatisfied, but there are two or three things that ought to make it welcome.

In the first place it gives us John Drew's polished comedy. He is of yore. The same uplifting of the eyes and the same chuckle. His ease is as great and his mastery of the perfect forms of stage deportment as complete and confident as ever. Miss Margaret Dale as Jacqueline Marble, the girl in the case, is charming personally, though her acting is somewhat retarded by affectations, of which an unfortunate drawl is by no means a small part. Miss Doris Keane is fresh and natural, and acts with spirit as the florist's daughter. Kate Meek is so fine an old actress that one need not be told that she is delightful as Aunt Ruth. Walter Hale has recovered from his recent hurt and plays the doctor lover in manly fashion. Guy Nichols does the drunken servant with fine realism and much humor, while the rest of the cast is equal to the demands. The second good thing about the play is its bright wit and cynicism, mostly put into Mr. Drews' mouth. "Five thousand a year," declares De Lancey, "why that means one maid and cracked wheat for breakfast." Again: "Who brought you the whisky?" "My friends," said De Lancey. "But why did they bring it?" "Because they are my friends," said the same De Lancey. All through the talky acts Mr. Thomas has scattered firecrackers of repartee that some times bursts into regular roman candle brilliancy and rapidity. These things kept the audience laughing, and "got over the footlights" every time, if the plot didn't always.

The third and last reason why "De Lancey" should be welcome by patrons of the Nixon is because it is the first play that theater has had for three weeks.

CHARLES M. BREGG.

Belasco—"Princess Beggar."

Pittsburgh theatergoers last night got an early glimpse of a next season's success in Edward Paulton and Alfred G. Robyn's novel comic opera, "The Princess Beggar," which is the offering at the Belasco this week. This sounds like an extraxagant statement, but it was the verdict of last night's audience at the Belasco, and since the piece possesses many of the elements of real merit, it is a pretty safe augury that "The Princess Beggar" will have a long and successful run. The opera is only a few weeks old and comes in from a run "on the dog," but everwhere it has met with an instant response from the front rows—a response that will have a realistic echo in the metropolis. "The Princess Beggar" was written for Miss Paula Edwardes. It came as a compliplent—a double compliment—for the chorus girl star, and it gives her some exceptional opportunities—less of the grotesque and more of the center of the stage than her previous former vehicles. It is above any comparison with the vapid "Winsome Winnie" with which Miss Edwardes struggled for two years or more.

But "The Princess Beggar's" success is largely due to the fact that the star has been surrounded by an exceptionally strong company, and this is said in no spirit of disparagement to Miss Edwardes. The opera abounds in good things and opportunities for every voice, for every funny man and for pretty women and deep-voiced men in the chorus. Miss Edwardes is the Miss Edwardes of the childish pranks, the demure smile and the far away voice, just as she always has been. She has three or four good songs which score a hit through the backing of a thoroughly competent chorus and the introduction of some novel stage effects. But Miss Edwardes is inimitable by being just Paula Edwardes, which means good nature and jolly merriment.

Miss Julia Frary is a beautiful young woman who sings with charming grace and who has a captivating voice, especially in a duet with Douglas Ruthven, a singer himself of no small note. Stanley H. Forde's deep bass voice is not new, either, and his solos have a stirring ring. Eddie Garvey as the fat king of Vagaria has some original comedy in the king business, and there is a brand new court chamberlain in the funny work of Edward M. Favor. Bertram Wallis with a graceful stage presence for matinee purposes is less favored for singing possibilities. Altogether "The Princess Beggar" is one of the new things that deserves success. There is much catchy music and the piece is well mounted. There are several opportunities for topical hits in the songs but these are yet to be added.

Alvin James O'Neil—"Monte Cristo."

With new scenery, new costumes, new electrical effects and every character in capable hands, Mr. James O'Neill opened his farewell engagement in "Monte Cristo" at the Alvin last evening. The audience was the largest seen at the Alvin this season and was enthusiastic and generous in its applause. At the end of the fourth act, after many encores Mr. O'Neill made a short speech, in which he said:

"My dear friends, you have applauded me many times and I have thanked you many times. You know that even if I cannot put my thanks into words it is in my heart."

Time has dealt kindly with this sterling actor; his eye is as bright, his step as elastic and he is as dexterous in sword play as ever. James O'Neill is to Monte Cristo" what Robert Mantell was to "The Corsican Brothers" or Joseph Jefferson to "Rip."

Those deserving special mention are Bart Wallace, Charles Stevens and John H. Greene. Among the ladies Miss Kate Fletcher, who has been associated with Mr. O'Neill for the past 14 years, carries off the dramatic honors as Carconto. Miss Abigail Marshall makes a very pleasing Mercedes and gets as much out of the part as any of her predecessors.

Grand—Excellent Vaudeville Bill.

Vocalism, dramatics, animal sagacity and Irish wit mingle in such excellent proportions at the Grand this week that the result produces one of the best and most varied bills of vaudeville that Manager Davis has presented for some time. It would be a little difficult to decide with impartial accuracy just where the chief honors of the program belongs. Will Cressy's humorously pathetic little sketch, "Bill Biffin's Baby," is crowded pretty close in interest by an Irish sketch given by Callahan and Mack. Callahan's character work is one of the best things of the kind vaudeville has to offer, and the impression it has made is the basis for a proposed starring tour of this team next year in a play which a Pennsylvanian, Dan Hart, will write. Cressy's New England character, however, remains an almost perfect piece of work. Further difficulty is reached in deciding the Grand headliner by the introduction of a trained musical horse by the Rossis, which has all the other trained horses faded from the map. This particular horse, a beautiful bay, plays musical instruments with surprising skill and accuracy of time, and actually blows a horn. Of course not with note variations, but he blows, all right. It is a wonderful and beautiful act. George Munroe, "Aunt Bridget," kept the audience roaring with a description of how he was dressed by the friendly aid of a thin woman, and the entanglements with a street car and automobile later. Munroe's humor is irresistible and his monologue is new.

Pretty Louise Gunning doesn't belong 'way down here in this review. Her Scotch songs are sung with a remarkably sweet voice of great range and susceptible of much shading. Miss Gunning has acquired some mannerisms since she sang here last, but her act is one of the most attractive vocally in the bill. Hardly second was the singing of Miss Charlotte Ravenscroft, who added her own violin solo, well executed. Ford and Gehrue are back in vaudeville after a starring venture and pleased immensely with their singing and dancing. Saylor and Barbaretto caught attention with a singing act in which the eyes of the young lady and the catchiness of a song about their changeableness figured largely. Wilton brothers have a fine horizontal bar act. The Sawadas are Japanese foot and hand jugglers of great skill. The foot juggling of the woman was especially good, and the presence of two little Japanese tots on the stage added picturesqueness to the scene. Mr. and Mrs. Galata, Brown and Bentley, Hathaway and Seigel and the Trillers, in a novel act of making pictures out of rags, complete the bill.

Empire—"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

One of the largest audiences of the season was present in the Empire theater last night at the opening performance of Uncle Tom's Cabin. The play was produced by an all white company, and this was the drawing card to the performance. The cast included 35 people, and never within the past 10 years has this play been produced as it was last night. The play opened with the winter of 1858, showing Uncle Tom's cabin on the Shelby plantation in Kentucky, and as the scenes shifted the audience was thrilled with the bloodhounds tracking Eliza, as she was making her way to freedom. The Ohio river in midwinter and the snow scene set the audience in a frenzy. The slave mart in New Orleans, Uncle Tom receiving his death blow, and Eva in the "Golden Realms," with the beautiful electrical settings, was a fitting conclusion to the greatest scenic Uncle Tom's Cabin that has been seen in Pittsburgh since Al Martin was here last.

Miss May Warrington as Topsy, Wood Van as Uncle Tom and Joe Winters as Marks, called forth the applause of the audience. The acting of Fred R. Wagner as Simon Legree, and Mrs. Margaret Regan as Eliza were also features of the performance.

Gayety—"Knights of the Red Garter."

Everyone who has attended burlesque theaters during the last decade knows about John E. Cain's stovepipe rat-trap. It must be 15 years since John began explaining its advantages afternoon and nightly, so that we have all learned the words by heart. The trap is a "shine." Live rats came out on the stage at the Gayety last night and dared Cain to catch them. Nothing doing. A big one circled Blanche Newcombe's feet when she was singing and Blanche never lifted a skirt. She had none on (boy's specialty is her turn). Another one came out to get closer view of the Tod Judd Family acrobatic act. The drummer made a pass at it and it jumped into Box A right. Box full of ladies. Mercy me! Although the Knights of the Red Garter program is quite sensational enough, the rats added some. Two gay boys go out for enjoyment and have an awful time squaring things with their wives. That's what the fun and excitement is all about in the burlesques. The usual chorus of pretty girls is there, of course. In the olio, there is Blanche Newcombe, as Buster Brown; Idylia Vyner, songster; the Bison City Trio, in song and fun; Van Brothers, in musical comedy; John Cain and Harry Evans, who didn't catch the rats, and the Todd Judd Family of Acrobats, specially engaged for the week.

Academy—W. B. Watson's Burlesquers.

The big Academy audiences at the matinee and night performances yesterday were entertained by the Watson's Burlesquers who are the week's attraction there. Mr. Watson is the star which means that German comedy is the feature of the performance. Watson is right at home there, and his line of humor pleased the crowd immensely. But there are others. There is Swan and Bambord who do funny stunts in the acrobatic line. There is Ermame Stuart, who has dancing down near perfection. There is Madge Ringle, who dances and sings; Lizette Howe, comedienne, and the Yamamoto brothers, great Japanese wire and perch performers. And there are the girls, who sing and skip through the musical numbers in a pleasing way, and only leave the stage long enough to change costumes. Watson is a good one, but he has several good ones with him, so the performance, as a whole, is about as good as they come.

Bijou—Billy B. Van as "The Errand Boy."

This well-chorused comedy in which Billy Van is starring has been seen in this city, is at the Bijou this week and pleased two large audiences yesterday. There are two Vans in comedy. This is the "white face" Van, and in "The Errand Boy" he makes a lot of fun, which his present large company help along. It is conventional musical comedy put forward well and sung and acted well in the main. An improvement decidedly over drab dramatics.

Miss Olga Nethersole.

Miss Olga Nethersole, after an absence of four years, comes to the Nixon next Monday night for a week, and will appear in "The Labyrinth," "Carmen" and "Sapho," offering as her chief novelty "The Labyrinth," adapted by W. L. Countney from the French original of Paul Hervieu. This is the play which when produced at the Comedie Francaise, won for its author an election to the Academy of Forty (the immortals).

"The Prince Chap."

Cyril Scott will return to the Belasco next week for a special limited engagement of five nights and Wednesday afternoon in "The Prince Chap," Edward Peple's beautiful play that had such a splendid engagement at the Belasco earlier this season. The company that will be seen in Pittsburgh next week is the original one that attained such a record at the Madison Square theater, New York. Miss Grayce Scott is now appearing in her original role of Claudia in the last act, formerly played by Ethel Clifton.

"York State Folks."

Next Monday evening at the Alvin theater will bring Fred S. Wright's beautiful pastoral comedy, "York State Folks," back to Pittsburgh for a special return engagement of one week. The cast remains the same and includes James Lackaye, Ray L. Royce, Harry Crosby, Eleanor Sidman, Millie Stevens, Virginia Ackerman and some 30 others. The scenic production is all new, having been built expressly for the New York run just ended.

Vaudeville Next Week.

McMahon's Minstrel Misses and Watermelon Girls, nine captivating maids, are in next week's bill at the Grand. It is an unique act and abounds with songs, dances and specialties. James J. Morton, the monologist; John Hyams and Leila McIntyre, the Three Dumonds, the Five Provenianas, and Emil Hoch, Jane Elton and company in "Mlle. Ricci," are others.

GAMES TODAY.

Cincinnati at Exposition park, St. Louis at Chicago, New York at Brooklyn, Boston at Philadelphia.

The baseball season in Pittsburgh will begin today at Exposition park. The Cincinnati Reds will be the opponents of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Everything excepting the weather has been arranged for. The re-organized Pittsburgh team came home yesterday from its five weeks' trip to the south, and enjoyed a spirited practice at Exposition Park. The Cincinnati club, which this year is managed by Ned Hanlon, famous for developing pennant winners at Baltimore and Brooklyn, spent the day at home, but will arrive early this morning and make his headquarters at the Annex Hotel. The Reds are coming to stay until Saturday night, so Hanlon will have his entire team. This includes the well-known pitchers, Ewing of spit-ball fame; Jake Weimer, who was with Chicago last year, and always a trouble-maker for Pittsburgh; Overall, the California giant; Harper, Chech, Gus Dorner and others. Charley Carr, the big first baseman, who was with the Cleveland American league team last year, is at the initial bag. Jack Berry, who made a good showing in that position last season, is doing general utility roles and at present is subbing for Joe Kelley in left field. Kelley, however, may play in the games here. Delehanty, who was with Boston last season, is at third for the Reds. He always was a good sticker and Hanlon thinks he has more than ordinary fielding ability. The other members of the team are well-known to the patrons of the game in Pittsburgh. They include Cy Seymour, champion batsman of the league; Tommy Corcoran, Miller Huggins, Odwell, Eddie Phelps and Admiral Schlei.

Who will pitch for the Pirates is a question. Manager Clarke was unable to answer last night. He has three men in view: Phillippe, Willis and Leever. The choice will probably fall on Phillippe, although Willis is a possibility. Gibson will be the catcher. For Cincinnati it will be either Overall or Ewing, with the chances in favor of Overall. Eddie Phelps, the ex-Pirate, will no doubt do the catching.

As usual, a parade will precede the opening game. It will leave the Annex hotel, Penn avenue and Sixth street, at 1 o'clock, and will cover the following route: Penn avenue to Ninth street, to Liberty avenue, to Wood street, to Fifth avenue, to Grant street, to Third avenue, to Wood street, to Fifth avenue, to Market street, to Sixth street, to bridge, to Federal street, to Robinson street, to Exposition Park. The Grand Army band will lead the procession, and at the park the band will give a concert before the game.

Spectators will see a change at the park. New bleachers have been erected, and the field is now surrounded by seats, with the exception of a strip along the right field fence. The stands were thoroughly overhauled and repainted.

The game will begin at 3 o'clock and indications are that a monster crowd will be in attendance. Never before have so many tickets been sold.

President Harry C. Pulliam of the National league will be present, but August Herrmann wired last night that he could not leave with the team. He promised to come for one of the other series between the Reds and Pirates.

The entire second tier of private boxes at the Grand tonight have been reserved for the members of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati baseball clubs, and the sporting writers of the Pittsburgh newspapers, who will be guests of Manager Harry Davis at the vaudeville.

CINCINNATI REDS WIN THEIR GAME IN ONE INNING

CINCINNATI, April 16.—Cincinnati won today's game from Chicago by scoring three runs in the eighth ining, the bases being full when the third man was retired. Harper was hit harder than Lundgren, but managed to keep the safeties well scattered. Carr was hit on the head with a pitched ball in the eighth, but not seriously injured. Chance and Evers were ordered off the field in the ninth for disputing a decision. Attendance, 2,000. Score:

PHILLIES AGAIN DEFEAT THE NEW YORK GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Philadelphia defeated New York today principally through the effective pitching of Lush of the home team. He was very erratic, giving 11 bases on balls, but was practically unhittable when men were on the bases. The visitors put up a rather unsteady game. Attendance 14,149. Score:

BASEBALL NOTES.

The game will begin at 3 o'clock.

Neither Leach nor Beaumont will play today.

The Reds won their game yesterday in one inning.

The Phillies won by scoring two runs in the sixth inning.

After today the games at Exposition park will begin at 3:30.

Sentille, Philadelphia's new man, is making good at third base.

Bransfield got only one hit yesterday, but it was a two-bagger.

Last season the Cincinnati Reds won only three games at Pittsburgh.

President Dreyfuss was a busy man yesterday arranging the free pass list.

Those who saw Nealon, the new first baseman, say he looks like a ball player all over.

In 1904 the Reds opened the season at Pittsburgh and lost 6 to 5. Next day they won, 18 to 4.

A feature of yesterday's transaction was the fact that Shorty Slagle had a row of ciphers at Cincinnati.

Schutte of the Chicagos yesterday made a single, a double, and a triple. He got the only big hits at Cincinnati.

New York will be near home today, the Giants playing the Brooklyns. Last season the champions lost only three games at Brooklyn.

Lush yesterday made a new season's record by giving 11 bases on balls. He equaled another by striking out 10 New York batsmen.

The first game at Philadelphia last season between the Phillies and Beaneaters resulted in a tie after 10 innings, each side scoring three runs.

Chicago will open the season at home today with the St. Louis Cardinals. Last season the Cardinals lost all four games of the first series in the Windy city.

The western teams of the American league will open the season today—Chicago at Detroit and Cleveland at St. Louis. The eastern teams opened on Saturday.

SHADYSIDE GRADS. BEATEN. SHULTZ PITCHES FINE BALL

The Shadyside academy nine defeated a strong team composed of former Shadyside players yesterday afternoon, 9 to 8. The winning run was scored in the last inning by Charles Babst bunting, permitting Miller to score. Capt. Laily tried out Burgwin and Sutton and they did fairly well. Babst played left field.

Twing Brooks, who pitched on the last championship baseball team Shayside had, was on the slab for the former students. Brooks is now a freshman at Yale. He showed yesterday that he has not lost any of his old-time cunning, despite an absence from the rubber. The score:

UP RIVER BOROUGHS ARE ASKED TO HELP

Health Commissioner Dixon Urges That Typhoid Bacilli Be Killed in Sick Room.

Fifty-two cases of typhoid fever were reported to the bureau of health yesterday, the reports including cases that developed on Sunday. This average of 26 a day is lower than the rate a week ago, but the situation is still serious. Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, the state health commissioner, is so much impressed with the gravity of the epidemic that yesterday he sent out a letter to the boards of health of the towns on the Allegheny river above Pittsburgh.

In his letter Dr. Dixon says he realizes that the towns cannot immediately discontinue discharging their sewage into the river, but he calls attention to the fact that the typhoid bacilli, which ordinarily enter the sewage system, can be killed by disinfection in the houses where patients are. With the letter is enclosed a copy of the regulations of the department for the sanitary control of typhoid fever, and nurses and doctors are urged to conform to the rules.

"By so doing many human lives in Pittsburgh will be saved," writes Dr. Dixon.

Among the towns to which the health commissioner addressed his letters were Aspinwall, Cheswick, Tarentum, Brackenridge, Verona, Oakmont, Natrona, Springdale, Parnassus, New Kensington, Arnold, Freeport, Kittanning and Manorville.

CANNOT GET ENOUGH ICE.

Striking Icemen Forced to Bring It from Distance—Companies Control Output.

The striking icemen of Greater Pittsburgh are having difficulty in obtaining ice for their co-operative company. The Ice Dealers' league controls about 90 per cent of the ice in Allegheny county, and the men are forced to make arrangements to bring it from a distance.

The companies contend they are getting along better with their deliveries every day. They are advertising all over the country for drivers and have obtained a number of experienced non-union men.

CLUBMAN SUED FOR $50,000.

Mathews Is Charged With Neglecting to Fulfill Promise to Marry Miss Buchanan.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Special.)—Harold C. Mathews, Yale graduate, a member of several of the most exclusive clubs in the city, and living with his bride of one year in the Hotel Lorraine, has been made defendant in a suit for $50,000 for breach of promise brought by Miss Katherine M. Buchanan, formerly of New Haven, Conn., but at present in this city, employed as a saleswoman in a large dry goods store.

Mr. Mathews' mother is Mrs. R. C. Mathews of West Fifty-seventh street. She is a cousin of Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

INDICT AUTOMOBILISTS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Owner of Machine and the Chauffeur Are Both Charged With Causing Two Deaths.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 16.—West Chester county's grand jury today found two indictments each for manslaughter in the second degree against John Johnson, chauffeur, and John C. Rodgers, Jr., owner of the automobile which ran down and killed Mrs. Betty Kuchler and her sister, Miss Stein, while the aged women were returning from church at New Rochelle on Sunday, March 18.

On indictment against each man is for the killing of Mrs. Kuchler, and the other is for the death of her sister. Each offense is punishable with a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison. Johnson is already under $10,000 bail, and his employer will be arrested at once on a bench warrant and compelled to give bond for an equal sum.

It is understood the grand jury indicted young Rodgers because he and the party of women with him ran away after the accident and left the dying women lying in the street without offering to assist them. In addition to the criminal actions it is said the Kuchler family will bring a civil action against Mr. Rodgers for $100,000 damages.

Two Policeman Are Dismissed.

Two policemen were dismissed yesterday, after a hearing before the police trial board, for neglect of duty. Matthew Bell, the negro policeman who captured Silas Carter, now on trial for murder, was discharged because he failed to report at the Center avenue police station, to which he had been transferred. James Griffin the cornerman at Sixth avenue and Wood street, was dismissed for being off post. Both men had resigned before the hearing but their resignations were not accepted.

WIZARD SCHAEFER DEFEATED BY CURE

Foreigner Plays a Steady Game and Wins by 120 Points in the Billiard Tourney.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Louis Cure of Paris defeated Jacob Schaefer of Chicago in the thirteenth game of the world's 18.2 championship tournament tonight, by a score of 500 to 380. This result, attained in the 24th inning, was somewhat of a surprise. In the second and 13th innings Schaefer made 95 and 119 respectively, with all his old-time force and freedom of stroke, but he had several poor innings in between, and from the 15th to the final inning, he got into double figures only once. The Frenchman played sterling billiards in many innings, his best runs being productive of 98, 75 and 66. Cure had shown some of his expertness in earlier games, but he excelled all his previous efforts in this tourney tonight.

Today George F. Sutton issued a challenge to the winner of the 18.2 trophy, and whoever wins will have to accept the challenge and play the game within two months.

Tomorrow afternoon Slosson will meet Cutler and Hoppe will play Sutton tomorrow night.

Schaefer led off with seven and Cure worked the ivories for 49 in the opening inning of tonight's game. Then Schaefer gave one of his best exhibitions of all-around billiards, in a run of 95, which was faultless until he slipped up on a single-cushion bank shot. In the fifth inning, Cure, playing with freedom and excellent judgment, added 39. Then Cure began to play steadily and soon had a lead of 41. However, Schaefer did not permit the foreign expert to remain in the lead very long, as his 13th inning proved to be a lucky one. In rapid order the caroms followed each other. He took the spheres from one end of the table to the other, playing all the known shots, and several hitherto unknown ones, for a run of 119, which left his total score 299 against 218 for Cure, who followed with two points in his half of the inning.

A zero for Schaefer in the sixteenth was followed by some diversified play by Cure, who coaxed the caroms by gentle strokes and nursed the spheres in and out of the three bottom spaces until he had counted 50. On his eighty-fourth shot he passed Schaefer and this fact was the signal for a burst of applause from the spectators. Cure still went on at a pretty good pace until his ninety-ninth shot, a three-cushion draw, went just a shade wide of the second object ball, and the run ended with a total of 98. The score then was Cure 333, Schaefer 318.

Schaefer, still in bad form and minus his usually trusty stroke, could not get more than a half dozen in his next attempt and Cure, after making 14 more, missed an easy one. Schaefer only counted once in the twenty-second inning. Cure counted a carefully-gathered 37 and at the conclusion of this inning the score was: Cure 457, Schaefer 333.

Schaefer made a timely run of 47 in the twenty-third inning, but after hesitating he missed his forty-eighth shot from two cushions, which he played too softly. Cure responded with three, Schaefer draw another blank in his twenty-fourth inning. Cure, with 40 to go for the game, secured the points with little difficulty, winning by 500 to 380 in the twenty-fourth inning. Score:

Schaefer—7, 95, 4, 5, 1, 10, 22, 2, 0, 0, 0, 34, 119, 0, 19, 0, 5, 1, 2, 0, 6, 1, 47, 0—Total, 380. Average, 15 20-24. High run, 119.

Cure—49, 5, 3, 2, 39, 11, 0, 6, 11, 2, 75, 3, 2, 1, 21, 98, 1, 1, 5, 66, 14, 37, 3, 40—Total, 500. Average, 20 20-24. High run, 98.

Albert G. Cutler of Boston won his first victory by defeating Ora Morningstar by a score of 500 to 459. Morningstar started off well, but after his seventh inning, when he made a run of 71, he fell away again, but managed to maintain the lead, and then gained until the 27th inning, when Cutler made a great spurt. The Boston man got the ivories in good position, and in a run full of first-class balk-line billiards, he overtook Morningstar with a cluster of 146 caroms.

From that stage to the end of the game Morningstar made strenuous efforts to offset defeat, scoring 19, 36, 35 and 14 in four of the next eight innings. In the same innings Cutler reached double figures three times, and his final effort was productive of three caroms, which won the game. The score:

American Athletes at Naples.

NAPLES, April 16.—The North German Lloyd steamer Barbarossa from New York April 3, and Gibraltar April 13, having on board the American athletes who are entered to take part in the Olympic games, which begin at Athens April 22, arrived here today. The men who were injured while crossing the Atlantic with the exception of James S. Mitchell of the New York Athletic club, the weight-putter and hammer-thrower, and Harry L. Hillman, Jr., the New York Athletic club runner, have recovered. Mitchell's arm is still in a sling and may interfere with his competing and Hillman's left leg is still bandaged. The latter is improving and expects to compete at Athens.

BOWLING EXPERTS MEET TOMORROW

Federal and Unger Teams Will Battle for County League Championship.

RESULTS OF LOCAL MATCHES

Nearly all the bowling fraternity and enthusiasts are interested in the important contest between the Ungers and Federals for the championship of the Allegheny County league. The game will take place on the Federals alleys tomorrow night, and the indications are that there will be the biggest crowd ever assembled to witness a bowling match in this section. Both teams are evenly matched, but the Federals have one game the better of the Ungers, and in case of a tie the Ungers have a lead of 41 pins. The contest will be worth going miles to see, as it is the most important that ever took place in Allegheny county.

President Metsgar of the Allegheny County league and manager of the Federal alleys, issues a cordial invitation to all, the lady bowling enthusiasts to attend the match. There have been special arrangements made for the comfort of the fair sex on this occasion.

A meeting will be held in the Adams alleys, Mt. Oliver, on Monday to complete the organization of a two-man team league. There are already 12 teams entered. There will be two seasons, and in each $150 in prizes is offered by Jake Adams, the proprietor of the alleys. The first season will run to July 1, and the second to October. This means an outlay of $300 for the alley proprietor.

The Lyceum duckpin team is making arrangements with the East Liverpool ducklets for a home-and-home series for $100 a side, total pins to count. Definite news will be published later.

The Lyceum team, in a practice game last night, made the good score of 638 for the five men. In an open game with six players, one bowler had to pay with 109.

Two two-men teams in the Westinghouse league played three tenpin games on the Wilkinsburg Casino alleys last night, Monheim and Krauter beating Schumacher and G. Ritter in all. Scores:

Monheim	155	151	159	Schumacher	167	157	136
Krauter	153	155	177	G. Ritter	119	129	119

On the Club alleys last night the Fairbanks Company won all three games from the Harris Pump and Supply Company. The Fairbanks' chalked up the fine score of 927 in the last game and this was mainly through the strong bowling of Walber, who had the good score of 266. Walber also had another double century and the average of 216. Scores:

On the Club alleys this evening the first of a three-night series will be decided between the Wm. G. Johnston & Co. Kidlet team and the Babes or third team from the same house. The Babes claim to be the better team and cannot see why they were not admitted to the Mercantile Bowling league instead of the Kidlets. No doubt a good night's fun will be the outcome and there will be lots of rooting to defeat the Kidlets. The second series will be rolled within one week after the first on the Federal alleys, they being the Babes' home alleys. All players are requested to be ready at 7:30 p. m.

Owing to the inability of Mourer to bowl on the Fifth avenue alleys tonight, the match between Gill-Maurer and Silber-Walber will have to be postponed until some later date.

The illness of MacPherson will necessarily postpone the match scheduled for tonight between Bell-MacPherson and Rupp-Ramsey. All concerned please note.

Secretary Gillespie of the Fifth avenue two-man team league requests that the following postponed matches be rolled as soon as possible and regular reports sent to him: Loos-Hewitt vs. Ormiston-Meisner; Soost-Riddle vs. Yingling-Bauman; Davies-McMunn vs. Maxson-Mooney; Maratta-Robertson vs. Burns-Belmont; Coons-Heimbeucher vs. Ely-Haymaker. The schedule for the balance of this week is as follows: Wednesday, Trucks-Petty vs. McKenzie-Glendenning and H. Dimling-Pockalnik vs. Maratta-Robertson; Thursday, Hambly-Tress vs. Maxson-Mooney and Haymaker-Ely vs. Bossler-G. Dimling; Friday, Loos-Hewitt vs. Soost-Riddle and Burns-Belmont vs. Yingling-Bauman.

Why Doctors Order Pabst Beer

It Refreshes and Strengthens the Body With Predigested Nourishment.

As a strengthening, nutritious food, physicians and scientists now agree that there is nothing, perhaps, more beneficial than pure beer. Pure beer, rich in the food extractives of malt and the tonic properties of hops, nourishes the whole body, restores wasted tissues, invigorates the blood, refreshes the brain and aids greatly in the digestion of solid foods.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is known by physicians everywhere as the best beer because of the absolute purity of its ingredients. Because of the exceeding cleanliness of the exclusive Pabst method of malting and brewing Pabst beer is considered perfect beer, and perfect food. It contains 12 per cent of food properties derived from the eight-day barley malt (exclusively Pabst). These consist chiefly of sugar and other carbohydrates so necessary to the health of the body, along with the proteids, potash and phosphorus, all of which nourish and build up the body and brain. This 12 per cent food value, the reader must understand, is high percentage, equal indeed to the food value percentage of pure milk, the percentage of water in each instance being 88.

If your food doesn't taste just right, or if your digestion is a little "off," or your appetite is poor, try Pabst Blue Ribbon beer for a few days and find for yourself that it is good food.

COMBINE MARKET WITH MEMORIAL

Council Committee Submits Plan of County Commissioners to Solicitor.

E. S. MORROW FINDS A FLAW

The county commissioners submitted to the special committee of the city councils yesterday a plan for a joint soldiers' memorial and market building to be erected on the site of the present Diamond market. The majority of the members of the council committee gave expressions favorable to the project, but referred the matter to the city solicitor for a legal opinion.

The market site was the only one discussed by the commissioners and councilmen at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the city hall, but it was also decided to submit to the city solicitor the question whether the city could legally permit the county to erect the memorial either on the Diamond market site or in Schenley park.

Assistant City Controller E. S. Morrow declares that the city cannot legally permit the county to use the market site for a memorial. He states the deed conveying the market property to the city expressly forbids such a use. Taking down the record book in the controller's office, Mr. Morrow pointed to a notation in the book which he said was made from the deed. It was as follows:

"This property was sold at auction by the commissioners of Allegheny county to William Eichbaum for $575. He, for the same sum, transferred it to the city of Pittsburgh on November 16, 1841. Its use is limited to municipal purposes."

Mr. Price, in a statement to the committee of councils yesterday, said the county commissioners were not committed to the market site, and would not take any formal action in the selection of a site until they had ascertained whether they could secure the market property.

Mr. Price said he had had prepared drawings of a combination memorial and market building, including a large convention hall sufficient to hold over 10,000 people, which, he said, might be agreed upon by the city and county. He exhibited the sketch showing a three-story ground floor, with a Grand Army hall, trophy room, rooms for the Loyal Legion, Union Veteran Legion, Sons of Veterans and committee rooms on the mezzanine or second floor.

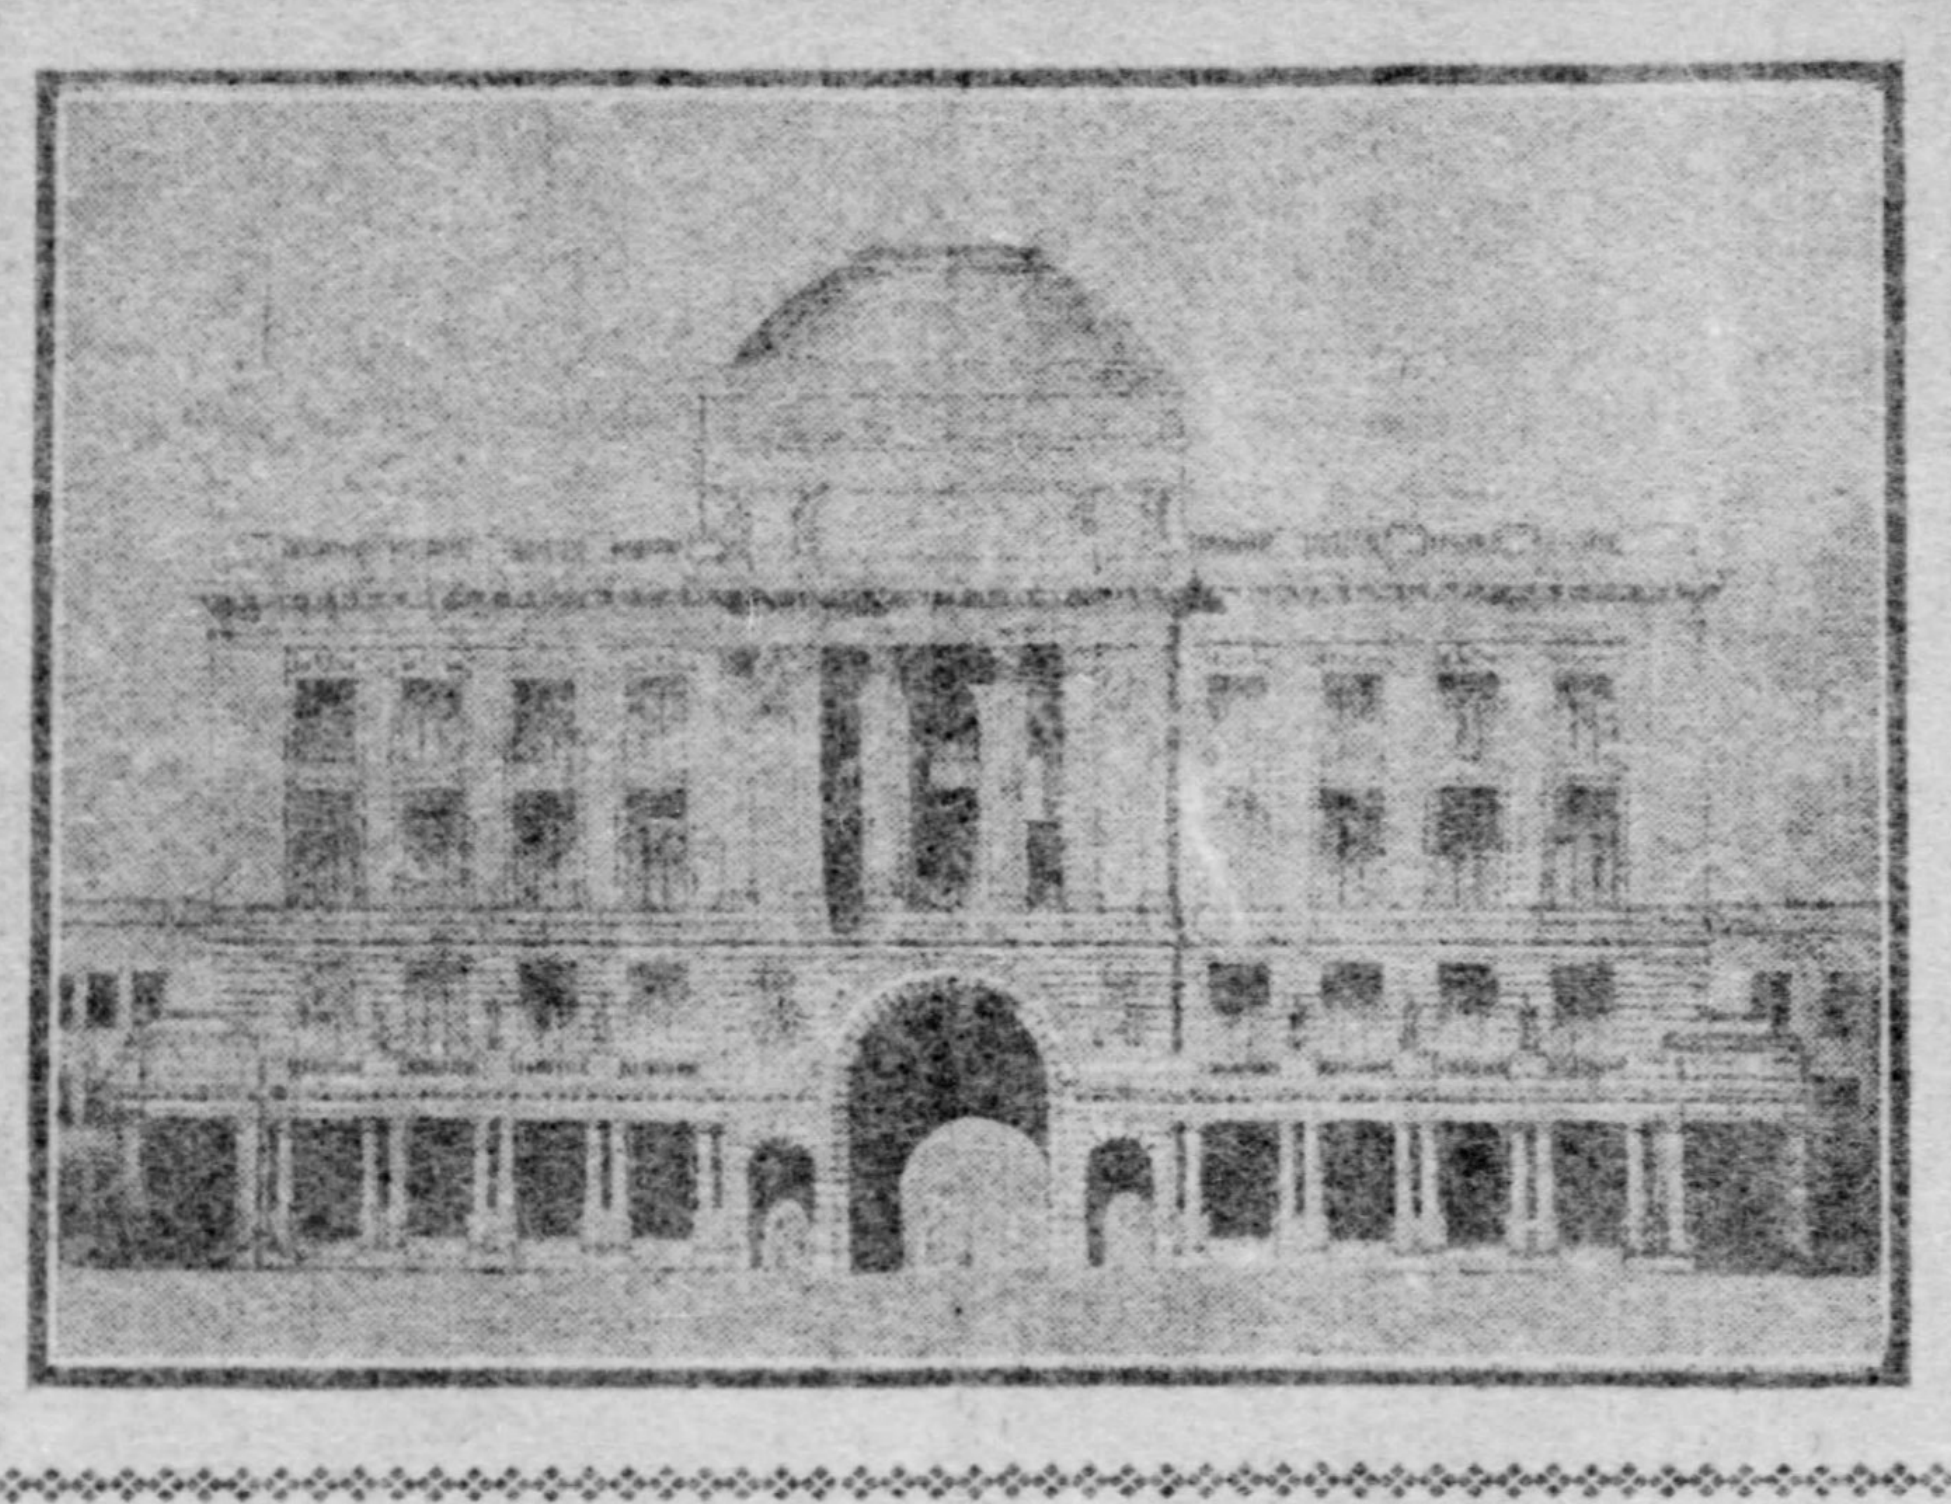
The sketch shows the convention hall on the third floor. The convention hall is to seat 4,500 persons in the auditorium and 3,000 in each of two balconies, making a total capacity of 10,500 people. Around the outside of the first story of the entire building are collonades.

The commissioners have $1,250,000, voted by the county, for the erection of a memorial. The memorial will probably be constructed of white granite. The arcade, extending through the center of the building, is to bridge Market street. Commissioner Price stated it was first intended to also extend Diamond street through the first floor of the building and arcade it, but this was abandoned because of the loss in floor space to the market, although the opening of Diamond street, he said, would furnish a new street clear from Liberty avenue to the court house.

Mr. Price said the plans would probably be changed from the sketch to put the convention hall on the second floor and the Grand Army hall and other rooms for the veterans on the third floor. He said this would bring the convention hall nearer to the street, and the change would probably be more acceptable to the veterans.

Commissioner I. K. Campbell, asked for his opinion, said: "The county commissioners want a site for the memorial, and believe the city of Pittsburgh should donate the site. If Pittsburgh don't donate the site Allegheny will be glad to. We want a site and we want it for nothing."

PROPOSED SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL HALL AND MARKET.



OPENING DAY AT AQUEDUCT

Roseben Captures the Carter Handicap, the Feature of the Day on the Track.

BROOMHANDLE IT AT MEMPHIS

NEW YORK, April 16.—Roseben, the popular favorite, carrying top weight of 129 pounds, today won the Carter handicap at seven furlongs, the feature of the opening day of Metropolitan racing at Aqueduct, the home of the Queens County Jockey club. The finish was fought out in a hard drive between Rosebun and Southern Cross, an outsider. The favorite gamely responded to a masterly ride by Jockey Lucien Lyne and won by a head. A long gap of daylight separated the first two horses from the eleven other starters in the race. Coming out of the ruck at the sixteenth pole, Red Knight ran into third place, nearly nipping the short end of the purse from Whimsical, second choice in the betting. The race was run in 1:26 2-5, two-fifths of a second behind the track record. The horses avoided the heavy going next to the rail, the result of yesterday's storm and found the track near the center and outside rail very fast.

Roseben was always the favorite, financially and sentimentally. When he led the post procession past one of the largest crowds the Aqueduct track ever held, he was loudly applauded. When his winning number was posted after the exciting finish there was a tumult of cheering. Opening at 2½ to 1, the D. C. Johnson sprinter's price soared to threes. Then he was backed down to 11 to 5 at post time. Whimsical, on the strength of her 2-year-old work last season, was second in demand. Southern Cross, who ran second, was at tens and at Red Knight at 30 to 1.

The field of seventeen horses named to go to the post was reduced by the scratching of Rams Horn, Rebo, Battleaxe, D'Arkle and Ballotta. J. H. McCormick added Grenade and brought the field up to thirteen.

When it came to the running of the race it was all Roseben up to the last furlong, when Southern Cross challenged and the stirring drive to the wire followed. The gameness with which Roseben fought out that last furlong won him high regard from all horsemen and he is held to be a dangerous factor in the Metropolitan at one mile. Hermitage and Green Room ran with the big sprinter for the first two furlongs, but he had a clear lead entering the stretch when in the closing rush Southern Cross, who came to the races with a splendid New Orleans record, was the only one to get anywhere near him.

Three strong favorites and a split favorite won their races today, the other two events going to well-backed second and third choices. Horses which were facing the barrier for the first time this year won five of the six events, the only season victor turning up in Tileing, a smart 2-year-old brought out at the Benning session. Garner only had to sit still on Tileing to have him handily win the Ozone selling stakes. The winner was afterward bid up $1,000, but was retained by his stable.

Diamond won the first race after a long delay at the post, in which he was the chief offender. Jockey Radtke rode his first eastern winner in the second race. His mount, Clark Griffith, was favorite and much the best, winning all the way. In the fifth race Broadcloth, from the stable of J. A. Drake, won in spite of the fact that his boy kept him in the deep going all the way. Newton Bennington uncovered a sensational winner in the last race. His good 2-year-old Goldfinch colt, Demund, romped away from Al Powell and other good ones in a way which stamped him unusually clever. He won by two lengths pulled up. Demund was the heavily played favorite, the news of his workouts having spread widely. Summaries:

First race, selling, 5 furlongs—Diamond, 108 (Shaw), 3 to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Tocts Mook, 98 (Radtke), 12 to 1 and 5 to 4, second; Brush Up, 96 (C. Morris), 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:00. Keater, Knight and True, Consideration, Snow King, Early and Often, Cousin Kate, Lawsonian, Cassandra and Listless also ran.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Clark Griffith, 103 (Radtke), 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Crilene, 99 (C. Morris), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Watergrass, 99 (Horner), 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:14. Moharib, Grapple, Veronese and Idle Dream also ran.

Third race—The Ozone stakes, 4 furlongs—Tileing, 97 (Garner), 8 to 1 and 5 to 1, won; Bertmont, 104 (Baird), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Disaster, 105 (O'Neill), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, :47. Sally E, Acrobat, Charrada, Affinity, Molesey, Rappahannock, Athens, Fond du Lac and Cora Price also ran.

Fourth race—The Carter handicap of $10,000, 7 furlongs—Roseben, 129 (Lyne), 11 to 5 and even, won; Southern Cross, 106 (Baird), 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Red Knight, 108 (Radtke), 30 to 1 and 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:26 2-5. Lord of the Vale, Phil Finch, Ormondes Right, Bohemia, Whimsical, Goldsmith, Green Room, Belmore, Hermitage and Grenade also ran.

Fifth race, selling, 7 furlongs—Broadcloth, 110 (Gerner), 3 to 1 and even, won; Jack McKeon, 113 (Miller), 3 to 1 and even, second; Water Dog, 92 (C. Morris), 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:27. The Cure, Lord Badge, Edict, Deux Temps, Stroller, Delphie, Delmore and Elevation also ran.

Sixth race, 4 furlongs—De Mund, 108 (O'Neill), 4 to 5 and 1 to 3, won; Campaigner, 109 (W. Robbins), 15 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Shackle, 106 (J. Jones), 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, :47 1-5. Al Powell, Blue Dale, Communipaw, They're Off, Gambel, Taunt, Milcat and Economy also ran.

Broomhandle Wins the Handicap.

MEMPHIS, April 16.—The spring race meeting at Montgomery park opened today under favorable conditions. The weather was ideal and the track was in fine condition. The feature event on the card was the Montgomery handicap, which was won by Broomhandle after a burst of speed through the stretch. Memphis society was out in full force.

After a short delay at the post, the field was sent away to a good start, with Dr. Gardner in front. He maintained his lead, followed by Rapid Water and Lady Navarre, with others closely bunched, until he struck the hill at the three-quarter pole, where he dropped back and gave way to Hyperion II., which piloted the field until the head of the stretch was reached.

Broomhandle turned wide at the stretch and went to the outside of the track. With a magnificent burst of speed, Broomhandle passed the judges' stand a winner by a half length. Lady Navarre, in a driving finish with Rapid Water, got second place by a head. The others were strung out. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Deutschland, 112 (Dugan), 10 to 1, won; Guiding Star, 111 (Frith), 4 to 5, second; John Smulski, 116 (T. Burns), 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:08¾. Silver Skin, Big Ben and Henry Waterson also ran.

Second race, ½ mile—Clamor, 103 (Cherry), 6 to 5, won; Bull Bird, 108 (Anderson), 50 to 1, second; Chief O'Haver, 108 (Feicht), 10 to 1, third. Time, :50⅗. Athelstane, Tom Gilroy and Scotch High also ran.

Third race, 1 mile—Lady Ellison, 101 (Cherry), 6 to 1, won; Celebration, 101 (Moriarity), 8 to 1, second; Henry O., 101 (C. Ross), 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:43¾. Blennenworth, King Cole, Cotillion, Hurlee, May Nowlin and I. Samuelson also ran.

In the Oil Fields.

With but one exception the reports from the lower southwest fields showed nothing but light pumpers. The falling off in completions is quite marked in all districts. Just at present the Keener sand development on Point Pleasant creek, Tyler county, seems to be the only district that can furnish producers above the average in size. In that pool the Lincoln Oil Company has drilled in a second test on the M. L. Workman farm and has a natural producer good for 100 barrels a day. When shot it is expected that it, like other wells in that locality, will double its production. There will be several wells due to get the sand before the close of the week, and their location is such as to make it look like the production should be increased. On Fishing creek, Green district, Wetzel county, the J. C. Trees Oil Company and Culp's test on the Rebecca Wright farm is attracting some attention. The tubing is being placed in the well and it will be put to pumping. It is expected to make a 30-barrel pumper. The nearest producing wells are three miles from this location.

On East run, Lincoln district, Marion county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the E. T. Woods farm and has a fair gasser in the Gordon. On Buffalo creek, Mannington district, Debendarfer, Carnahan & Co. are due in the sand at a test on the J. O. Huey farm. On the same stream and in the same district, the Home Oil and Gas Company is due in the sand at a second test on the P. Michael farm. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Lucinda Wilson farm into the Big Injun and has developed quite a strong gas pressure. Drilling has been suspended to move back the boiler.

In the Yellow creek district, Calhoun county, the Eastern Oil Company has shot its second test on the Don B. Ferrell farm and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. In the same district G. L. Cabbot has drilled his test on the Joseph Wilson farm into the Big Injun and has developed a gasser with a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet a day. When the gas pressure subsides the well will be drilled down to the Berea grit. In the Goose Creek district, Ritchie county, the Midland Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Storrs tract through the salt sand and developed a light show of oil. They will drill to the Big Injun and if nothing better is found in that formation will test in the salt sand. On Climer creek, Curry district, Putnam county, the Holley Oil and Development Company has started to drill at a wildcat on the Lincoln Land association tract.

On the Ohio side, in the Macksburg field, in Washington county, J. F. Ward has drilled his No. 17 on the C. Schimmel farm through the Buell Run sand and has a duster. In the Wolf creek district, E. D. Ross has completed a test on his own farm and has a duster. In the same district Girard & Son have completed the rig for a test on the William Johnson farm. In the same locality Guss Curran & Co. have started to drill at No. 10 on the W. W. Gadd farm. In the Ninevah district, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Oil Company has completed No. 3 on the A. J. Evans farm and has a 20-barrel producer in the Gordon.

On Point Pleasant creek, Tyler county, the Southern Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 2 on the R. A. Workman farm are producing 170 and 390 barrels, respectively. The Lincoln Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 2 on the M. L. Workman farm are producing 220 barrels. The Trees Oil Company and Benedum's No. 1, T. J. Morris farm, 75 barrels. Urquhart & Co. No. 2, Mary Glendenning, 60 barrels. The Fisher Oil Company's No. 2, W. C. Clark, 75 barrels and the Melrose Oil & Gas Company's No. 3, L. C. Leazer farm, 50 barrels a day.

MINISTERS TALK ABOUT DOCTRINES

Papers at Weekly Gatherings of Clergymen Treat Largely of Theological Questions.

MUCH MONEY FOR CHARITY

Subjects of a doctrinal character engrossed attention at most of the ministerial meetings yesterday morning. At the Presbyterian meeting, held at the Second church, Eighth street, Dr. J. A. Kelso of the Western Theological seminary made an address on "Mariolatry." The Rev. T. L. Jamison of Pitcairn spoke at the United Presbyterian gathering on "Some Thoughts on Individual Growth." The Rev. Frank S. Dobbins of Philadelphia, secretary of the American Baptist union, spoke on "A New Line of Argument for Foreign Missions." At the Methodist Protestant assembly the Rev. George Shaffer read a paper on "An Analysis of the Apostles' Creed." The Rev. J. H. Risk discussed "The Credibility of the Gospel" at the meeting of the Methodist Episcopal clergymen.

Generous offerings for benevolent work and missions were made in the various churches on Easter Sunday. At the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension over $3,000 was raised for missions; the Sixth United Presbyterian church raised $2,080 as its annual thank offering for the Women's Missionary society; the First Presbyterian church raised $1,200 for the support of the Children's Convalescent Home at Glencairn, and also $500 for Miss Clara Espy, a missionary in India. She is the daughter of Prof. S. A. Espy of the Fourth ward schools, Allegheny. Trinity Lutheran church, Allegheny, raised a special fund for the purchase of a bronze memorial tablet for the Rev. Dr. John G. Goettman, a former pastor.

Dr. J. D. Sands, financial agent for Monongahela presbytery, announces that the body has contributed $53,495 20 to the various boards and institutions of the United Presbyterian church. The Sixth congregation contributed $16,366 62, double the amount asked from it, and Shadyside church gave $5,250 50.

The Rev. John Royal Harris, pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, East Side, suffered from a severe attack of heart trouble while in the midst of the Easter celebration at his church Sunday evening, and for a time was in a serious condition. He has been in broken health for some time past and his physician has ordered him to take an extended rest.

The members of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, pledged over $4,000 in half an hour at the Sunday morning service. The money is to go toward paying church indebtedness.

An adjourned meeting of the Pittsburgh presbytery was held yesterday morning at the Second Presbyterian church, at which the Rev. George W. Taylor, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Canonsburg, was dismissed to accept a call to the Oxford, Pa., church.

HORDES OF IMMIGRANTS REACH AMERICAN SHORES

In March 133,245 Aliens Landed at New York Ports, an Increase of 70 Per Cent in Two Years.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The total immigration to the United States from all countries during the month of March, 1906, according to a statement issued by the immigration bureau today, was 138,245, or an increase of 70 per cent over March, 1904. The number arriving in March, 1905, is given as 126,932. The number debarred during the same month was 659, an increase of 40 per cent over 1904. The Russian immigration to this country during March, 1906, was 24,202, an increase of 75 per cent over 1904, the immigration for March, 1905, being 16,318.

For the six months ended March 31, 1906, the immigration from all countries was 463,316, an increase of 38 per cent over a similar period in 1904. For the same period the immigration from Russia increased 40 per cent, those arriving numbering 81,733.

A statement of the immigration for February, 1906, shows that 68,696 persons arrived at the several ports, of whom 537 were debarred for various reasons. Out of the total arrivals there were landed at New York 55,441, of whom 256 were debarred.

GORKY'S COMPANION RECEIVED $1,500,000

Large Contribution for Revolutionists Was Given to Mme. Andreieva by Merchant Prince.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 16.—Maxim Gorky's reception in the United States is giving the Russian government considerable concern. A high official here today made the following statement:

"In listening to Gorkey the American people should understand that he is not a Liberal or a Reformer, but a Revolutionist pure and simple. He is certainly a writer of talent, perhaps even a genius, and much that he says regarding the conditions in Russia are doubtless true; but it should be made clear that his object is not reform but revolution.

"Mlle. Andreieva, who accompanies him, is not his wife. She is also a revolutionist, and M. Morosoff, one of Moscow's merchant princes, gave her $1,500,000 for the revolutionary cause. When the government last summer secured proof of this fact he was given 24 hours to leave Russia or stand trial here. He fled to Paris where he committed suicide."

STEEL STOCKHOLDERS MEET.

Annual Meeting Held in New York at Which Only Three Officers Are Present.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation was held today. Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, and Richard Trimble, secretary of the corporation, were the only officers present, they holding proxies of a majority of the stockholders.

The three individual shareholders present were W. B. Driver, H. Lussen and C. Larachle. A resolution was adopted approving all acts of the directors during the past year.

The stockholders ratified the election of George F. Barke and Martin Hughitt as directors of the first class for three years, and of the following named as directors of the second class for three years: Robert Winsor, Charles Steele, William L. Moore, Norman E. Ream, P. A. B. Widener, James H. Reed, Henry C. Frick and William Edenborn.

KEARSARGE VICTIMS BURIED.

No Change in the Condition of the Injured Men—Target Practice to Be Resumed.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A cablegram was received at the navy department this afternoon from Rear Admiral Brownson, dated Caimanera, Guantanamo bay, stating that the bodies of Jules A. Koester, Anton C. Thorson, Theodore Naegley, Ellis H. Athey and Peter Norberg were interred today in the naval cemetery there, and that Lieuts. Hudgins and Graem's remains are aboard the Maryland.

There is no change in the condition of the injured men. The Kearsarge will return to the range and finish target practice when the condition of the men permits.

LAWYERS TAKE UP COURT'S TIME

Wrangles Between Counsel Occupy Whole Day in Fight Over Jutte Estate.

SILAS CARTER IS ON TRIAL

Wrangles between the contending counsel in the equity suit in which the Colonial Trust Company is attempting to recover millions of dollars from F. N. Hoffstot and James W. Friend, which it claims belongs to the estate of W. C. Jutte, occupied most of yesterday. President Buchanan of the C. Jutte Coal Company gave testimony as to the trial balances and sheets. Attorney J. H. Beal failed to get him to say they showed the standing of the company at the time they were made, the witness saying they showed only the standing as shown by the books.

President Buchanan was asked as to the negotiations between D. D. Wood & Son Company and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, but he could not remember much about them. He admitted that he had tried to forget much of this coal business since he got out of it. In reply to a question concerning deals that caused him worry, the witness referred to having the affairs of the Brownsville Glass Company on his hands at the same time Mr. Jutte had bought stock of the Castle Shannon railroad, in 1901. The witness said he believed that at about the same time he had sold property to H. C. Frick in Wood street for $280,000. He also said that as president of the company he prevented Mr. Jutte's proposition to buy a coal landing at Louisville.

In referring to the notes of Mr. Jutte, Mr. Buchanan was asked if he thought Jutte was of sound mind. He said that some days Jutte was lucid while on other days he did not think his mind was clear. These notes amounted in all to about $100,000.

Dr. C. H. Ingram testified to Jutte's periods of melancholy and Mr. Beal tried to get him to distinguish between melancholy and nervous prostration. Charles L. McIlvain of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company was asked about values of the Forsythe coal lands, optioned at $60,000 by that company, but finally bid in by Jutte for $117,000. E. H. Taylor, an engineer of the Carnegie Steel Company, and in 1901 a mining engineer of the Jutte company, was asked the same question. In his opinion the land was worth then $600 an acre. There were 2,400 acres in the tract. The contention of the lawyers over the testimony of these two witnesses was the warmest of the day. Court adjourned with Mr. Taylor on the stand, and will resume this morning.

William Silas Carter (negro) charged with killing Policeman James Sheedy in Wylie avenue, May 7, 1902, and who eluded the police for four years, was placed on trial yesterday. He was represented by Attorney W. H. Stanton, while John S. Robb, Jr., looked after the state's interest.

After proving the death of Sheedy, Constable Moses Kauffman of the Seventh ward, testified that on the evening of the shooting he walked down Wylie avenue with Officer John Joynt, and the policeman ordered several negroes to keep the sidewalk clear. One of them called Joynt a vile name and ran into a barber shop, followed by the officer. Several of the other negroes drew razors and threatened the policeman. Kauffman then ran down Wylie avenue and notified Sheedy, who went into the barber shop and arrested Carter, whom Joynt pointed out. As he was leaving the shop with his prisoner, Carter drew a revolver and shot Sheedy twice, then broke away and disappeared in the darkness. The case will be continued today.

An answer was filed by Charles K. Bryce in the equity suit brought against him by John D. Higbee, Robert D. Bryce, Ida B. Shaw and Mary Bryce. All the parties to the suit are members of the Bryce-Higbee Glass Company and the plaintiffs allege that Bryce, while manager of the company, padded the payroll and allowed the business to take care of itself. All of these allegations the defendant denies.

After a brief hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings of Mrs. Ida Kirk against George H. Grundy, to secure possession of the latter's 13-year-old daughter, Amber Grundy, Judge Young gave the girl into the father's care and dismissed the aunt's petition. The girl testified that she was remaining with her father of her own will and had no wish to return to her aunt.

An affidavit of defense was filed by Henry Semmelrogge in the $10,000 breach of promise suit, brought against him by Florence Randall. The claims of the plaintiff are denied in full. He affirmed that no promise of marriage was ever made and claims that he has not seen the plaintiff for nearly a year.

The viewers appointed to assess damages in the condemnation proceedings instituted by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company against the Valley Ice and Supply Company of Sharpsburg, filed their report in United States circuit court, awarding the ice company $72,000. S. B. Goucher of Sharpsburg was awarded $14,000 damages against the Pennsylvania railroad in the same proceeding.

Executions issued: Laura Livingston, administratrix against William Messer with notice, $9,954; Coraopolis Savings and Trust Company against Carrie M. Parker, $2,426; T. A. Griffin against Jeanne Heineman et al, $5,195; Life Protective and Loan association against Mary Green, administratrix, $2,276; Hope Planing Mill Co. against Anton Krumenaier, $3,385; Thomas Delaney against Frederick Spangel, $1,322.

HOOE STILL IN JAIL.

Judge Frazer Holds Up Writ of Habeas Corpus Decision for a Few Days.

Attorneys Ferguson, Marron and Stanton made another attempt yesterday to secure the release of Clifford Hooe, the negro coachman who is in jail on a charge of perjury in connection with the Hartje divorce case. The court postponed action for a few days until legal references could be examined into.

M. W. Acheson, Jr., one of Mrs. Hartje's attorneys, opposed the granting of the writ and called attention to Judge Frazer's ruling that common pleas courts could not grant a writ of habeas corpus while quarter sessions is sitting. He said the other side had asked quarter sessions for this writ and had been refused. This brought out the statement that while quarter sessions court had been approached no formal application had been filed.

J. Scott Ferguson, for Hooe, said they were only asking for a right given every citizen. He denied that they were actuated by any improper motives, and pointed out how a precedent in the case might prove injurious in the future. The attorneys had several sharp clashes over the method of procedure. Judge Frazer asked for references to all the decisions cited and said he would announce a decision in a few days.

SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

A BEAUTIFULLY appointed little luncheon was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Benjamin F. Jones, Jr., at her home in Irwin avenue, Allegheny, to meet Mrs. John J. McCook and Mrs. Charles Alexander of New York, who are stopping in town for the marriage of their brother, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, and Miss Medelaine Frances Laughlin. The guest list also included Mrs. Harry Darlington, Mrs. William Ross Proctor, Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne, Mrs. William G. Park, Mrs. John Moorehead, Jr., Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., and Mrs. William J. Holland.

The table decorations were exceptionally handsome, consisting of a central low silver bowl and six silver vases filled with brides-roses and purple lilacs. The place cards were quaintly shaped, in the form of old-fashioned little bonnets of several generations back, and on the ribbon ties of each was painted the name of the owner.

Following the rehearsal for the Laughlin-Alexander wedding at the First Presbyterian church, Miss Laughlin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robinson, entertained the members of the bridal party and others, numbering 42, at a 7 o'clock dinner at the Duquesne club. The party occupied tables formed into the letter "U," and the exquisite decorations were carried out in green and white, the wedding colors of today. Low, round and oblong gilded wicker baskets, filled with azalias, used in conjunction with tall shafts of cut glass holding Annunciation lilies, formed an almost complete mass of pure-white bloom. In addition to the wedding party covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Walter Rhodes and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barbour of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and Mrs. John J. McCook, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington, Mr. and Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne, who is stopping with the Robinsons; Mrs. William Ross Proctor, Mrs. W. R. Singer, Miss McCook and Miss Janet McCook, William B. Scaife, William J. Patton, Francis Albert Dilworth, Jr., Harry D. McCandless, Miss Chalfant and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr. Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and a number of their guests formed a theater party at the Nixon.

United States Consul Weds.

The marriage of Maxwell Kennedy Moorehead of this city to Miss Muriel Ermatinger of St. Thomas, Ontario, was solemnized at 12 o'clock yesterday in Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, St. Thomas, with the utmost simplicity, owing to the Moorehead family being in mourning. The bride was given away by her father, Judge Ermatinger, while her brother, Percy Ermatinger, together with Rodman Wister Moorhead, served as ushers. Walter P. Magee, also of Pittsburgh, was Mr. Moorhead's best man. Following the ceremony was a reception for the relatives at the Ermatinger home. Immediately after Mr. Moorhead left with his bride for an extensive wedding trip, and before resuming his duties as United States consul at Ontario will come to Pittsburgh for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. William J. Moorhead, Miss Emily Black Moorhead, Rodman Moorhead and Mrs. Maxwell K. Moorhead, who were in attenrance, will return to Pittsburgh tonight, accompanied by Mr. Magee, who has been spending the winter in Colorado Springs with his kinswomen, Miss E. Louise McLeod Mitchell and Miss Helen C. Heberton.

Former Pittsburgher Weds.

A number of Pittsburghers attended the marriage of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Sibbett of Philadelphia and Dr. Charles Page Bryant of Upper Middletown, which was solemnized yesterday in St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, Philadelphia, by the Rev. George Gunnell, a former rector of the Epiphany church, Bellevue, and a brother-in-law of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Joseph Fletcher of Baltimore. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Edgar L. Hackney of Uniontown, wore a princess gown of white satin trimmed with duchesse and rose pointe lace, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley and sweet peas. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms. Mrs. Frank Le Moyne, a sister of the groom, who served as maid of honor, wore a white embroidered robe over white satin, and carried white lilacs. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Trevor Sibbett of Uniontown, Miss Carolyn McClung Snowden and Miss Helen Johnson Steele of Brownsville, and Miss Sara Elizabeth Hoog of Pittsburgh. They wore white lace and pink chiffon cloth and carried pink roses. The ushers were W. J. Meyers, Jr., of Wilkinsburg; Edward J. Henriques of Brownsville, and Clyde Plank, Dr. H. T. O'Connor and Dr. S. S. Carrier, all of Pittsburgh. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the Sibbett home in Spruce street. Dr. Bryant formerly lived in Pittsburgh, while the Sibbetts were residents of Uniontown and Brownsville.

Pre-Nuptial Entertainment.

Miss Florence T. Keil, a much-feted young bride-to-be, was the honor guest at a daintily appointed little luncheon of yesterday afternoon given by Miss Marie Ash of Lake street, East End, who is to serve in the party of bridesmaids. Covers were also laid for the other attendants, Miss Sarah M. Keil, Miss Gertrude Keck of Butler, Miss Clara and Miss Aline Walker of Erie, Miss Charlotte Jefferis and Miss Nellie Weart. In the evening Miss Keil's fiance, Edward Everett Walker, entertained the entire party with dinner and dancing at the Country club. Today Miss Sarah Keil will give a breakfast at the Hotel Lamont, and this evening the men of the party will entertain with a theater party at the Nixon, followed by supper at the Fort Pitt hotel. Miss Keil's breakfast guests will be augmented by Miss Anne May Schmidt, Morristown, N. J.; Miss Charlotte Scott, Indianapolis; Miss Helen Munger, Detroit; Miss Mabel Cummer, Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Helen Warren, Abilene, Va., and Miss Eleanor Watt, Philadelphia, all of whom will arrive this morning and form a house party over the wedding.

Easter Reception and Dances.

The Easter dance of the Keystone Bicycle club was given last evening at the club house, Howe street, East End, in charge of a committee composed of T. Morrison McKenna, chairman; Lewis McCoy, Oliver Curry, Earle Estep, Charles Walters and William Sloan. The officers of the club are J. H. Blackburn, president; George Glassburn, secretary, and E. H. Flood, treasurer. On Monday evening next the final reception and euchre of the 1905-6 series will be given at the club, and the opening dance of a summer series of five will be given in the cafe pavilion, Luna Park, on the opening night of the park, May 7.

The annual masquerade reception of Pride of Manchester council, No. 25, Daughters of Liberty, was held last evening at Washington hall, Beaver and Washington avenues, Allegheny, in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Mattie Shoemaker, Mrs. B. M. Davie, Mrs. Lottie Shearing, Mrs. B. C. Boyle, Mrs. M. J. Boyle, Mrs. Emma Scull, Mrs. Tillie Albright and S. J. Patton.

Entertains for Bridal Couple.

Miss Della Bosworth of Colorado Springs, Colo., entertained at dinner last evening at the Fort Pitt hotel in honor of her brother, Edwin M. Bosworth, and his fiance, Miss Helen Mary Richey, whose marriage will take place this evening. In addition to the bridal party covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bosworth, parents of the hostess and groom-to-be. A flat basket holding an immense azalia formed the table centerpiece, from which extended broad pink ribbons knotted to pink sweet peas for the girls and gardenias for the men. Following the dinner was the rehearsal and informal supper at the home of Miss Richey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Richey, Jr., in North avenue, Allegheny.

For Out-of-Town Guests.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles W. Brown of Sewickley entertained at a dinner at the Duquesne club last evening, followed by a theater party at the Nixon, in honor of their visitors, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fish and Miss Marjorie Fish of Minneapolis, who will leave for home tonight, and Miss Frances Perkins of Providence, R. I., who will return east tomorrow night. Covers were also laid for Miss Agate and Miss Theodora Brown and Jacob Brown.

Easton—Osborne.

Dr. William Osborne, a Homestead physician, and Miss Mina M. Easton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Easton of Zara street, Knoxville, will be married this evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. J. W. Gordon, pastor of the Knoxville Christian church.

Notes About Weddings.

Miss Mary Stevens Hamilton, daughter of Thomas J. Hamilton of California avenue, Allegheny, has chosen Wednesday, June 27, as the date of her marriage to Henry Erwood Kohlmeyer of Knoxville. The wedding will be a home affair.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna B. Maguire and George B. Crawford, which took place last Saturday. The couple are now at home in Franklin street, Allegheny.

The marriage of Miss Rida J. Maxwell to Peyton R. Hord will take place Saturday afternoon, June 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Maxwell of Maryland avenue, East End.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Chambers of New Castle, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna Chambers, to Thomas P. Cullison of Pittsburgh, which will terminate in an early summer wedding.

Miss Dorothy Paul and Fred M. Harsh will be married next Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Spahl, in Allegheny.

Mrs. A. T. Schomaker of Oakgrove avenue, Allegheny, will give a silver shower on Thursday, in honor of Miss Dorothy Stahl, whose marriage to Fred N. Harsh will be an event of next week.

Sewickley Entertainments.

The Intermediate league of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal Sunday school gave a literary and musical entertainment in the church chapel last evening. The young folks were assisted by Mrs. J. Sharp McDonald, Miss Margaret Ritchey, W. O. Nevin and David Ormesher.

A recital was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Olive Heffley at the residence of Mrs. Alexander C. Robbinson, in Sewickley. Miss Heffley's pupils, Miss Elizabeth Graham, contralto, of Sewickley, and Eugene Heffley of New York, took part in the program. Mr. Heffley is president of the MacDowell club of New York.

Miss Annie Sherwood Rankin of Reading will give a reading "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" in the Sewickley Baptist church on Tuesday evening, April 24. It will be illustrated by tableaux and music will be furnished by the Sewickley High School Instrumental club.

A euchre will be given tomorrow evening by the Sewickley branch of the L. C. B. A. in Odd Fellows hall, Broad street. The various committees are in charge of Miss Kate Gleason, Mrs. William Stevenson and Miss Margaret Hegnar.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. William Thaw of "Lyndhurst," Beechwood boulevard, left yesterday for New York to join her daughters, Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie and the Countess of Yarmouth, and Miss Eleanor Wilson of New Wilmington, Del. the party will remain in the metropolis until Friday, when Lady Yarmouth will sail for her home in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mytinger Plumer of South Highland avenue, East End, returned Sunday morning from a fortnight's stay at the Brighton, Atlantic City. They were accompanied by their nephew, James Schmertz of Philadelphia, formerly of Center avenue, Shadyside, a Yale man, who will spend the Easter vacation in town.

Mrs. William D. Howard and her two small sons, William and Edwin, have returned to Philadelphia after spending the winter with Mrs. Howard's mother, Mrs. Simon Johnston of South Negley avenue. They were accompanied by Mrs. Owen Johnston.

Miss Anna Belle McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. McCoy of South Baum street, East End, returned last evening from Fort Wayne, Ind., where she was a member of a house party entertained by Miss Donna Sylor Saylor.

Dr. Edwin Zugsmith of South Rebecca street, East End, left last night for a short visit in Philadelphia.

Mrs. John S. Davison of Liberty avenue and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Torrens of Penn avenue, who have been members of a house party at Mrs. Owen Liebert's over the Easter festival at Bethlehem, are spending the week at Atlantic City and New York.

Miss Helen Walter of Baum street is entertaining her cousin, Miss Morrison of Philadelphia. Miss Walter's brother, Albert G. Walter, and his visitor, Mr. Luphfer, returned to their studies at Princeton last night.

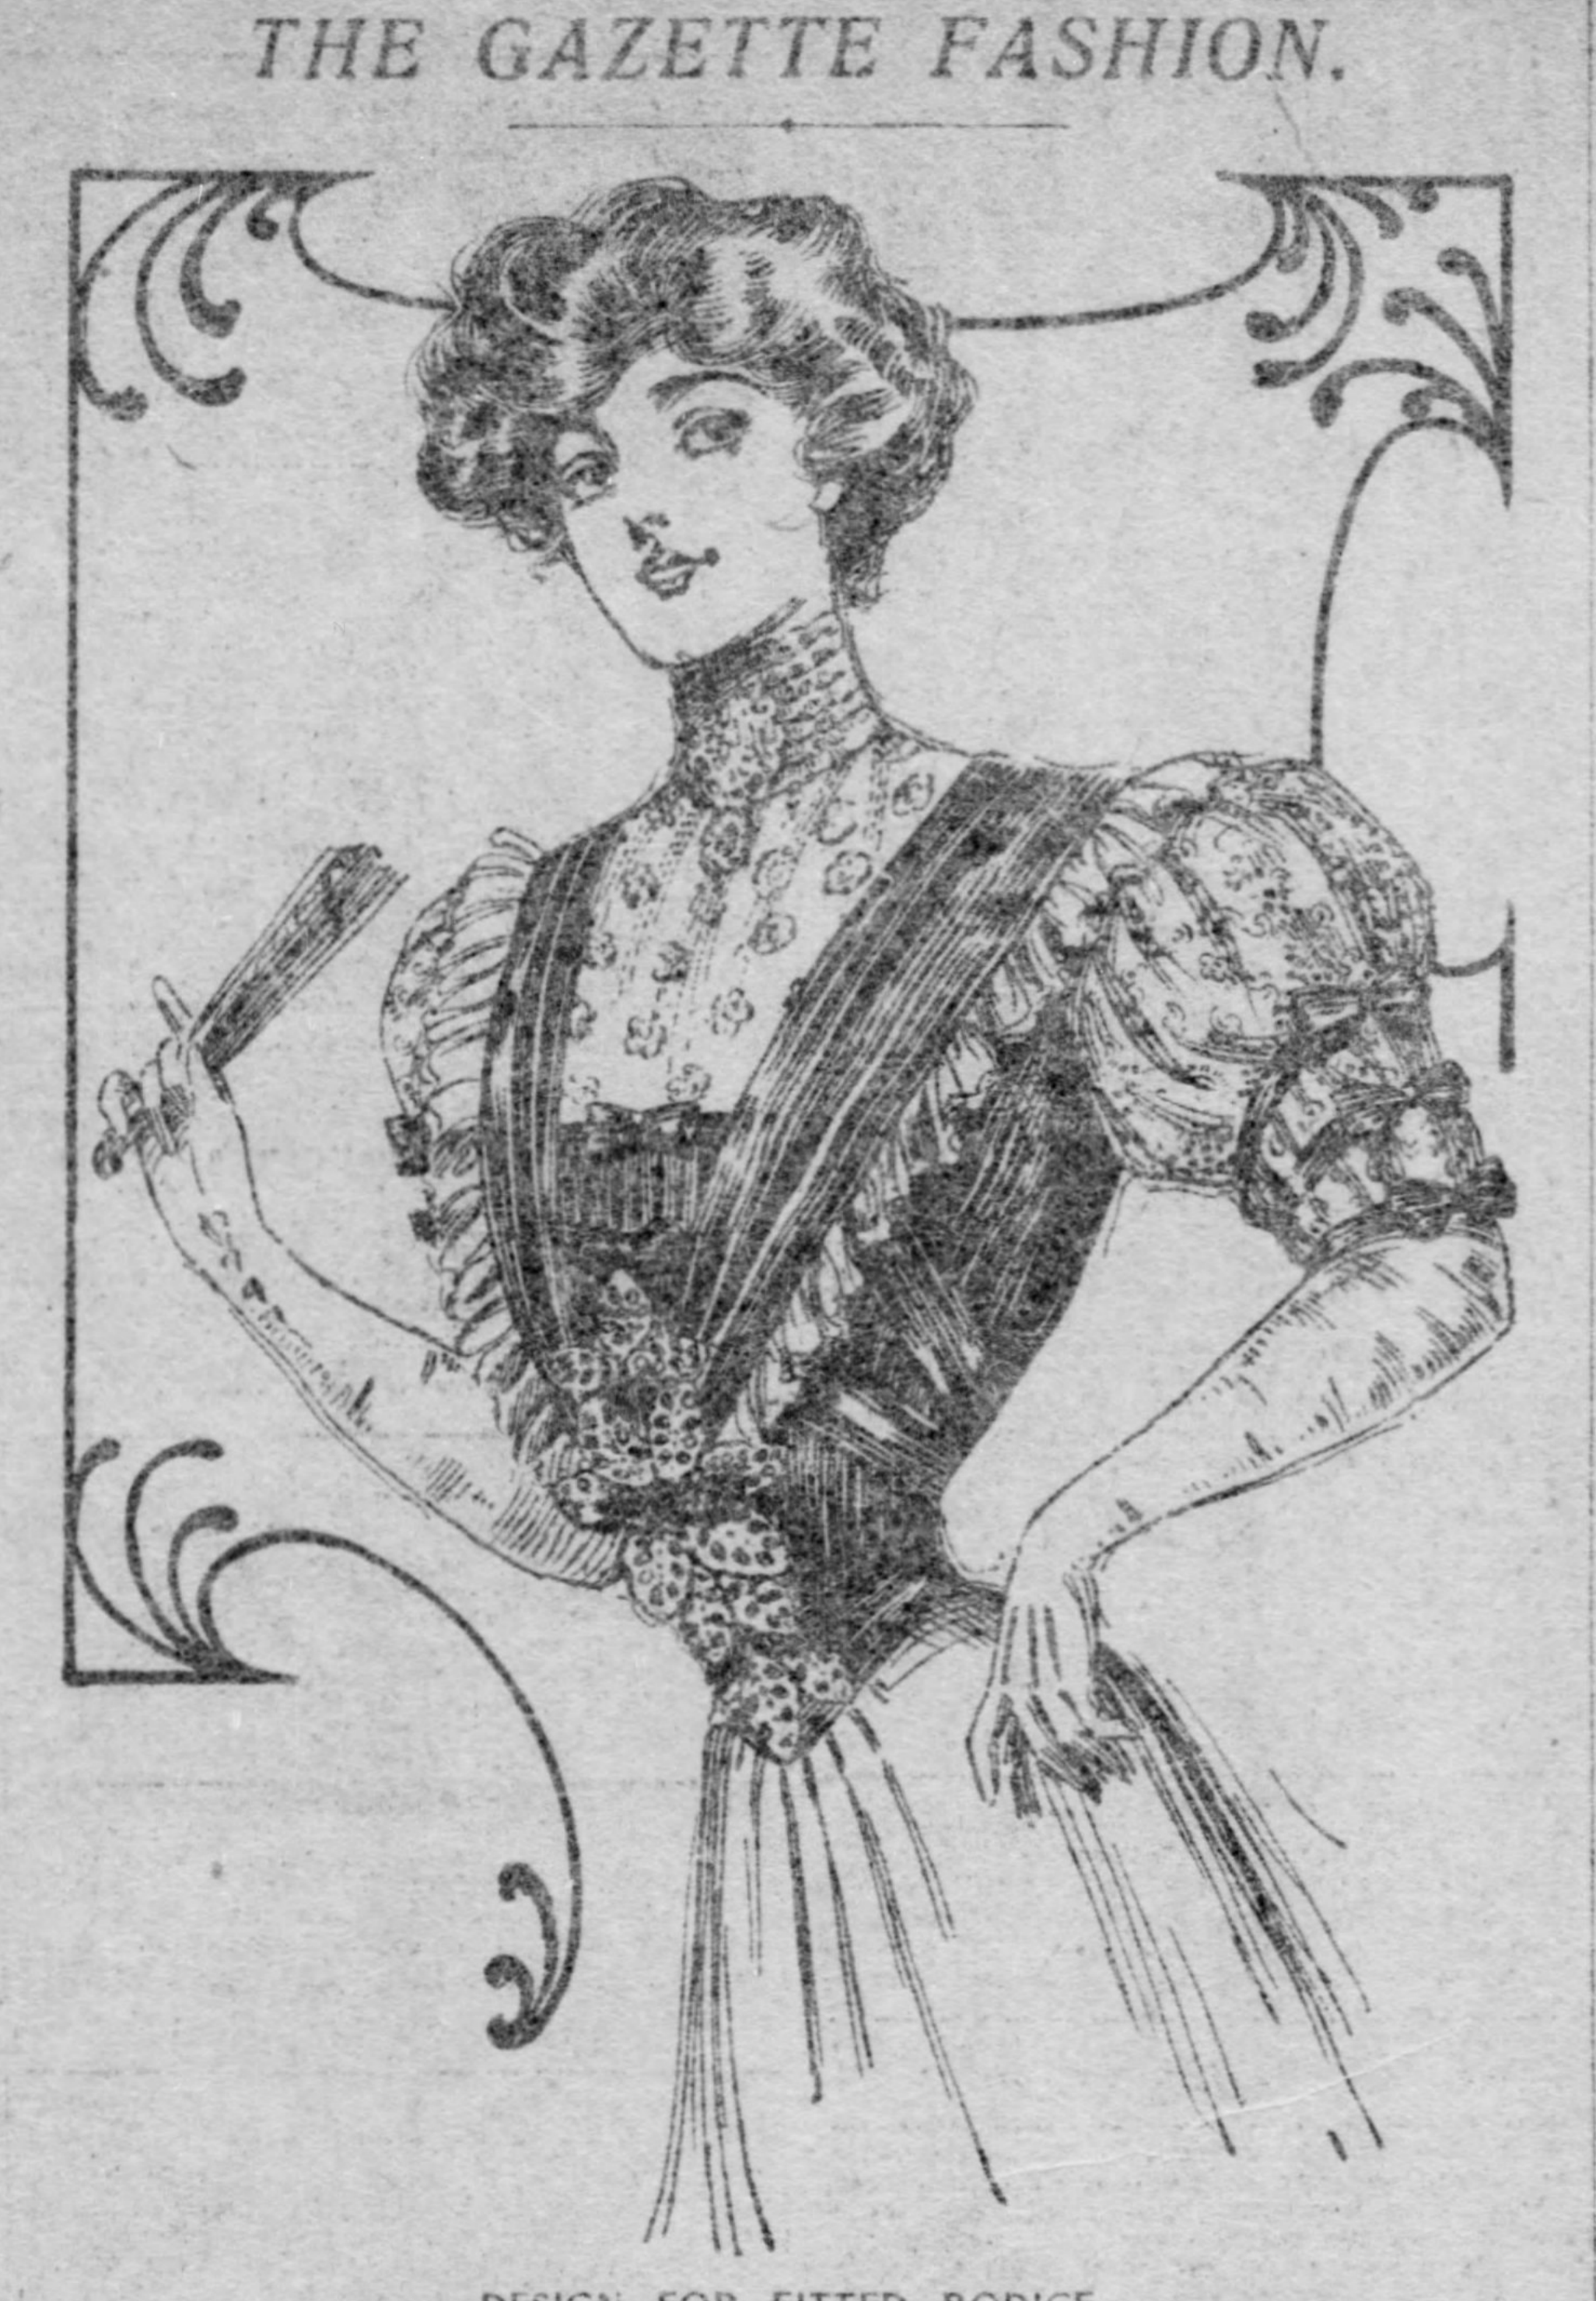
THE GAZETTE FASHION.

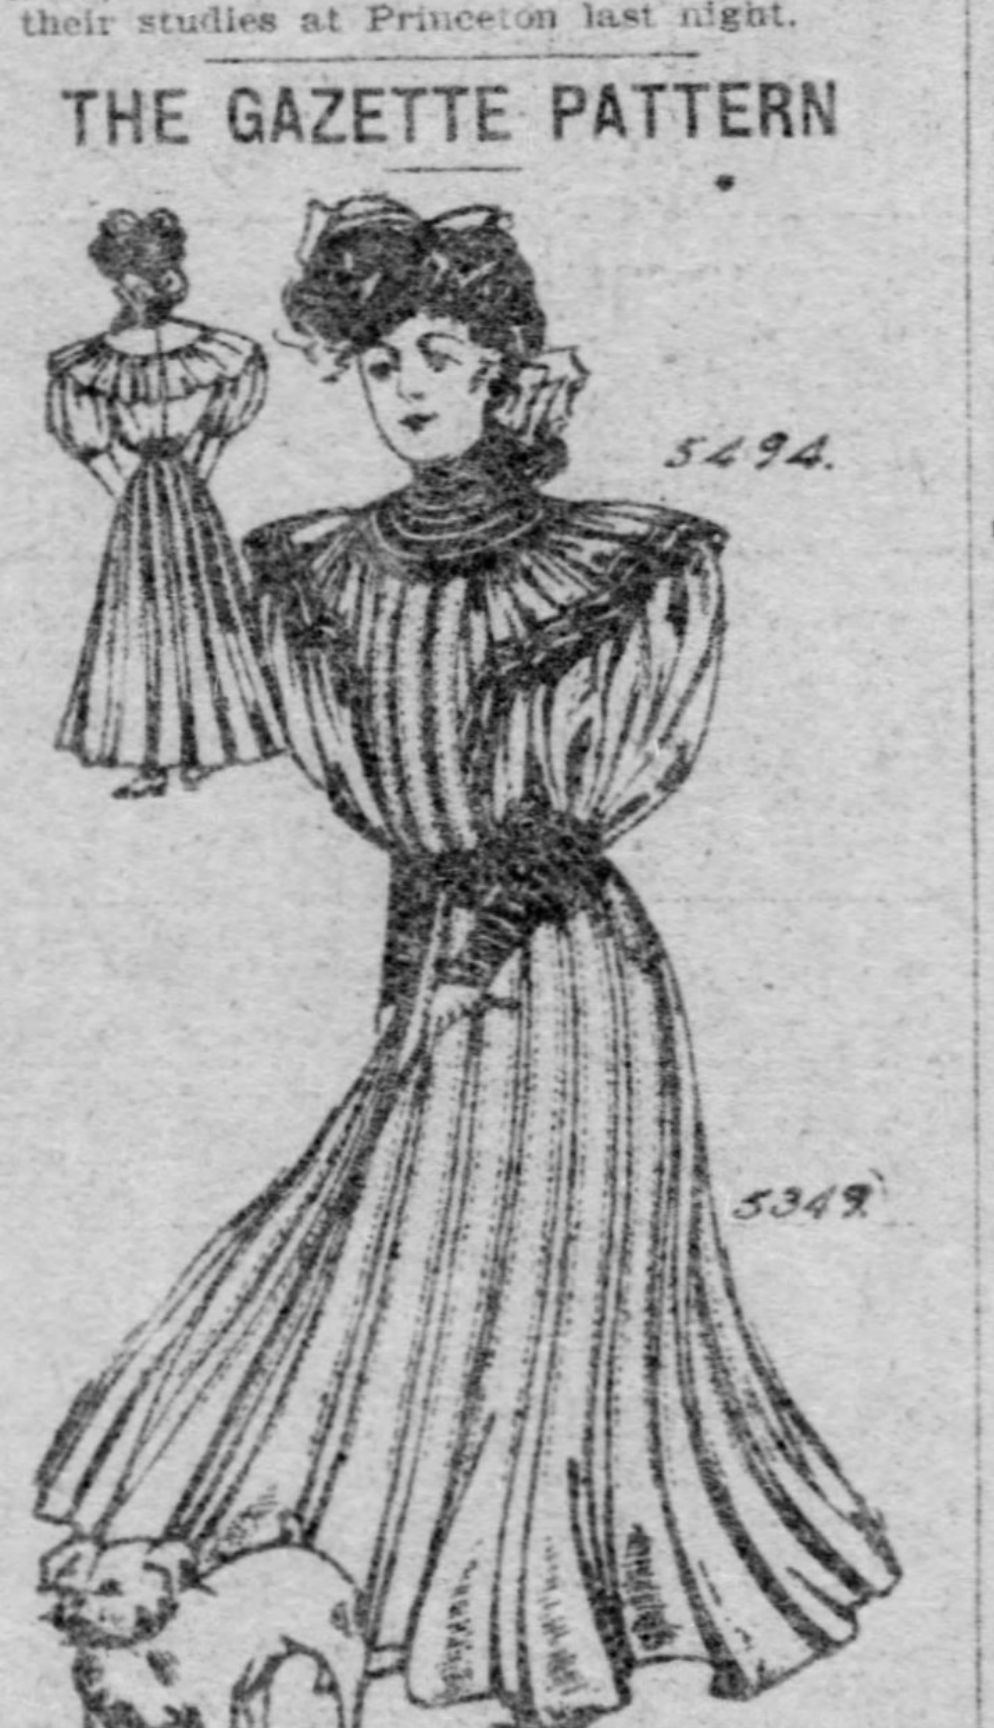


DESIGN FOR FITTED BODICE.

One of the latest vagaries of fashion shown in the shops is the fitted separate bodice. This model is in black silk chiffon, with a yoke of Alencon lace and trimmings of raspberry pink satin bands and bows. A fishu of the chiffon is bordered with black tulle over white and raspberry pink chiffon.

This model offers fertile suggestions for the renovator, whose services are in demand 'twixt seasons. A bodice which has done duty to the disparagement of the sleeves and yoke, can have the ungainly portions removed and substituted by a guimpe of lace or linen, as illustrated. Black and white effects are much used by practical women, and frequently instead of a touch of contrasting color silver and gold embroidery is used as a smart trimming. Nothing is more effective for dressy bodices, and used judiciously gold is superb, although silver is preferred by many because of its refinement and greater immunity from being overdone.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN



(Waist No. 5494. Skirt No. 5349) Misses' Costume.

This exceedingly attractive mode was developed in tan colored cashmere trimmed with narrow brown velvet. A fitted lining supports the full waist, that is gathered in the back and laid in three box-pleats in the front. A gathered frill falls over the puff sleeve, and extends down the front on each side of the box-pleats. Five gores are used in shaping the skirt, which is laid in tucks, stitched to simulate box-pleats. It flares modishly at the lower edge, and fits the hips closely. Henrietta, veiling, serge and albatross are all suggested for the making. The medium size will require 2¼ yards of 44-inch material for the waist and 4⅝ yards for the skirt.

Misses' Waist No. 5494: Sizes for 15, 16 and 17 years. Misses' Five-Gored Skirt No. 5349: Sizes for 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 years.

The above illustration calls for two separate patterns. The price is 10 cents for the waist and 10 cents for the skirt.

DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION MEET IN CONVENTION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The fifteenth continental congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution assembled here today. For the second time the proceedings were conducted in Continental hall, a building erected by the daughters. An unusually large representation of delegates was in attendance when the president general, Mrs. Donald McLean of New York, called the congress to order. Mrs. McLean received an ovation.

The congress was opened by prayer by the chaplain general, Mrs. Tunis S. Hamlin of this city, which was folowed by an address of welcome by the president general. Brief responses were made by Mrs. A. A. Kendall of Maine, Mrs. Charles B. Bryan of Tennessee, Mrs. William J. Crittenden of Michigan, Mrs. John A. Murphy of Ohio, Mrs. L. Bradford Prince of New Mexico, Mrs. John L. Stevens of Iowa, Mrs. John R. Walker of Missouri and Mrs. Mary Wood Swift of California.

The report of Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Main, chairman of the committee on credentials, was that during the past year the membership of the society increased from 51,662 to 56,028. The actual membership, however, was stated to be 45,636, the discrepancy between those figures and the number admitted being due to deaths, resignations and those dropped for non-payment of dues.

According to the rulings of the committee, 1,129 delegates are entitled to vote in the present campaign.

The Continental chapter of the District of Columbia entertained the visiting daughters. Mrs. Beach, the regent, made appropriate remarks. Mrs. Messenger, the chapter historian, read a paper, and Miss Ida Hinman, A. M., read an original poem, entitled "George Washington's Tree." A number of the regents of other chapters made appropriate remarks.

Guests Play "500."

"Five hundred" was played at an afternoon party of yesterday given by Mrs. Sherwood C. Martin of Atlantic avenue, East End, in honor of Miss Mildred Mary Andrews, a prospective bride of the month, and Miss Margaret Lee Davis of Philadelphia, who is visiting Miss Hester Oliver, Thomas boulevard. Six tables were called into play. Tomorrow Miss Davis will again be the honor guests at a luncheon and theater party to be given by Miss Agnes Irvine of Elysian avenue.

School Set Played "500."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Cunningham of "The Oaks," Sewickley, entertained at cards last evening for their son, Edward Gilmore Cunningham. "Five hundred" was played by 60 of the school set, and at the close of the game 12 prizes were awarded. Mrs. Cunningham was assisted by Mrs. James R. Gilmore and Miss E. Jane Cunningham Blair.

An Afternoon With Nevin.

"An Afternoon With Nevin" was the caption given to one of the most enjoyable programs ever presented before the Tourist club. The parlors of the Business Women's club, Arch street, Allegheny, were filled yesterday afternoon with members of the club and their guests, invited to listen to a talk of personal reminiscences of Ethelbert Nevin given by Mrs. George A. Gormley of Sewickley, who, as a neighbor and friend, knew the composer from his boyhood throughout his life. Through the assistance of Mrs. Nevin, Mrs. Gormly was able to tell much of Nevin only observed by his intimate friends. She sketched his boyhood in the quiet Sewickley home, his great passion for music and his ambition to go abroad where, in early manhood, he became a center, especially in Venice, for one of the most exclusive and brilliant coteries of poets, authors, musicians and painters. In a vellum bound book are retained by his widow the autographs, sketches and verses of the friends of those beautiful days on the Adriatic. As Mrs. Gormly sketched the career of Nevin and alluded to the occasion for the writing of his various works, those works were presented by the musical members of the club, who appeared beside the piano informally, their work seeming a spontaneous response to the words of the speaker. These interpretations include six of Nevin's songs and four of his piano compositions, rendered in a most sympathetic manner. Miss Marion Gaston sang "Oh! That We Two Were Maying," and "Rosary." Mrs. Arthur Thatcher's songs were "'Twas April" and "Good-night, Good-night, Beloved." Miss Edith Hanna sang "The Woodpecker" and Mighty Lak a Rose." The piano numbers included "Gondolieri" and "Venetian Love Song," given by Mrs. George B. Ewart, and "Narcissus" and "Slumber-Song," played by Miss Mary Ure. At the close of the afternoon the members and guests gave a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Gormly, and the secretary was instructed to write a leter to Mrs. Ethelbert Nevin.

The regular program for the afternoon was shortened to permit of Mrs. Gormly's talk. Only one paper was presented, on "Popular Education in Russia," by Mrs. John Pritchard. The music preceding the Nevin program consisted of piano numbers, Miss Beulah B. Wettach playing Raff's "Etude Melodique," and a "Minuett" by Beethoven. "The Butterfly," by Greig, and a Chopin nocturne were rendered by Mrs. George B. Ewart.

Southern Society's Social Gathering.

The Woman's Southern society gave a dance and card party last evening in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, Dithridge street. It was the only large social affair this season for the club members and their friends, the card party in the fall having been a benefit affair for the Pittsburgh Hospital for Children. The guests were received by the officers, including Mrs. Ellison L. Costin, first vice-president, who is acting president during the absence of the president, Mrs. Hugh Pendelton Allene, Mrs. Clarence Renshaw, treasurer, and Miss Lottie Price, the corresponding secretary, assisted by the chairmen of the various committees. Music was provided by a band and the young people danced, while those who preferred cards surrounded card tables which were arranged in the balcony, where the players could also overlook the ballroom. There were no prizes. There were simple decorations of palms about the stage. The affair was informal. The social committee was in entire charge of the arrangements, the committee being composed of Mrs. M. P. Whiting, chairman; Mrs. A. P. Burgwin, Mrs. H. T. Douglass, Mrs. Edward B. day, Mrs. J. P. Lindsay, Mrs. G. T. Ward, Mrs. C. A. Redick, Miss Matilda Alexander and Miss Henrietta Coston.

Delegates from John Hart Chapter.

Miss Clara Wishart and Miss Rose Guthrie Marsh accompanied their mothers, Mrs. W. W. Wishart and Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, to Washington, D. C., Sunday evening. Mrs. Wishart and the two girls will represent the John Hart chapter, Children of the American Revolution, at the annual convention of the national society, which opened yesterday in the chapel of the Church of the Covenant. Mrs. Wishart is regent of the John Hart Chapter and the girls are its delegates. The Children of the American Revolution will hold its meeting throughout the week until Thursday evening. Miss Marsh will leave Wednesday to return to school at Bryn Mawr. The local delegation, including the representatives of the John Hart chapter, and the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, leaving Sunday night for Washington, consisted of those already named, together with Mrs. Robert T. Reineman and Mrs. William McKelvy, who, with Mrs. Wishart and Mrs. Marsh, are delegates from the Pittsburgh chapter to the fifteenth Continental congress of the Daughters, which opened yesterday in the Captitol City, and Mrs. Robert Carson, Jr., and Mrs. John H. Hillman, alternates.

Canvassing Homestead for Pupils.

The committee appointed at the previous meeting to canvass Homestead to ascertain the number of children who would be permitted to attend a kindergarten if one were established in that town, reported yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's club. The committee has not yet finished its work, but the results thus far secured are encouraging. The next union meeting will be held in the United Presbyterian church of Homestead on Thursday afternoon, November 8, the visiting clubs being entertained by the Woman's club of Homestead. The program yesterday afternoon was interesting. The topic was journalism, and the opening paper "Modern Journalism," was read by Mrs. Elizabeth McCreery. A discussion of the principal species of wood grown in the United States and the uses to which they are put, was opened by Mrs. S. S. Wales. Miss Mary Taylor gave a magazine review and there was a general discussion of current topics.

Welcome Club Gives Entertainment.

The Welcome club, composed of girls, gave an entertainment in the Soho Baths Settlement house last evening which filled the assembly rooms to overflowing. The program was presented entirely by the members of the club, assisted by Mrs. William M. Turner. A group of Eugene Field's exquisite childhood songs were sung by Mrs. Turner, including "Little Boy Blue" and "Winken, Blinken and Nod." The program consisted of recitations by Leonore Williams, Emma Mandel and Josephine Gerston; a doll drill and song, entitled "Little Mothers," by a quartet of little people, Julia Owens, Margaret Repetty, Edith Jones and Sarah Palmer; a duet, "Soft and Low," sung by Fannie Page and Rhea Badgerow, and a violin solo, "Old Kentucky Home," played by little Edward Greenawalt.

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Caused a Continual Itching for Two Years—Doctor's Medicine Did no Good—Cured at Expense of only $1.25 and Now

THANKS CUTICURA FOR COMPLETE CURE

"Some time ago I wrote you for a book on the Cuticura Remedies and received it O. K. and went and bought the Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They did me more good than any medicine I ever used. They cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad., I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment, and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. If you wish, you may publish this. Your friend forever, Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. D. 2, Walnut, Kan., June 15, 1905."

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

SCRATCH! SCRATCH! SCRATCH! This is the condition of thousands of skin-tortured men, women, and children, who may be instantly relieved and speedily cured by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, when physicians and all else fail.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

POLITICAL NOTICES.

Headquarters of the Executive Committee of the Republican Party of Allegheny County.
416 Grant st.,
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 17, 1906.

To the Members of the Republican County Executive Committee and to the Electors of the Republican Party of Allegheny County:

A primary election will be held Saturday, the 26th day of May, A. D. 1906, between the hours of 2 and 7 o'clock p. m., for the election of delegates to the Republican state convention to be held at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 6, 1906.

Under the rules governing the Republican party of the state of Pennsylvania the legislative districts, as created and existing prior to the act of assembly approved February 15, 1906, in the county of Allegheny are entitled to elect delegates as follows:

The First Legislative district is entitled to elect three delegates; the Second Legislative district is entitled to elect four delegates; the Third Legislative district is entitled to elect four delegates; the Fourth Legislative district is entitled to elect one delegate; the Fifth Legislative district is entitled to elect 14 delegates; the Sixth Legislative district is entitled to elect eight delegates; the Seventh Legislative district is entitled to elect five delegates, and the Eighth Legislative district is entitled to elect seven delegates.

THOS. H. FORD,
Chairman.

Attest:
CHAS. A. MUEHLBRONNER,
Secretary.

REPUBLICAN CITY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
416 Grant Street.

NOTICE is hereby given to the members of the Republican City Executive Committee that at a meeting to be held on Thursday evening, April 19, 1906, in the Common Council Chamber, City Hall, at 8 o'clock, the following amendments to the rules, which were presented by Mr. J. S. Gillespie at a meeting held on Monday evening, April 9, 1906, will be brought before the meeting for action:

POLITICAL NOTICES.

"In place of Section 3 and Section 4 of Rule III, Primary Elections, insert the following:

"The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of the electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election in which he offers to vote are, or hereafter may be, required by law to prove their qualifications or identity, on election day.

"Each elector shall have the right to receive a ballot; Provided, That if he is challenged, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the next preceding general election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of the Republican party.

"Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called, and to cast his vote according to law."

RULE VII.

Strike out all of Rule VII, as follows:

"None of the foregoing rules shall be changed or amended by the present committee, excepting in the following manner:

"All amendments shall be presented at a meeting of the City Executive Committee, and such amendment or amendments shall not be voted upon until the next succeeding meeting, which shall be held not less than 10 days thereafter.

"Notice by postal card or letter shall be mailed to each member, with notice of the proposed amendment or amendments, and time of meeting and by publication in at least two (2) Republican newspapers for a period of at least two (2) days.

"The said amendment or amendments shall not be adopted, unless it receives the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present."

All are requested to be present.

By order of

M. G. LESLIE,
Chairman.

Attest:
ROBERT OSTERMAIER,
Secretary.

Homeseekers can save time by coming direct to our Ben Avon office, Forest ave., Ben Avon, near Emsworth station, or a little walk from the end of the Avalon trolley line, first telephoning to "125-R Emsworth," stating time of train arrival, and one of our men will meet them at the station. All the properties we advertise here are located in the very best part of Ben Avon borough, but the nearest station to the property is Emsworth, on the Ft. Wayne road. There are many reasons why homeseekers and renters should investigate the desirability of Ben Avon as a residence section. Ben Avon has pure water, pure air, freedom from smoke, good schools, good churches, neighborhood unsurpassed in any borough in the county, 6 miles from the city, 40 trains daily; time by train is 14 minutes, by trolley 35 minutes; streets all sidewalked and sewered, and all will be paved during the coming year. Prices lower than any other borough so conveniently situated as Ben Avon. Moderate priced houses, as well as high class residences now on our books, and for sale on reasonable terms. Homeseekers can examine all these properties and be back in the city within one hour. We are headquarters for Ben Avon property, lots as well as houses.

NOTICE OF RECEIVER'S SALE OF TITUSVILLE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

Notice is hereby given that the receiver of the

TITUSVILLE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY,

In pursuance of an order of the United States Circuit Court for the western district of Pennsylvania, authorizing the same, will, on

at 2 O'CLOCK P. M.,
expose at PUBLIC SALE, at the
COURT HOUSE IN THE CITY OF MEADVILLE,

in the county of Crawford, and sell, free from liens and encumbrances, to the highest bidder, the following described property:

First—That certain lot of ground situate in the

THIRD WARD OF THE CITY OF TITUSVILLE,

in the county of Crawford, and state of Pennsylvania, at the southeast corner of having a frontage of forty (40) feet on Mechanic st., and extending along Washington st., in a southerly direction, preserving the same width, a distance of ninety (90) feet, and being part of lot number sixty-eight (68) in John Moore's addition to the City of Titusville.

Second—That certain lot of ground situate in the

THIRD WARD OF THE CITY OF TITUSVILLE,

in the county of Crawford, and state of Pennsylvania, at the southwest corner of having a frontage of sixty (60) feet on Mechanic st., and extending in a southerly direction, preserving the same width, one hundred and eighty-seven and one-half (187½) feet, and being known as lot number seventy-four (74) in E. H. Chase's addition to the City of Titusville, under and subject to the right of way of the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad over and across the southern end thereof, upon which its switch is now located; and having erected thereon a brick building adjoining said switch, fifty-nine (59) feet in width by seventy (70) feet in length, and having installed therein engines, boilers, pumps, condensers, dynamos, switchboard, electric apparatus, machinery, fixtures, tools, devices and appliances; and also all the poles, wires, fuel, supplies, material and property on hand, used in connection therewith, and known as the or works, and generally all the property, rights, privileges and franchises thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining for the maintenance, repair and use of the said electric light plant, or in the business of said company.

MECHANIC STREET AND WASHINGTON STREET,

The sale will be made subject to the approval of the court, and the two pieces of real estate above described will be offered separately and as a whole.

N. Y. STOCKS ACTIVE, BUT PRICES IRREGULAR

Copper and the U. S. Steel Issues Led the Early Advance—Call Loans Easier—On the Local Exchange Prices Averaged Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a rather buoyant market for New York stocks at the opening yesterday, and prices advanced under the leadership of Amalgamated Copper, the Steel issues, and the high-grade railroads. Later in the day the volume of trading fell off, and during the final hour a reaction set in which wiped out many of the previous gains. The close was irregular, with the average of prices at or near the lowest of the day. The sales foot up 893,500 shares.

There was no market in London, and Wall street therefore received no impetus from that center, but the announcement that $1,100,000 more gold had been engaged for shipment to New York was a favorable bit of news. The returns from the clearing-house, showing that the New York banks had gained $13,919,000 from the sub-treasury on Saturday, making nearly $16,000,000 gained since the last bank statement was made up, revealed the effects of Secretary Shaw's innovation in aiding the banks in making immediately available gold engaged abroad. The effect upon the money market was also very apparent, call loans ruling between 4 and 5½ per cent, and averaging about 5 per cent, while time loans were ¼ to ½ per cent lower than the average rate last week.

While the dealings during the morning session were marked by animation, it subsequently developed that traders were responsible for the activity, and that business for account of the public is still lacking. If the money market last week was not manipulated—and the number of persons to take this view is increasing—then the importation of a few millions of gold will not furnish the means for a big bull market. The latter, on the contrary, would soon bring about a repetition of last week's experience. Besides this, on the arrival of the gold now in transit, the banks will have to return the funds which Secretary Shaw's new order made available, so that the money market will be in no better position a week hence after the gold arrives than it is today. Wall street cannot eat its cake and still have it.

The strength in United States Steel had a stimulating effect upon sentiment. The common rallied to 44⅛, the preferred to 109½, and the sinking fund bonds to 100, yesterday being the first time in the history of the Corporation that these bonds have sold at par. They closed at the top, while the common stock closed only ⅛ higher and the preferred unchanged. American Locomotive was the strongest of the minor industrials, advancing 1 per cent to 71¼, but it subsequently reacted to 69½, and closed at 69¾. Pressed Steel Car closed 1½ higher, and Railway Steel Springs ⅝ higher. The advance in Amalgamated Copper, which crossed 115, was based upon expectations of an extra dividend this week. The stock did not hold its gain, however, and closed ⅜ lower than on Saturday. The Boston market for copper stocks was more active and buoyant than for weeks past, based upon reports as to the condition of the copper trade. A large number of minor industrials became active during the day, the strongest of these being American Ice and American Beet Sugar.

Pennsylvania resisted the reactionary tendency of the market during the latter part of the day and closed strong at a net advance of ⅞ per cent. Reading closed ¾ lower, while the other members of this group were only slightly changed. There was much irregularity among the other railroad stocks. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific closed a fraction lower, while Great Northern preferred closed 2½ higher and Northern Pacific ¾ higher.

Crucible Steel preferred was the strongest stock in the local market, advancing to 81½—one small lot changed hands at 81½—and closing at 81¼, a net gain of ⅞ per cent. The movement was aided by the semi-official announcement that the company is maturing plans for a plant for the manufacture of railway steel springs. Crucible common rallied to 14⅞ and closed at 14¾ bid. United States Steel common was also strong and higher, but did not retain its gain, following the reaction in New York. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas was the weakest stock in the market, selling down to 41 and closing offered at 40¼, a net loss of 3¾ per cent. It was reported that the directors of the company would meet on Thursday to take action on the dividend. The other natural gas stocks were dull but steady. Independent Brewing common was strong and higher, advancing to and closing at 14¾ bid. Pittsburgh Brewing common declined to and closed at 29¼. The only transaction in Pittsburgh Coal preferred was five shares at 55. There was no quotation for regular lots. Westinghouse stocks were dull but steady. In the mining department Cable Consolidated declined from 70c to 67c on sales of 7,230 shares. Tonopah Extension sold at 11¼ to 11½. There were no transactions in bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

While the New York money market yesterday was easier than it has been in three weeks, the situation was still under discussion in Wall street, and particularly that phase of it connected with Secretary Shaw's order permitting the deposit of acceptable bonds as security for additional deposits up to $5,000,000 to any national bank desiring to import gold. Secreary Shaw was quoted in New York yesterday as saying that he found the situation last week one of extreme urgency in which the national banks were unable to give relief to borrowers and were confronted by obstacles abroad to a free importation of gold when the rates of sterling exchange had reached a point where gold ought to have been imported. Some of the private banking houses which deal in foreign exchange and which have been accustomed to import gold declared that so long as the secretary's plan remained in operation they will be unable to make any further importations as they have not the same facilities as national banks for carrying large blocks of bonds to offer as security. Their business, they asserted, would be ruined under this plan. One foreign banker asserted that the United States banks will not get a single extra gold shipment because of Mr. Shaw's plan, but said the importations might begin a day or two earlier than they ordinarily would. A friend of Secretary Shaw said that the secretary maintained that the plan will benefit the foreign exchange houses as well as the national banks, as they will get the immediate use of their gold, as do the banks. There was a disposition among stock market operators to construe the secretary's action as bearish, or at least as not justifying a resumption of bull speculation which would render again necessary a resort to extraordinary measures in order to avert another situation of "extreme urgency."

Mr. Robert D. Book, member of the local banking firm of Robinson Bros., who spent last week in New York, said yesterday that he had returned fully convinced that the stringency in the money market last week was not artificial, and that manipulation had little to do with the high rates. He met a number of the leading bankers in New York and was assured that it was a case of urgency that prompted the calling of loans, while the faith of stock exchange operators in the future of prices induced them to pay temporarily high rates for call loans rather than to liquidate their holdings. Banking opinion in both New York and Philadelphia is practically agreed on the soundness of commercial conditions, and the belief is entertained that the money market will gradually return to a normal condition.

After the close of the market, the Wall street correspondent of Scully, Painter & Beech wired this message: "The unexpected action of Secretary Shaw was, of course, the main topic of conversation all day. The measures which he has adopted undoubtedly were most efficacious in relieving the extreme stringency of the money market, temporarily at least, but there is much dissatisfaction expressed by outside exchange brokers and trust companies, not only over the favoritism shown to the national banks in this matter, but also owing to the fact that this action was kept concealed for several days after it was taken."

One of the Wall street correspondents of Henry Sproul & Co., who has been sending cautionary advice regarding the money market for two weeks past, wired this message after the close of the market: "Shaw last week saved the stock market from a very serious break, and it is our belief that it was not saved in order that speculation for the rise might be facilitated or that stocks might be advanced indefinitely. The judicious exercise of a little common sense should make it clear to any one that Secretary Shaw did not use the powers of his high office because of possibilities of trouble to some of the speculative fraternity, but because monetary conditions demanded his interference. We are not predicting another period of stringency, nor are we predicting a serious break in the market, but we do think that a conservative attitude should be maintained towards the market for a little while longer.

A New York dispatch to The Gazette said: "The fact that London observed the Easter Monday holiday today left open the question as to what effect would be produced both on the stock market and on money rates in London as the result of the forced withdrawals of gold from transfer for New York account. An unfavorable effect on the London market might have a reflex effect here in spite of the direct benefit to New York of the gold supply secured. English newspaper comment on the situation gave evidence of some apprehension as to the results in London. Last week's engagement of gold received additions to the amount of $3,100,000, including an engagement made on Saturday too late to be reported. Today's statement of sub-treasury operations with the banks showed a loss in cash by the government institution of $18,919,000, making a total loss thus far for the banking week of $16,886,000. This is due of course to the deposit of government funds with the banks against engagements of gold, under the plan of the secretary of the treasury announced Saturday. This gain by the banks will figure in next Saturday's bank statement. Under the secretary's plan, however, the banks receiving these sums will cover them back into the sub-treasury upon the arrival of gold. The strength of the Saturday bank statement is thus seen to have been achieved without the operation of the new plan for facilitating gold imports. Quotations on New York exchange at interior points today indicated that the flow of currency to this center which set in last week was still in force. There was very active discussion in banking circles of the new plan of United States treasury measures to stimulate gold imports. In stock exchange circles the fact that a new precedent has been set in the matter caused an undercurrent of apprehension that conditions in the money market had been more serious than commonly supposed to prompt such a departure from established custom."

North Butte was the most active stock in the Boston market yesterday, the sales reaching 10,695 shares. The price opened higher at 91, advanced to 93¾, declined to 90, and closed at 90½ bid. Lawson was out in a bulletin attacking the legitimacy of some of the stock exchange transactions in this stock and United Copper, but his allegations have lost their effect upon public sentiment. The annual report of the North Butte Mining Company states that for the first fiscal year the company produced 30,954,788 pounds of copper which was sold at 16.47 cents a pound. The gross value of the ore was $5,005,788, operating expenses, $2,285,117, and net profits, $2,720,670, or $7 on each share of capital stock.

Pennsylvania railroad bonds were again the active features of the New York market yesterday. Sales included $162,000 convertible 3½s at 101½; $492,000 3½s of 1915 at 96¼@96½, and $30,000 3½s of 1916 at 97½.

In the local curb market Black Hills Copper rallied from 32c to 38c, and Golden Anchor to $1 05.

The house of representatives yesterday under suspension of the rules, took up and passed the Shartel bill, authorizing national banks to loan 10 per cent on the surplus as well as on the capital stock, the surplus not to exceed the amount of the capital stock as the basis for loans.

Independent Brewing common advanced to and closed at 14¾ bid, the highest price this year.

The officers and directors of the South Side Trust Company of Pittsburgh have issued invitations for an inspection of the new banking house, Fifth avenue and Cherry alley, this afternoon, between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock.

Gross earnings of Missouri Pacific for February increased $718,455, and net increased $621,510.

Guesses on the Amalgamated Copper dividend, to be declared next Thursday, range all the way from 1½ regular and ½ per cent extra, to 2 per cent quarterly.

The report from Albany that the legislature contemplated an investigation of New York banks and trust companies, was credited with influencing the late reaction in the market.

An officer of American Can is quoted as saying that the subject of increasing the dividend on the preferred stock is unlikely to come up before the end of the year.

The anthracite coal operators are scheduled to meet today to draft a formal reply to the miners' last proposal.

It is said that the earnings of Diamond Match for the first quarter of the year were the largest in the histry of the company.

U. S. Steel sinking fund 5s sold yesterday at 100, the highest in the history of the corporation. In November, 1903, they touched 65, which was the low point. Two years ago this month they sold at 75.

This week's Boston bank statement shows a decrease of $616,000 in loans and an increase of $377,857 in reserve.

The statement of our foreign commerce for March, issued yesterday, shows the largest imports of merchandise for any month in the history of the country. Following is a summary of merchandise imports and exports for the month:

TWO MONTHS' RECORD
PITTSBURGH BULLFROG
MINING CORPORATION, LIMITED

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

President, WILLIAM SCOTT, Pittsburgh, Pa. Formerly Pres. Consolidated Ice Co., Pittsburgh.
Vice President, BERT L. SMITH, Bullfrog, Nev. Vice Pres. South Nevada Banking Co., Bullfrog.
Treasurer, F. H. STICKNEY, Bullfrog, Nev. Cashier South Nevada Banking Co., Bullfrog.
Secretary, NEVILLE BAYLEY, Pittsburgh, Pa. Member of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange.
FRANK BONNEAU, Bullfrog, Nev. Pres. Shoshone Bullfrog Mining Co., Bullfrog.
STOCK REGISTERED WITH COLONIAL TRUST CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

EVERY MINE IN THE BULLFROG DISTRICT that had the surface indications has made good when properly developed.

WE MAKE NO PROPHESIES—but if the next two months show as rapid progress as the last two (and we believe they will do better), the stockholders of this corporation will have a MINE—and a big one.

THE FIRST WORK DONE was about 1,000 linear feet of trenching from 4 to 6 ft. deep across the ground at both ends of the property. Feb. 17th a vein five feet wide was uncovered on the north end of the Sapper claim. Feb. 22nd a second vein, 7 feet wide, was uncovered on the Sapper, 35 feet from the first one. Three shafts are now down on this claim; one 20 feet deep, one 32 and one 40 feet deep. Strong indications of a known parallel vein to the Shoshone having been found on the Cora claim, another shaft has been started there, from which we hope for good reports at an early date.

OUR MAIN SHAFT, a double-compartment, 4½x8½ ft. in the clear and thoroughly timbered, has been sunk on the south end of the Canton claim. This shaft is in the SAME FORMATION OF QUARTZ AND WHITE TALC that identifies the Montgomery Shoshone vein everywhere, and that carries the highest values in the Bullfrog district; and with LESS THAN TWO MONTHS' WORK is now down EIGHTY feet. It is proposed to sink to 150 feet before cross-cutting.

NOT A PROPERTY IN THE DISTRICT has been more energetically developed than the Pittsburgh Bullfrog; in fact, the work of our engineer, G. E. Bailey, E. M., Ph. D., has aroused the admiration and been the talk of the entire district.

TWO FULLY-EQUIPPED BLACKSMITH SHOPS, one on each end of the property, have been built, with bunk house, dining room and kitchen for the accommodation of the 30 miners now at work; and more men are being added as the work advances. Both shops have been connected by meter with the Rhyolite Water Company's pipe line, which crosses the properties, so that we do not have to haul water. A private auto road across the properties has been constructed, and connection made with the main road to Rhyolite. A 25-h. p. hoist has been installed at the Canton shaft, and a diamond drill has been purchased and is now on the way to the properties.

ASSAYS HAVE RUN AS HIGH AS $138 GOLD to the ton, with averages of $20.80 at 20 ft. depth, when the shafts had not even gone through the cap rock, under which the large ore bodies and high values are always found. With railroad connection, $10 ore can be worked at a profit.

THE LAS VEGAS RAILROAD will reach the properties by the 15th of May, if not before—thus giving us exceptional transportation facilities.

SINCE OUR DISCOVERIES on the Sapper claim, the Schwab and Helvetia people have taken up properties 1,200 yards north of it, and are developing same, as they are satisfied the Shoshone belt goes through their lands; this means that the Shoshone belt is both north and south of us, and consequently must be in our ground.

IN VIEW OF THESE FACTS, OUR STOCK IS WORTH MORE THAN THE PRESENT PRICE, AND IT WILL THEREFORE ADVANCE TO 55 Cents Per Share On and After April 21st.

IT COSTS MONEY TO MAKE A MINE; but we shall make a mine out of this property, for the ore is there. All the indications, and all the development work done so far prove it.

WE HAVE ONLY TOLD YOU in all our statements what we believed; thus far our beliefs have been MORE than realized; and we now believe absolutely that every Pittsburgh Bullfrog stockholder is going to receive as great returns on his investment as any Nevada mine, except Comstock, has ever paid.

SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED by check to the order of this corporation for the entire amount of shares desired, at 45 cents per share. No subscription accepted for less than 100 shares. All mail orders to secure stock at 45 cents must bear postmark not later than April 21st, 1906.

AS BOTH our preceding issues were largely over-subscribed, we advise reservations by telegraph, which may be made at our expense, remittance to follow by NEXT MAIL.

FAVORABLE WEATHER WEAKENS WHEAT PRICES

Market Weak for the Greater Part of the Day and May Delivery Falls Off.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 16.—Favorable weather for farm work in the northwest caused profit-taking in the local wheat market today, and weakened prices materially. At the close wheat for May delivery was off ½@⅝c. Corn was up ⅝c. Oats were down ½c. Provisions were 7½ to 12½c higher.

The wheat market was weak for the greater part of the day. At the opening the May option was off ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c at 79⅝ to 79¾c. The news of the day was for the most part favorable to the bears. World's shipments for the week were larger than had been previously estimated, the total movement being 9,360,000 bushels, and the amount on ocean passage increased only 368,000 bushels, against an increase of 1,120,000 bushels last year. Primary receipts were large, being 496,000 bushels, against 433,000 bushels one year ago.

In addition to these statistics weather conditions in this country were extremely favorable both for the growing crop and seeding operations in the northwest. This last was an important factor in depressing prices. At 79c the May delivery touched the lowest point of the day. Within the last half hour part of the loss was regained on covering by shorts. The market closed fairly steady, with May at 79⅜c. July sold between 78⅜ and 79c and closed at a loss of ⅛@⅜c at 78¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 342,000 bushels. The visible supply decreased 357,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 416 cars, against 345 cars last week and 259 cars one year ago.

The corn market was strong all day. There was an active demand by shorts and cash houses, but offerings were only moderate in quantity. Small local receipts, continued large shipments from Chicago and a decrease of 1,202,000 bushels in the visible supply were the chief causes of strength in the market. The close was strong, with prices almost at the highest point of the day. May opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 46⅛ to 46¼c, advanced to 46⅞@47c and closed at 46⅞c. July ranged between 45⅞ and 46¼c and closed at 46⅛c. Local receipts were 156 cars, with three cars of contract grade.

Because of persistent realizing by prominent bulls a weak tone prevailed in the oats market. Commission houses were free sellers and offerings were taken principally by shorts. The favorable weather for seeding was the chief depressing influence. May opened ¼@⅜ to ½@⅝c lower at 31¾ to 32c, sold at 32⅛@32¼c and then declined to 31⅝@31¾c. The close was at 31¾@31⅞c. July ranged between 30⅝ and 31@31⅛c and closed at 30⅝@30¾c. Local receipts were 123 cars.

Provisions were firm throughout the day, chiefly because of a 5c advance in the price of live hogs. A local packer was an active buyer of ribs. At the close July pork was up 7½c at $16 27½. Lard was up 10c at $8 90. Ribs were 12½c higher at $8 92½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow are: Wheat, 6 cars; corn, 172 cars; oats, 138 cars; hogs, 18,000 head.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points in the absence of important offerings. There were no cables owing to the continued holiday in the foreign markets and trading here was very quiet except for some future switching from May to later positions. The close was dull net unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 53,500 bags, including May at $6 55@6 60; July, $6 75; September, $6 95; December, $7 25 and March 7 45. Molasses quiet. Evaporated Fruits.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Evaporated apples are cleaning up on spot and offerings are very light. Fair to good are quoted at 8⅞@9c; nearly to strict prime, 9⅛@9¾c; choice, 10c; fancy, 11c. Prunes are very firm in tone, but prices are without quotable change and range from 4¾ to 8c, according to grade. Apricots are practically cleaned up on spot and prices are more or less nominal in the absence of business. Choice are quoted at 11c; extra choice, 11¼@12c; fancy, 12@13½c. Peaches have been more active during the last few days and available supplies are lighter. Choice are quoted at 10¼@10½c; extra choice, 10⅝@11c; fancy, 11@11½c; extra fancy, 11½@12c. Raisins are unchanged. Loose Muscatels are quoted at 6@6⅝c; seeded raisins, 5¼@7⅝c; London layers, $1 50@1 60.

STOCKS IRREGULAR IN A MODERATE MARKET

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

Stocks were highly irregular yesterday, in a market of moderate activity. The opening was strong and active, with the principal activity, however, concentrated chiefly upon the issues of both the large and small pools. The aggressive character of the pool operations forced some further short covering and might have forced more, but for the fact that the professional trading element speedily discovered that stock was being freely "fed out" to them on the advance. The market became irregular under the extensive profit-taking and distribution sales. In the late trading, while stocks of some of the more important pools were declining, some of the smaller pools succeeded in well maintaining their early improvement. The character of the trading underwent no observable change, and still continued professional. The failure of public response to the treasury-assisted gold imports, attracted considerable attention at the close.

Speculative sentiment continued very much mixed in the market yesterday. The professional element, committed to the bull side of the market, at the close of the day did not conceal their disappointment over the failure of the public to respond to Saturday's treasury relief announcement. Many of them held that Wall street did not fully appreciate the full extent of the improvement occasioned by Secretary Shaw's action in making short-time loans to facilitate gold imports. The bearish element, on the other hand, maintained that the situation must have been bad indeed to induce the secretary to take such an unusual step, and the report gained currency that Europe was likely to place an unfavorable interpretation upon the unusual proceeding. As a matter of fact, many persons figured out that the gold imports would be used for the purpose of distributing stocks, and were apparently forehanded in selling a little along with the insiders.

WABASH WILL SOON STEP IN

In the figures of last week's traffic over Pittsburgh & Lake Erie lines it is found that last Thursday was a record-breaking day. There were 9,107 cars moved on the company's lines within the 24 hours ending Thursday midnight. This was about 300 cars better than any previous record. On the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie division there were 1,738 loaded cars and 13 empties handled northbound, and 572 loaded cars and 1,678 empties southbound. This did not include movements on the Monongahela and Youghiogheny divisions, where the heaviest coal tonnage originates. This high record is all the more interesting because of traffic conditions being somewhat disrupted by the threatened coal strike on April 1. On almost all local roads coal traffic has again resumed a normal state.

Rivalry Comes on Anew.

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie officers are just now considering changes in passenger train schedules and new service, which if adopted finally today by the transportation department, will rival the Pennsylvania system in service to Cleveland, Brownsville and Beaver Falls. Some time ago the Pennsylvania improved its Pittsburgh-Cleveland service, and its fastest trains now make the time in 3 hours and 15 minutes. This brought the subject afresh to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie officers, and it is now expected that this Pennsylvania service will be met, and possibly bettered. The Brownsville service will probably be improved by running an extra Sunday train in either direction. The schedule changes will come April 29.

Soon to Have Steel Traffic.

Traffic for Wabash lines will pick up in a few weeks in such a manner as to place that road on an equality with other local lines as a freight handler. This will come about through the completion of the connecting link between the West Side Belt and Union railroads. This work is progressing rapidly under day and night forces. There is a rivalry between Carnegie Steel company and Wabash construction men as to which force will complete its portion of the eight-mile line first.

Bailey's Time to Entertain.

It was John Bailey's time to entertain Sunday and yesterday, and his friends testify that he did it in good fashion. Mr. Bailey is freight and ticket agent for the Pennsylvania Company at Economy, on the Ft. Wayne route, and on Sunday he "opened shop" in a new station building. The station is modern in construction and is an improvement for the quaint old village. For a long time this station has been known locally as French Point.

Railroad Notes.

S. D. Brady, chief engineer of the Buckhannon & Northern and other "Little Kanawha syndicate" roads, was here from Parkersburg yesterday, conferring with Vice President Schoonmaker and Chief Engineer Atwood of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

Vice President Schoonmaker made an inspection of Pittsburgh & Lake Erie conditions at Youngstown yesterday.

Supt. A. G. Mitchell of the Pennsylvania's Monongahela division spent yesterday in Philadelphia attending a meeting and conferring with general officers.

Traveling Freight Agent Wolf of the Clover Leaf route was here booking traffic and conferring with railroad men.

General Agent Ralph E. Lawrence of Wheeling conferred with General Freight Agent Booth on Wabash matters yesterday.

James Horsburgh, Jr., formerly assistant general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, has been promoted to general passenger agent at San Francisco to succeed T. H. Goodman, retired. Paul Shoup succeeds Mr. Horsburgh.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, April 16.—The drygoods market today opened with a better business in the jobbing houses and at first hands from mail orders. Although the tone of the market was stronger, it did not tend toward higher values, the disposition of buyers now being apparently to provide for their needs for the next three months.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

WOOD STREET LOT REPORTED SOLD

Deal Involves George W. Eberhardt Property at 112-114 and Price Is $240,000.

LARGE WAREHOUSE PROJECT

The sale is reported of the property of George W. Eberhardt, at the southeast corner of Wood street and Second avenue, for $240,000, or $5,000 a front foot. No mention of the buyer or broker who handled the deal could be obtained yesterday, although it is said the deal was closed several days ago. The price reported is exactly $95,000 more than Mr. Eberhardt paid for the property in 1902, when he secured it from J. G. B. McAuley for $145,000, giving in exchange six apartment houses in Mathilda street, Twentieth ward. The lot is 48x92 feet and is improved with a four-story brick store and warehouse building known as 112-114 Wood street. This was remodeled and repainted last year at considerable cost. A few months ago Mr. Eberhardt sold the adjoining lots, which he also secured in 1902, to Isaac Kaufmann, and an eight-story warehouse is now being erected on that site. The sale of the corner property is at the rate of $54 35 a square foot.

Another big warehouse is to be built in the outer Second avenue district by H. Allen Machesney, owner of the Machesney building now nearing completion in Fourth avenue, next to the stock exchange. It will stand on a lot 73x143 feet at 1526-1528. The site extends back from Second avenue to the Monongahela river, all the river rights belonging to the property title. The building will be a six-story brick and steel structure, which will run back nearly to the river, and will be provided with a hoist on the rear end to permit of the unloading of freight from the boats or from a switch which can be run into the building from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks. Plans for the building will be drawn at once and it is expected that it will be finished by January 1. The estimated cost is put at $75,000.

Another Sale in Forbes Street.

The buying in Forbes street, which gained considerable proportions last week, caused no little comment among brokers yesterday. A half dozen sales were reported, but only one could be confirmed. This was the sale by the Samuel W. Black Company of the property at 1934 Forbes street, belonging to Frank G. Batchelor, which was bought by Theodore Cappell for $10,500. The lot is 22 feet wide and extends through to Tustin street, 120 feet. A brick house is the only improvement. Several brokers are engaged in getting options on properties beyond Pride street, where prices that have prevailed until lately are thought to be low in comparison with figures asked for Fifth avenue lots in the same square. At least one other large downtown mercantile concern is negotiating for a big site in this locality, on which it proposes to erect a warehouse for its own use.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has taken out permits for two more of its big warehouses at the Point which are a part of its great terminal which is going ahead rapidly. One building will be three stories high and will cover a site 25x398 feet. Its cost is estimated at $213,000. The other building will be five stories high and 20x437 feet in size, and will cost $64,000. Both buildings will be of brick and steel construction and fireproof. The contract for erecting them has been awarded to W. F. Trimble & Sons Company of Allegheny.

The Aronson Realty Company has added to its working force J. D. Thompson, formerly assistant manager of a big company in Philadelphia, who will be mortgage master; Joseph Panallo, formerly with the firm of F. W. Haas & Co. in the East End as a salesman; Russell P. Sullivan, formerly of the Hazlewood Savings and Trust Company as a salesman.

Two Wylie Avenue Sales.

Two Wylie avenue sales were announced yesterday. Keck & Helle sold for Addison E. Arthurs to Samuel Golden, 1412-1414 Wylie avenue, and 1413-1415 Pasture street, for $15,500 cash. The lot is 22x124 feet running through from street to street, and is fairly well improved. The purchase was for an investment.

Through the Aronson Realty Company the old Barton homestead at Wylie avenue and Horton street has been sold for $8,500. It consists of a ten-room reception hall solid brick house which, it is said, cost $10,000 to build. The buyer is a local business man.

The John K. Ewing Company, by its agent, F. W. Adams, sold for Lawrence Dickey of Philadelphia to James A. Pearson, 3213-3217 Kennett square, Fourteenth ward, consisting of three solid brick houses of eight rooms each on a lot 60x90 feet. The consideration was $13,750. This makes 27 houses in the Oakland district which this firm has sold in the last two months.

Belmar place: The Samuel W. Black Company sold for W. L. Smith to Plato Archer, 7232 Hermitage street, Twenty-first ward, an eight-room modern brick house, on 25x92 feet, for $5,000 for a home.

Hazlewood: The Diamond Real Estate Company sold to Thomas J. McLaughlin for the Provident Land Company, lot No. 108, in Gidding street, in their Twenty-third ward plan, for $350.

Chislett street: Catherine G. Hughes sold to Eugene Scanlon 38x101 feet on the east side of Chislett street, Nineteenth ward, for $7,000.

Devilliers street: William G. Miller to Jacob Stein an improved lot, 20x86 feet, on the northeast side of Devilliers street, near Webster avenue, Eleventh ward, for $6,000.

Gearing avenue: George A. Jones sold to Elizabeth Stafford an improved lot, 25x100 feet, on the west side of Gearing avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, for $2,800.

JAMES H. LOGAN.

For several years Mr. Logan has been engaged in the fire and life insurance business at 237 Fourth avenue. To these lines he has lately added real estate and is now working up a good business in city and suburban properties.

Good Deals in Belmar Place.

The Belmar Realty Company sold for Mary M. Speer to D. R. Lean an improved property at Sterrett street and Flury alley, Twenty-first ward, for $3,600; for H. P. Strunk to W. K. Moffett, 7129 Mt. Vernon street, a residence property at 715 Sterrett street for $3,750; for Minnie O. Bitz to Laura Coutts a residence property at 8722 Idlewood street for $7,200; for Henry Miller to Elmer E. Long, a vacant lot in Race street for $1,600. The same firm placed these mortgages: One on Idlewood street property for $4,400, one in Upland street for $2,000 and one on a property in East End avenue for $4,500, all at 6 per cent.

Wylie avenue: John L. Feerst, Jr., sold to Morris H. Harris an improved lot, 20x76 feet, on the south side of Wylie avenue, Eleventh ward, for $5,200.

Forbes street: John E. Laughlin sold to G. G. O'Brien 61x49 feet in Forbes street, Fourteenth ward, for $2,500.

Belmar place: Homer P. Strunk sold to George Moffatt an improved lot, 25x93 feet, on the north side of Mt. Vernon street near Lang avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $3,850.

Bigham street: Frank H. Clark sold to C. A. Samuel and Thomas Billante an improved lot, 46x120 feet, on the northwest corner of Bigham street and Piermont avenue, Thirty-second ward, for $4,000.

Beaver county: Joseph P. Rankin & Co. sold for John Alexander to J. Collard White a farm of 100 acres near Bocktown, Beaver county, for $3,000; for M. F. Rankin to John F. Hauser, 21.5x75 feet, in Eureka street, Thirty-first ward, for $600, and to Harry Hauser 21.5x75 feet for $600.

A. Z. Byers & Co. sold for Kennedy Crumrine to William J. Ritz, lots Nos. 109, 110 and 111, in the Beacon Heights plan, fronting 150 feet in Bartlett street, Twenty-second ward, Squirrel Hill, for $12,750. The purchaser will improve the property with high-class residences.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Apex group of claims, located south of Bullfrog, Nev., has been bonded to Pittsburgh capitalists for $10,000.

The Bullfrog Miner says: John S. Stottler, who is well known in Tonopah and other Nevada and California mining camps, was in Bullfrog the other day. He represents Pittsburgh capitalists, who, as the Resting Springs Mining Company, own the Oro group of five claims that, when the Smith road reaches Resting Springs, will be a shipping proposition. The ore in Oro is silver, gold and lead, and it is said there is $65,000 worth of mineral in sight, running $8 in silver, $28 in gold and 55 per cent lead, making $85 or $90 ore. Mr. Stottler expects the Smith road to be at Resting Springs by August 1 next.

The Utah Copper Company has ordered about 2,000 tons of structural steel for the second unit of the great mill which the company is building at Garfield. The Boston Consolidated is ready to break ground for its plant, which is to be larger than was at first planned. There will be considerable interest watching these two mills, as two methods of concentration or ore, or perhaps of crushing the ore, will be used, and there will be some friendly rivalry to see which method will give the best results.

Borax Smith, with a party of London capitalists, paid Goldfield a visit last week, and his private car was the scene of conferences with local interests lasting several days. It is believed he is figuring on extending his railroad to this point from Bullfrog, where it is now headed.

The Sandstorm has uncovered its ledge at a depth of 200 feet where it is 30 feet wide. The values so far discovered by casual assaying are not as high as were found at the 150-foot level, where stringers were found running $1,000 per ton, but the general average of the ledge will produce a first-class milling ore, while farther exploration is expected to locate the high values.

The Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine has declared its regular monthly dividend of $180,000, making $720,000 so far for this year, and $6,246,000 since the organization of this lead-silver bonanza. As the ore reserves are enormous, it is probable that the present rate of dividends, 60 cents per share per month, will be maintained for the entire year, making the total dividend for 1906 of $2,160,000. It is said the company has a contract with the American Smelting and Refining Company covering a period of over 20 years, within which time the smelters get the marketable product of the mine.

Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $963,904; government receipts from internal revenue, $1,216,339; customs, $697,144; miscellaneous, $101,423; expenditures, $1,750,000.

MARKET REMAINS FIRM ON ALMOST EVERYTHING

Eggs Are in the Limelight, and Price Is Wavering—Vegetables Are Weak.

The reaction after Easter was felt all along the line yesterday and no radical changes were made in anything. Liberty street merchants did some business, but it was a dull day. Eggs, which seemed to have the spot light Saturday, were inactive yesterday. It will take a day to determine just how many eggs are in the city and how many are due in the next few days before a price can be placed on them. There were not as many eggs consumed this Easter as during the previous few years. All the steamers brought in large consignments from the south, but none of the merchants took the initiative to change the price. The stiffening attitude in the west may bolster up the price here.

Cucumbers and new potatoes were the only vegetables to drop or advance yesterday. Both fell in price and they will now gradually decline until the end of the season makes them again a luxury.

Groceries of all kinds remain firm. There has not been a change in the past two weeks. A feature of the grocery market is that the deluge of fresh vegetables already arriving seems to have no effect upon the market of the canned varieties, and grocers report big sales of canned goods of all kinds.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 35 cars hay, 14 cars oats, 7 cars corn, 7 cars feed, 1 car straw, 1 car rye. Baltimore & Ohio, 11 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 2 cars corn. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 7 cars hay, 2 cars oats and 1 car straw.

Receipts publised include those of both Saturday and Sunday, and are not large for two days. Prices still remain firm.

Weak Lungs Mean Starved Body

Ozomulsion

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."

Heals the Lung; Nourishes the Body

Consumption, Pneumonia and nearly all Pulmonary Diseases are produced by lack of THE NECESSARY FOOD. Once the body resistance is lowered, the lungs become easily diseased through germs constantly in the atmosphere.

All Foods do not fatten, because they cannot supply the excessive waste and loss of Tissue by disease.

There Is But One Cure For Lung Disease—

Ozomulsion Food

Beneficial Results are Obtained after the First Dose.

There are two sizes—8-oz. and 16-oz. Bottles; the Formula is printed in 7 languages on each.
